AUSTRIANS TAKE FORTIFIED POSITION 7 MILES IN ITALY

Belgians, British and Portuguese Encircling Germans in East Africa—Island of Elba Bombarded.

By Associated Press.

VIENNA, via Berlin and wireless to Sayville, May 29.—The Austrian drive against the Italians in the Southern Tyrol continues to progress in the region of Arsiero, Italy, southeast of Rovereto, where Gen. Cadornas' forces are fighting desperately to prevent the Austrians from breaking through and gaining the route to the Venetian provinces. The War Office announced Sunday that Austrian troops had captured a fortified position west of Arsiero.

Arsiero is about seven miles inside the Italian frontier and about 22 miles southeast of Trent.

The statement follows:

"Italian war theater: Austro-Hungarian troops captured the fortified works at Cornowo, west of Arsiero, and the fortified dam across the Italyssa, southwest of Monte Interrotto, in the fortified district of Asigo.

"Southeastern war theater: Skirmishes with an Italian patrol occurred on the lower Voyusa (in Albania, north of Avlona). The situation is unchanged.

GRAVE TROUBLE IN ATHENS SAYS PARIS DISPATCH

Disorders Said to Have Broken Out Because of Bulgar Invasion.

PARIS, May 29.—A news dispatch from Athens says that grave trouble has broken out there following the news of the invasion of Macedonia by the Bulgarians.

Bulgarian troops, estimated in one dispatch to number 25,000, crossed the Greek frontier on May 26 and occupied the Greek forts of Rupel, Dragotin and Spavoto, near Demir-Hissar, 58 miles from Saloniki. The Greek troops, which had garrisoned these forts, withdrew on the advice of the Bulgarians, who claimed permission from the Athens Government for their act. The Bulgarians were said to be led by German officers, who explained to the commanders of the Greek forts that the central Powers were merely being accorded the same privilege that had been given the allies in permitting them to occupy Saloniki. It was reported from Athens yesterday that feeling was running very high in the Greek capital over the Bulgarian invasion. The Herald, the organ of M. Venizelos, appeared yesterday with a black border and contained a fiery article from the pen of the former Premier.

As an outgrowth of the popular indignation resulting from the violation of Greek territory, a big meeting has been called at Saloniki to protest against the action of the German and Bulgarian troops.

The position of Rupel is an important one. It dominates the defile leading to Demir-Hissar bridge, which is the key to Seres and which also is reported to have been occupied. An adversary thus controls the railroad from Saloniki to Kavalla.

Greece's protest against the military operations undertaken by the central Powers and Bulgarian was forwarded Saturday night to the Ministers of Greece at Berlin, Vienna and Sofia. The belief is general in Athens that it is the intention of the Greek Government to confine its action to a protest.

80,000 SERVIANS, RE-EQUIPPED, LAND AT SALONIKI BASE

Troops Were Taken to Corfu After Teutonic Invasion and Prepared for More Fighting.

PARIS, May 29.—After crossing the Aegean Sea without loss the Servian army in full strength now has been landed at Saloniki, according to a dispatch received here by wireless telegraph.

Servia's new army has been variously estimated to number between 80,000 and 100,000 officers and men. It was reorganized on the Island of Corfu, which is approximately 700 miles distant by water from Saloniki.

The Servian army totaled about 300,000 men at the outbreak of the war, but this force was greatly depleted as a result of an epidemic of typhus and bitter engagements fought in an endeavor

WAR BUYERS CANNOT GET AS MANY HORSES AS THEY WANT

Prices at National Stockyards Have Risen—Total Sales to Date 205,492.

C. T. Jones, general manager of the National Stockyards, announced today that 205,492 horses and 5386 mules had been purchased at the stockyards by the allies since the war started. The estimated average price is $180 a head for horses and $150 for mules, making a total of $37,788,460.

British, French and Belgians together bought 1024 horses and 548 mules at the yards last week. The scarcity of the animals is illustrated by the fact that the British alone would take 1000 head a week if they were available.

The present price is much higher than the average, the commission men themselves now paying from $185 to $200 a head for horses which they sell to the allies at a profit.

BRONZE AX FOUND IN MOUND

Tomahawk and Stone Vessel Also Unearthed Near Wood River, Ill.

Eight persons digging for relics of Indians or mound builders in the mounds where skeletons were recently unearthed, near Ben Poag's farm, three miles south of Wood River, Ill., Saturday afternoon dug up a bronze ax, a stone vessel which resembled a shaving mug, and an Indian tomahawk.

The articles were found by Hugh Poag, owner of the place, and by Frank Smith and his son, Ben Smith.

Mrs. Lucile Poag, 34 years old, one of the oldest residents in the vicinity, said that the mounds were never uncovered within her memory, and it is almost certain the objects dug up must have been put in the mounds before her time.

HENRY B. GRAHAM ASKS FOR DIVORCE FROM THIRD WIFE

Former Secretary of Paper Company Alleges She Told Him She Had No Affection for Him.

"WISHED HE WOULD DIE"

Couple Were Married in 1912, a Month After His Second Wife Obtained a Divorce.

Henry B. Graham of Hampton Park, formerly secretary of the Graham Paper Co., filed suit at Clayton today to divorce Alice Bowerman Graham, whom he married June 24, 1912, a month after he had been divorced by his second wife, Mrs. Zula Beatrice Graham.

The divorce petition contains a long list of allegations against Mrs. Graham. He charges that she frequently told him that she had no affection for him, and that she tolerated him only for what she could get out of him. He further alleges that she called him a "dirty dog," and that she wished he would die, or that she could kill him. He said she also wanted to live separately from him.

The allegation is made that she had a dislike for his children by his former marriage, that she struck him in the face at different times, and that she also cut his face.

Objects to Wife's Friends.

Graham further alleges that his wife on numerous occasions took trips away from home with persons obnoxious to him, remaining away for many weeks at a time over his protests. Some of these trips were made, he asserts, with the declared intention on the part of Mrs. Graham not to return to him, but to leave him permanently.

Mrs. Graham is a cat fancier and has kept, at the Cabanne avenue house, a collection of cats valued by her at $2000. Her cattery occupied three rooms on the third floor of the house. For one cat, Romaldkirk, she paid $25. They were fed on raw hamburger steak, crackers and water, and were not permitted to have a milk diet. Mrs. Graham also owned a half dozen pedigreed dogs.

Wedded Soon After Divorce.

Mrs. Graham formerly lived in Springfield, Ill. Within a few days after he was divorced from the second Mrs. Graham in May, 1912, Graham telegraphed to his present wife, then Miss Alice Bowerman, to join him in Boston for a long automobile tour. They left Boston, accompanied by Mrs. F. D. Stidham as chaperon, and decided in a few days to get married. They stopped in Utica, N. Y., where the ceremony was performed, and then motored to Detroit. Their marriage was not announced in St. Louis until Graham's return here in September, 1912.

Mrs. Graham could not be reached by a Post-Dispatch reporter for a statement.

Graham for many years has made a practice of wearing women's high-

GLEN ECHO "OUTS" LOSE SUIT FOR REINSTATEMENT

They Also Are Defeated in Effort to Oust the Present Board of Trustees.

MUST PAY ALL COSTS

Court Says Verdict for Plaintiff Would Be Unwarranted Interference in Social Matter.

Circuit Judge McElhinney, in an opinion handed down at Clayton today in the bitterly contested Glen Echo Country Club injunction suit, decided that the "outs" have no legal way to get "in," and that they also are [illegible] the amount of costs in litigation that lasted nine months, including an 11-day trial and stenographers' fees for transcribing about 350,000 words of testimony.

The injunction suit had been filed by 26 of the 135 "outs," but during the litigation two of the plaintiffs withdrew. The "outs" sought to have the sale of the Glen Echo property set aside, or to have the present Board of Trustees ousted and a new board chosen that would admit the plaintiffs to membership in the new club which now operates the property.

The sale of the old club property was at public auction last July, and it was bid in at $132,000 by a coterie which later excluded 135 of the 350 members from eligibility to membership in the new club.

"Such interference," Judge McElhinney stated, "would be an attempt of the Court to select the members of a social club in a way never contemplated by the members of the old club and contrary to the very idea and purpose of such a club."

No Legal Right Denied, Court Says.

Regarding the applications which 115 members of the old club made for membership in the new club, the Court held that the applicants had no assurance that any of the old members would be selected.

"In their applications they submitted to election to membership," Judge McElhinney ruled. "This right has been accorded to them. No legal right has been denied to them.

"If there is any injury it is in the field of morals or sentiment.

"Some two or more of the nine trustees may have been unexpectedly strict in drawing the social line. Or they may have adopted a standard or standards of social qualifications not recognized or approved by a large number of the stockholders. Yet they were within their legal rights.

"There is no standard of social fitness which a court can recognize and apply in such a case."

The Court exonerated S. T. G. Smith, secretary of the old club, and one of the present trustees, as to a charge of conspiracy which the "outs" had made against him.

"Smith, John C. Roberts and C. D. Johnson worked on a plan to buy the club and they probably desired that the club be sold that there might be a reorganization with exclusion of some members," the Court stated. "But they were not conspiring to sacrifice the property or defraud the members of the club to do this."

One Criticism of Committee.

The Court thought a committee of five, which tried to form a new club with 200 members and which abandoned the effort when only 115 applications for membership were made, should have notified the stockholders by letter that the plan had failed. This committee met July 5, five days before the sale of the club to Albert Bond Lambert and his associates. On this committee of five were Johnson, Roberts, James C. Jones, H. M. Pflager and E. A. Faust.

The Court said the committee was advised to send such a notice to stockholders, and that such a notice was prepared by the chairman of the committee, but never sent out.

"In fairness and for a better understanding, such a notice should have been sent out," the Court stated.

"It does not appear by the preponderance of evidence that G. A. Buder and those whom he represented were depending upon the defendants to bid in the property for the benefit of others than the defendants and those whom they might select as their associates, or that there was deception or unfairness practiced by the defendants in this matter at the sale."

The "outs," in their testimony, contended that Roberts told Buder that Lambert was buying in the club "for the boys," under the proposed reorganization plan.

The Court held that the Glen Echo Club brought par value, or enough to give $100 a share to each active member, and $345 a share to the 25 perpetual members, who paid $1000 each in 1902 for perpetual membership.

The real complaint of the "outs" was that they had been excluded from benefits of the purchase of the club property by the failure of the trustees to take them in as members of the present club.

Judge McElhinney said that the troubles of the club grew out of the effort to conduct a social club with a business charter.

"From this dual nature, financial and social embarrassment arose, because as a business corporation the club was not successful, because its capital was not used for business or profit, but for

JAMES J. HILL, PIONEER RAILROAD BUILDER, DIES

WAS 78 YEARS OLD

Developed Entire Northwest From a Small Railroad Line —Family at Bedside.

ST. PAUL, Minn., May 29.—James J. Hill, railroad builder, capitalist and most widely known figure of the Northwest, died at his residence in Summit avenue at 9:30 o'clock this morning as a result of stomach trouble. He was in his seventy-ninth year.

Mr. Hill was unconscious for nearly twelve hours before he died. Dr. Herman M. Briggs of New York and Dr. Stanley Seager of the Mayo staff, together with members of the immediate Hill family, were at the bedside when the end came.

The last letter sent to Mr. Hill was received five minutes after he died: It was from United States Judge Sanborn and was sent by special messenger.

Fortune of $200,000,000.

James J. Hill's wealth is estimated all the way from $100,000,000 to $500,000,000. He was probably worth between $200,000,000 and $250,000,000.

Mr. Hill had absolute control of the first National Bank and Northwestern Trust Co., which have a combined capital and surplus of $6,600,000. He was a large owner of stock in the Chase National Bank of Chicago and the Northwestern National Bank of Minneapolis. The greatest portion Mr. Hill's wealth, however, is in the stocks and bonds of the Great Northern, Northern Pacific and Chicago, Burlington & Quincy railroads.

The executors of Mr. Hill's estate will probably be Louis W. Hill, his son, and the Northwestern Trust Co. The great power held by Mr. Hill will pass to his son, Louis, who has been closely associated with him in business for 10 years.

Oldest Son Is Rich.

James N. Hill, the oldest son, is a director of the Texas Co. and has made a big fortune in New York. Walter, the youngest son, has big farm holdings in Kittson County, Minn., where he spends most of his time.

It is believed that Mr. Hill's vast estate will be held intact through the Northwestern Trust Co. and that the various heirs will be given life interests.

From the beginning of his father's illness, nearly 12 days ago, Louis W. Hill has been indefatigable in his efforts to assist the surgeons in their work. In this connection, an incident of Saturday was related. One of the physicians in attendance upon James W. Hill intimated that a certain infrequently used sedative might be of slight benefit to the patient. Other doctors present questioned the possible efficiency of this sedative, and in addition stated that none of it could be obtained at any point nearer than Chicago.

Special Train for Sedative.

Louis Hill chanced to overhear this conversation of the surgeons. Instantly he directed his secretary to call by telephone a firm in Chicago and ascertain if a supply of this sedative could be obtained there. When an affirmative reply was received, Louis Hill ordered a special Burlington train to bring the sedative to St. Paul. It arrived here at 9:22 o'clock Saturday, having made the trip of 431 miles in eight hours and three minutes, or at an average speed of 54 miles an hour.

Railroad men stated that this shattered all speed records between Chicago and St. Paul. It bettered the record of eight hours and 57 minutes set Dec. 29, when Dr. B. W. Sippy of Chicago was brought to the bedside of the late Thomas Shevlin at Minneapolis on a special train over the same railroad.

When the sedative was delivered at the Hill residence the surgeons had decided not to avail themselves of its uses. All traffic, both passenger and freight, on the Burlington Railroad, had been sidetracked to give the right of way to the special train.

A special train over the Great Northern Railroad brought Walter Hill, another son, accompanied by his wife and daughter, to St. Paul from Hallock, Minn.

Walter Hill was injured in an automobile accident several days ago, but he left his bed and arrived here shortly after 10 p. m.

Blood Poisoning Caused Death.

Death was due to blood poisoning, according to Dr. James Gilfillan of St. Paul, the Hill family physician.

"Mr. Hill has suffered from intestinal catarrh and hemorrhoids for a number of years," said Dr. Gilfillan. "On May 18 he had a chill. It was followed by a fever due to infection of a hemorrhoid, the result of piles.

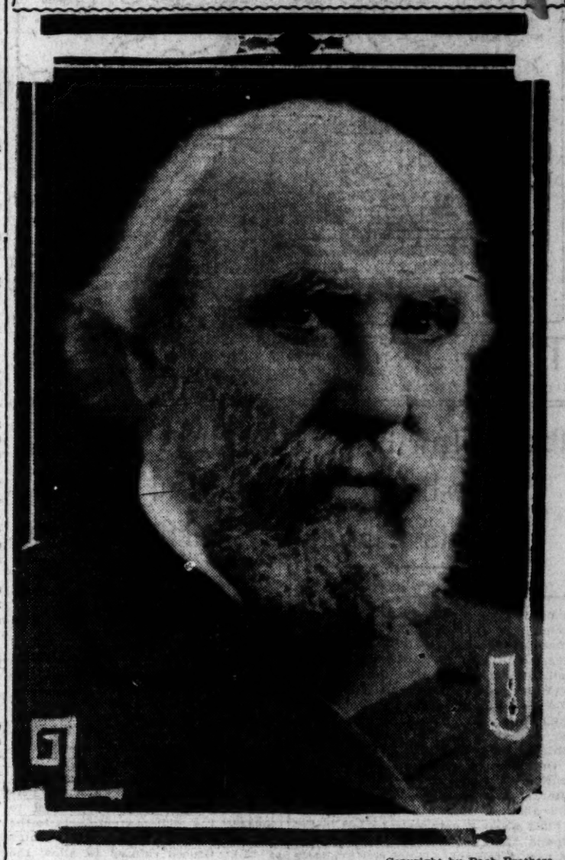

"The fever passed away next morning and it appeared the trouble was over. Three days later slight fever was present, and on May 22 Dr. William J. Mayo saw Mr. Hill. At the time there was evidence of infection of the skin of the buttock.

"This infection progressed slowly, and Friday Dr. William J. Mayo made a small incision in the infected area. That night Dr. Herman M Biggs, an old friend of the family, arrived from New York and has been at Mr. Hill's side constantly.

"Saturday Drs. William J. and Charles H. Mayo returned and opened freely the area of infection. From this time on the infection spread down the right

Railroad Records Fail to Save Railroad Builder

JAMES J. HILL built and rebuilt over 6000 miles of road, over all of which he exercised supreme control to the last.

All that the speed of modern railroads could do to save life was invoked. When the Mayo brothers, famous surgeons of Rochester, Minn., were summoned to operate on him a special train was provided for them and it was given right of way over all other traffic into St. Paul. The official time of the trip was not given out, but it is reliably reported that all records for the trip were broken.

To provide a small quantity of a certain sedative that was to be had only in Chicago, a special train over the Burlington line made the run to St. Paul, 431 miles, in eight hours and three minutes, a rate of 54 miles an hour. All other traffic was sidetracked to make the record, never before approached.

MILITARY CAMP APPLICATIONS OF 4 ST. LOUISANS APPROVED

Men Will Begin Their Training at Fort Benjamin Harrison July 5.

CHICAGO, May 29.—Four St. Louisans are among the approved applicants for civilian military training in Camp Benjamin Harrison, near Indianapolis, which opens July 5. They are:

Speed Brown, 4048 Delmar boulevard, traveling salesman.

John B. Henkle, broker, Boatmen's Bank Building.

Frank S. Hager, 3648 Wyoming street.

Brown and Ludlow will be in the first camp, from July 5 to Aug. 4, and the other two will be in the second camp, from Aug. 2 to Sept. 6.

Other Missourians whose applications for places in the camp have been approved are: Kansas City, Graham Campbell, George T. Long, Walter C. Snyder, Guy E. Morse, John M. Lerche, J. R. D. Mackenzie and J. M. Schlagel; Boonville (Kemper Military School), Grantley Rosbrook, Pierce Niedermeyer, Bruce Meeker and Carl F. Scheibner; Jefferson City, Charles C. Brooks; Bowling Green, William H. Carr; Joplin, Victor E. Koch.

DENIES IDENTITY TO DEPUTY; IS FORCED TO SERVE ON JURY

Man Told by Judge He Would Have Been Excused but for Attempt to Deceive.

After a jury in the Probate Court had sat in a case and had been released from further duty today, Judge Holtcamp called Ferdinand H. Manger, one of the jurors, to the bench and said to him:

"I would have excused you from serving on this jury if you had not three times denied your identity to a Deputy Sheriff when he went to serve the summons on you."

Manger admitted that he had attempted to conceal his identity when a deputy attempted to serve him at the Union Station lunchroom, of which he is manager. His jury service took up only an hour of his time.

SALAZAR'S ARMY OF 3 HUMBLED

EL PASO, Tex., May 29.—Gen. Jose Salazar and the three privates who followed him to the end of his harmless revolution appeared before Gen. Cavira in the Juarez headquarters yesterday, and obtained safe conduct papers to allow them to return to their homes and civil life.

Following their surrender two days ago, they have kept out of politics. Salazar is returning to the central part of the republic under the eyes of the authorities, and will settle at any place where he can find work.

AUTO PARKING LAW EASY TO ENFORCE, ITS ENFORCER SAYS

He Declares Police Know All Machines Which Inhabit Downtown District.

This is tag day for St. Louis automobilists. Everywhere they go a policeman is ready to hand them copies of the new parking ordinance for the congested district, and other policemen are waiting to paste stickers on their machines if they make a false move in obeying the new law.

The 34 regular traffic policemen, 22 patrolmen and two mounted men were assigned this morning to begin what the police call a "campaign of education" to instruct automobilists as to the requirements of the ordinance.

Between Washington avenue and Market street and between Broadway and Twelfth street no machine will be permitted to stand more than two hours in one place. The same regulation applies on Fourth street between Washington avenue and Chestnut street.

Special Parking Places.

To relieve the condition caused by this restriction the city has set aside special parking places on Twelfth street, between Market street and Washington avenue; on a lot west of the old city hall at Eleventh and Market streets; at the east front of the courthouse on Fourth street between Chestnut and Market streets, and on a vacant lot at the southeast corner of Fourth and Market streets. Cars parked at these places, or at other points outside the congested district, will not be limited to the two-hour standing time.

There has been some discussion among automobilists as to how the police will maintain a check on machines in the congested district so as to prevent them from being parked for more than two hours in one place. When this question was put to Sergt. Joseph Gerk he said the problem would be an easy one, as the traffic policemen and the patrolmen on beats in the downtown district know the ownership of all machines which habitually have been parked in front of downtown buildings.

At police headquarters today it was said the warning stickers would be used only for educational purposes for a week or 10 days. After that time it will be assumed that all automobilists are familiar with the law. The names of violators of the ordinance after that

HUGHES TO BE FIRST MAN PLACED IN NOMINATION

When Alabama Is Called She Will Waive in Favor of New York and Gov. Whitman Will Nominate the Justice.

Frank Hitchcock, Ex-Postmaster General in Chicago to Take Charge of Hughes' Campaign.

Du Pont Arrives and Opens Up Headquarters as an Aspirant—Hilles Outlines the Platform.

CHICAGO, May 29.—Frank H. Hitchcock, former Postmaster-General, who engineered the nomination of William H. Taft in 1908, accompanied by William L. Ward, former Republican National Committeeman from New York, launched the pre-convention campaign in the interest of Justice Hughes here today.

Gov. Whitman of New York will place Justice Hughes in nomination, according to present plans. When the roll of the states is called for nominations it has been arranged to have Alabama waive in favor of New York, so that Hughes' name may be the first presented.

Headquarters for Hughes will not be opened in Chicago, according to a statement made by Hitchcock.

"Mr. Hughes is not an active candidate for the presidential nomination, and therefore no headquarters for him will be opened here, but his friends who are urging his nomination will work in his interest as individuals," said Mr. Hitchcock.

"His views on Americanism, preparedness and other important public questions are sound and were frequently stated by him in public addresses before he became a member of the United States Supreme Court. There is no question where he stands on any of these questions. While I have had no communication with Justice Hughes for several months, I believe there is no question that if he is nominated he will accept."

Wilson Hard to Beat.

"We think President Wilson is a hard man to beat this fall and that Mr. Hughes' nomination will make Republican success more certain than if any other man is chosen," continued Hitchcock.

"Those of us who have been working for Mr. Hughes' nomination want Republican victory. We want a man nominated who can win. We have been in communication with every state and we think he will lead all candidates on the first ballot."

Coleman Du Pont of Delaware and a party of friends arrived today, and his headquarters will, it is said, be opened in a few days. He is the first presidential candidate to arrive.

Du Pont said:

"I am here primarily as a member of the Republican National Committee, although my friends have placed my name in the field as a presidential candidate. I am anxious for Republican success and willing to subordinate my candidacy for the good of the party any time. My chief interest is to get a candidate who can be elected and who, when elected, will make a good President."

Indications are that the question of national woman suffrage will be one of the most hotly debated questions before the Committee on Resolutions of the convention when that body meets to consider the party platform.

The National Congressional Union, which will try for the adoption of a plank favoring national woman suffrage, was the first organization to make formal application for a hearing before the Committee on Resolutions. Today a telegram was received by Chairman Charles D. Hilles of the aNtional Committee from Mrs. Arthur M. Dodge of New York, president of the National Anti-Suffrage Association, requesting that a delegation from the organization she represents be permitted to present the other side of the question.

Chairman Hilles said that both sides would receive a full hearing.

The candidacy of Charles W. Fairbanks received added strength today when a large delegation of Republican leaders from Indiana arrived to work for their "favorite son." In the delegation were Harry S. New, Republican nominee for United States Senator; James P. Goodrich, Republican nominee for Governor, and former Senator James A. Hemenway.

Forty of the 53 members of the Republican National Committee are here to remain until after the convention.

The Subcommittee on Arrangements will hold its final meeting Wednesday, May 31. The National Committee will meet June 1 to begin the hearing of contests.

Roosevelt Due at 4 P. M.

Theodore Roosevelt was scheduled to arrive here at 4 p. m. en route to Kansas City, where he delivers an address tomorrow. Although Col. Roosevelt telegraphed the local Progressive leaders that he would not speak in Chicago and that he desired no demonstration, it is expected he will be greeted at the rail way station by a crowd of several thousand enthusiastic supporters. The program is for him to confer with Progressive party leaders at a hotel before resuming his journey westward at 8 p. m.

Chairman Hilles expressed the opinion in an interview here yesterday that the Republican platform will be unusually brief and will deal only with the most vital public questions. From information obtained in talking with party leaders on the subject he believes the principal planks in the platform will include the following:

A statement on Americanism.

A statement on preparedness for adequate military and naval defense.

A declaration in favor of a protective tariff to be prepared by a nonpartisan tariff commission created by Congress, with special attention to the needs of the industries of this country after the close of the European war.

A statement dealing with the alleged shortcomings of the Democratic national administration.

In speaking of the probable action of the Progressive national convention to be held in Chicago simultaneously with the Republican national convention, June 7, Chairman Hilles said:

"I imagine everybody assumes that the Progressives will nominate Roosevelt for President. If the Republican convention adopts a straightforward, sincere, ringing declaration on the vital public questions now being discussed and nominates a man clearly equal to the important tasks which will confront the next President, Roosevelt might not think there would be any need of his entering the field.

"But if the Republicans nominate a man who Mr. Roosevelt thinks is a misfortune and adopts a platform which he regards as 'bunk' he may not feel so outraged as to run and perhaps help re-elected President Wilson."

No Nomination First Day.

Chairman Hilles denied a report that the organization had ever thought of attempting to force the nomination of a candidate for President the first day of the convention.

"Such a plan has never been discussed by members of the National Committee, and even if it were, it would be impossible," he said.

"The convention will follow precedent. It will meet at 11 a. m. Wednesday, June 7, listen to the address of the temporary chairman, appoint the committees and adjourn.

"The second day will be devoted to permanent organization and consideration of committee reports which, of course, will include the adoption of the party platform.

"The third day will be devoted to the nominating speeches. There is a disposition to place no time limit on the nominating speeches.

"After that will come the balloting for President and Vice President, and nobody knows how long it will take to get through.

"This convention will be a truly deliberative body, and it is pure speculation to attempt to say what it will do in the matter of nominating a candidate for President or when it will get through."

Office for Pennsylvanian.

Chairman Hilles appointed Frank A. Smith of Pennsylvania as chief assistant secretary for the convention and named the following as assistant secretaries: Charles A. Rawson of Iowa; W. H. Topping of New Hampshire; Roy M. Watkins of Michigan; Paul Haynes of Indiana; Ernest D. Baldwin of Oregon, Thomas Williamson of Illinois, Frank A. Hazelbaker of Montana, C. M. Harger of Kansas, Frank H. Smith of New Jersey, James L. Phillips of District of Columbia, R. J. Beamish of Pennsylvania, Joseph McCoy Jr. of Missouri.

Work of preparing the Coliseum has been completed. The big building, with its 12,025 seats for delegates, alternates and visitors, is ready. The speakers' platform, the new balcony erected to provide additional seats, has been painted and every chair is in place.

The decorations will not be put up until a few days before the convention. The building will be kept under police guard night as well as day as a precaution against fire.

It cost Chicago about $80,000 to provide the Republican party with a suitable meeting place for the convention. In 1912 the Republican national convention cost Chicago $105,000, the extra expense being due to the large number of contests, which made necessary for the national convention to hold day and night sessions for more than three weeks. Col. William F. Stone of Baltimore, sergeant-at-arms of the National Committee, has had full charge of every detail of the preliminary physical work in preparing the hall for the use of the convention. Col. Stone is a veteran in this line, having personally supervised the work of arranging the party's national convention halls here in 1904, 1908 and 1912. He has served since 1904 without compensation.

NEW YORK TRIBUNE SAYS HUGHES IS TO KEEP SILENT

NEW YORK, May 29.—A Washington dispatch to the Tribune says:

"The Hughes silence will continue. The Tribune is in a position to set at rest all speculation as to whether there will be any new statement from him before the Republican national convention assembles and makes nominations.

"There will be no new statement. If the convention names the Justice, it will have to do so knowing no more about his position on the issues of the day than the delegates to it now know. Mr. Hughes will have no authorized spokesman at Chicago. No one will have a telegram or a letter from him in his inside pocket.

"He decided long ago, after a careful consideration, to say nothing more than he has said in his letters to those who wished to enter his name in the state primaries. He is satisfied with his course and will stick to it to the end. He enters the last week of the campaign with his silence unbroken. There are the best reasons for believing that nothing can happen between now and the day the nominations are made that will give the convention any light the delegates do not now possess."

time will be given to the City Counselor, who will issue Police Court summonses for the offenders. Except in cases of flagrant violations no arrests will be made.

Space Near Courthouse Popular.

All of the parking space along the east front of the courthouse was taken by 10:30 a. m. today. This space is sufficient for 32 machines.

Only 10 cars, at the same hour, were parked on the vacant lot at Fourth and Market streets, where there is space for about 40 machines.

Only about 20 cars were parked in the special space provided on Twelfth street. A part of this space is not now available because of work being done on the new Post-Dispatch building and the Union Electric building.

The old city hall lot was not put into commission as a parking space today, as it will have to be resurfaced before it can be used.

pleasure," he stated. "As a social club it could not exercise the right of selection and exclusion, according to social fitness, because the corporate rights of the members depended on the ownership of stock and not upon social qualifications or payments of assessments for social purposes.

"It appears from the evidence that there was much that was uncongenial among the members, so that its life as a social club was practically at an end. That danger was recognized by the officers and others interested in the club. From the latter part of 1914 on, efforts were made to afford relief and out of such efforts arose this controversy.

"The object in view has been to adjust affairs so as to give stockholders their rights, as such, and at the same time save the rights of the members to social privileges." The Court then recited the steps that were taken to accomplish this, ending in the decision of the Committee of Five, on July 5 last, that the club should be permitted to be sold at public auction.

Judge McElhinney's decision was about 3500 words in length, but he referred to it as "a memorandum which may suffice to indicate the findings." He did not have time to return a "complete opinion on the issues," he said.

The defendants, who are the trustees of the new club, were C. D. Johnson, John C. Roberts, S. G. T. Smith, E. A. Faust, H. M. Pflager, Albert Bond Lambert, H. L. Parker, F. E. Nulsen and James C. Jones. The latter resigned as trustee because he objected to the manner in which the "outs" were scratched from the list of eligibles by other trustees.

The plaintiffs were J. Arthur Anderson, Eberhard Anheuser, D. N. Armstrong, C. A. Becker, J. E. Bishop, Samuel E. Bamber, S. H. Fullerton, Robert W. Fullerton, A. Baker Fullerton, Russell E. Gardner, Walter E. Grayson, S. J. Harbaugh, H. H. Haeussler, J. B. Heydt, J. J. Hill, J. J. Kelly, Sam Lazarus, C. J. Leppert, Henry W. Lohmann, August Maschmeyer, W. I. Michaner, W. L. Neikamp, William Schuerman, Hugh K. Wagner and James Webb.

CONGREGATION SEES BOY KILLED

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., May 29.—The congregation of a local church, attending an open-air service for boys last night, saw Kenneth McEwen, 11 years old, killed at the top of a lighting tower when he was amusing himself by swinging a wire against the steel frame to produce sparks. The wire finally struck the boy and his body fell to the ground.

After the pastor and congregation had tendered first aid, the accident was used as an illustration in the sermon.

to check the Austro-German and Bulgarian invasion of Servia and Montenegro. The remnant of the original armies saved itself by retreating through the Albanian Mountains to the eastern shores of the Adriatic.

On reaching the sea coast the Servians were transported to the Island of Corfu, off the southern coast of Albania, when they were supplied with new rifles and clothing.

When the reorganization had been completed the entente allies sought permission of the Athens Government to transport the soldiers from Corfu to the base at Saloniki across Greek country by rail. Greece refused to allow the troops to cross her territory. Two weeks ago the entente Powers decided to transport the Servians to Saloniki by sea.

Capital of Island of Elba Bombarded by U-Boat.

BERLIN, May 29, by wireless to Sayville.—Bombardment of Porto Ferrajo, capital of the Island of Elba, in the Mediterranean, by an Austrian submarine, is reported in a statement issued by the Austro-Hungarian admiralty. The announcement says:

"An Austro-Hungarian submarine, on the morning of May 23, very successfully shelled important blast furnaces at Porto Ferrajo, on the Island of Elba. The fire of the land battery was without effect.

"The submarine later sank the Italian steamer Washington."

Porto Ferrajo is situated on the north side of the Island of Elba. On a height overlooking the town is the villa of San Martino, in which Napoleon was confined from May, 1814, to February, 1815.

Lloyd's shipping agency on May 25 reported the sinking of the Washington.

French and Germans Each Repulse Two Attacks West of Meuse.

PARIS, May 29.—Two attacks were made by German troops advancing last night from Corbeaux Wood on the Verdun front. The French War Office report of today says the assaults resulted in failure.

East of the Meuse the night was comparatively calm except for heavy artillery action in the vicinity of Fort Vaux.

BERLIN, via London, May 29.—Violent artillery duels are continuing on both banks of the Meuse on the Verdun front, the War Office announced today. French troops made two weak attacks on Cumieres village, taken last week by the Germans, but were easily repulsed.

Paris Says Germany Has Violated U-Boat Pledge to U. S.

PARIS, May 29.—The torpedoing of the Italian steamship Moravia, which was sunk by a German submarine in the Mediterranean, May 25, constitutes a formal contravention of the German engagements contained in the German note to the American Government of May 4," says the Temps. "Germany, however," the newspaper adds, "will not fail to seek to justify her act."

Germans in East Africa Are Being Encircled.

LONDON, May 29.—The British, Belgian and Portuguese forces, who have invaded German East Africa, are slowly forming a ring around the Germans. Gen. Smuts, the commander of the South African forces, is rounding up the Germans, who are defending the Usambara railway and has occupied one of the important positions on that line, as well as towns in the district, according to an official report issued today.

A British force has penetrated 20 miles into German territory on the front between Lakes Nyassa and Tanganyika.

The Germans have retired toward New Langenberg. The Belgians are advancing from the northeast and Portuguese troops are occupying the southern frontier.

Italian Britantine Is Reported Sunk.

Woman Killed With Bucket of Corn.

HARTFORD CITY, Ind., May 29.—Geraldine Stout, 23 years old, daughter of E. P. Stout of Upland, Ind., is dead of a broken neck, and Albert Thomas, 30, a farmer, is in jail charged with having killed her with a bucket of corn. Thomas was compelled to jump from the path of Stout's automobile, it is said. He is alleged to have hurled the bucket of corn into the automobile.

MYSTERIOUS NEW WITNESS IN ORPET CASE DISAPPEARS

State Suspected of Arresting Him After He Told of Giving Drug to Miss Lambert.

WAUKEGAN, Ill., May 29.—Efforts of James H. Wilkerson, attorney for Will H. Orpet, charged with the murder of Marian Lambert, to clear up certain facts with respect to a mysterious Joseph Hartman, were unavailing in court today. Wilkerson wanted to know if State's Attorney Dady had caused the arrest or sequestration of Hartman, but the Court ruled that the prosecution could not be compelled to divulge its plans to the defense.

Hartman is said to have visited Wilkerson last Monday and to have told the lawyer a story concerning Marian Lambert. He said that Clara Cramer, his cousin, a domestic employed at Lake Forest, told Miss Lambert that Hartman had a drug which would relieve her condition. Hartman said he gave Miss Lambert the drug.

Miss Cramer was said by Hartman to be in Toledo, and Wilkerson sent one of his partners to the Ohio city to investigate. Hartman promised to produce Miss Cramer for confirmation of the story last Saturday. The engagement was not kept and today Wilkerson demanded to know if the State was detaining Hartman. Dady admitted to reporters that he knew where Hartman was, and that his testimony concerned occurrences after Miss Lambert's death.

The Court ruled that both defense and State shall have access to telegrams alleged to have passed between Orpet and Miss Lambert a few months before her death.

Examination of veniremen in the trial of Orpet continued today. Eight jurors have been sworn and one man was in the box who was tentatively accepted on Saturday.

A new block of 50 men was summoned to appear in court for examination today. Nearly 800 men have been called for examination so far, including those called for today.

He wore also a duck coat, turtle shell framed eyeglasses, a diamond shaped stone scarf pin and a huge diamond ring on his finger.

Graham's first wife, who was Miss Florence Taylor of Baltimore, died, leaving two children. He was married a second time at Liberty, Mo., March 10, 1908, to Miss Zulah Rooker of Kansas City. She sued him for divorce March 14, 1912, alleging general indignities.

3 PROTESTS FILED AGAINST FRISCO REORGANIZATION PLAN

Holders of Unsecured Claims Ask Public Service Commission Not to Approve Scheme.

JEFFERSON CITY, May 29.—Three protests were filed today with the Public Service Commission against the approval of the new Frisco reorganization plans. Attorney Joe Davis of St. Louis filed a protest on behalf of the Citizens Bank of Union, which holds five $1000 notes of the road, and the other two protests were filed by persons holding unsecured claims.

That the commission deny approval of the plan on the ground that it does not protect holders of unsecured claims, was the plea of the protesting persons. The case has been set for hearing Wednesday, May 31.

President W. L. Clucas of the association will preside at the meeting.

$35,000,000 in War Death Claims.

LONDON, May 29.—About $35,000,000 has been paid out in war death claims to relatives of British soldiers by the British, Colonial and American life insurance companies. The war has so far virtually doubled the normal ratio of increase in death claims.

CARRANZA ENVOY ARRIVES IN CAPITAL, BUT HAS NO NOTE

Washington Puzzled When Manuel Mendez Says He Is Only on a Vacation.

WASHINGTON, May 29.—Manuel Mendez, an attache of Gen. Carranza's Foreign Office, arrived here today and conferred with Eliseo Arredondo, the Mexican Ambassador, but denied that he brought a note as had been expected or that he brought any instructions from his chief. He declared he was merely in the United States on a vacation.

Arredondo and other Mexican officials professed to be puzzled. It has been reported from Mexico City and the border that a special messenger was bringing a new communication from Gen. Carranza. No indication of its contents had been given but it generally has been assumed by Americans that the extra note renewed the demand for the withdrawal of American forces or made a protest against the second expedition led by Col. Sibley and Maj. Langhorne, which has, however, returned to American territory.

At the Mexican embassy it was said that if a note was coming it probably would be brought by some other messenger.

Representations are about to be made to the State Department for the release of a quantity of copper and machinry consignd to the Carranza Government but now detained in New York. Arredondo declared today that, lacking other instructions, this was the only question he had to take up with the State Department at this time.

Special Agent Rodgers at Mexico City telegraphed that the note should have reached Washington yesterday. He has been assured that it will not be made public until delivered to Secretary Lansing. Navy Department dispatches report quiet at Tampico. Financial conditions in Mexico City are reported to continue bad. Consular reports from other points said considerable friction was resulting from the Carranza Government's efforts to maintain its new paper currency at prevailing rates.

State Department officials had before them today a telegram from 84 American oil operators at Tampico protesting against decrees promulgated by the Mexican authorities, designed, it was declared, to render it impossible for Americans of conduct business in that country.

The message, addressed to President Wilson, related how one of their number had been arrested and imprisoned for refusal to pay his employes wages fixed by the authorities in excess of terms previously agreed upon with the men. Protection from the United States Government was asked by the complainants, who announced that they would ignore the confiscatory orders.

This protest, together with others regarding recent decrees by the Mexican authorities, probably will result in representations to the de facto Government immediately after the issue over American troops is settled.

While diplomatic negotiations are in progress here, Gen. Pershing will be holding conferences with Gen. Gavira, Carranza commander of the State of Chihuahua, regarding co-operation of the Carranza and American forces in the purusit of outlaws. A message received from Gen. Pershing at the War Department yesterday stated that Gen. Gavira was expected at Casas Grandes on Wednesday or Thursday for the conferences. Gen. Funston has prohibited discussion by Gen. Pershing in the conferences of the question of withdrawing the United States expedition.

Further details regarding the recent engagement near Cruces between seven men of the Seventeenth Infantry and an outlaw band of 20 under the notorious bandit leaders, Cervantes and Bencomo, both of whom were killed by private George Hulett, were received at the War Department from Gen. Pershing. His message dated from Namiquipa, May 26, as follows:

"Detailed account of the fight yesterday showed splendid conduct on the part of detachment of enlisted men. Without an officer and under Lance Corporal Davis Marksbury (who died from wounds), these men fought against great odds. Drove off enemy, who charged them on horseback. Especial credit is due Private Hulett, who killed both Cervantes and Bencomo as they rode by him. Several of Villista bandits were wounded as trail of blood plainly indicated. Identification of Cervantes absolute. Death regarded by many people in this vicinity as fortunate. Private Strong, Troop B, Seventh Cavalry, reported missing from camp returned May 24, having been lost."

Cervantes and Beucomo Buried Without Religious Ceremony.

FIELD HEADQUARTERS, near Namiquipa, Mexico, May 29, via wireless to Columbus, N. M.—Gandelarra Cervantes and Juan Beucomo were buried yesterday without religious ceremony. Even the village priest at Namiquipa, where Cervantes had grown to manhood, declined to officiate at the services.

Two dusty, two-wheeled carts, drawn by dustier mules, bore the coffins through the town to a little cemetery on the outskirts. A few Mexicans, one of them Cervantes' father, a toothless old woman and a few dogs comprised the funeral party.

The quiet funeral was ordered by the civil authorities of Namiquipa, the majority of the citizens having insisted that the body of Cervantes, brought here after he was killed in an attack upon an American army engineering party last Thursday, be gotten out of the town.

No trace of the fleeing members of the Cervantes band has been obtained by the troops of cavalry sent out in pursuit.

American troops have been ordered by Gen. Pershing to avoid Namiquipa unless there are signs of an outbreak. More or less drinking is going on there.

Game fighter that he was, he complained but little during his illness, which was rather painful. He was conscious most of the time and able to lie on either side."

Mr. Hill's last public bequests were gifts for the advancement of education, in which he was deeply interested. One of his most important donations was $50,000 gift to the College of Puget Sound at Tacoma, Wash., made a short time ago. Another bequest of $25,000 was promised to Marquette University at Milwaukee at the same time.

His gift to the Tacoma institution was regarded as of great significance. For many years almost a feud existed between Tacoma and the Hill interests. The Hill steamers never were permitted to enter the port, and it was only a few years ago that the Great Northern Railway extended its line to Tacoma. Mr. Hill was credited in the early days with having said that he would see the grass growing in the main streets of Tacoma before he would run his trains there.

The ill feeling started in the early days of railway construction in the West when Tacoma, having been chosen as the western terminal of the Northern Pacific, showed its courtesies to that road. His gift to the school was taken as an indication that Mr. Hill was willing to forget the feud.

Tribute by Gov. Burnquist.

Gov. J. A. A. Burnquist today ordered all flags at half staff on the capitol and other State buildings. Later he issued this statement:

"In the passing of James J. Hill the greatest constructive genius of the Northwest is gone. He was acknowledged as its foremost railroad builder and business man, but his unparalleled ability appeared in many other fields of human endeavor.

"He was ever greatly interested in agriculture, art and education. His great and numerous gifts, especially to his city and to various institutions of learning, show his philanthropic spirit. The loss which his city, State and nation has sustained through his death cannot be measured."

Archbishop John Ireland said:

"What can I say that the whole country is not saying. A great man has gone from earthly life. Not only a man of rarest talent of mind, a genius, but also one who has put his wondrous talent to the service of fellow men, whose whole career was marked with strict integrity and highest sense of honor.

"This much, too, I must say in simplest truth, that he loved and respected religion and held the Christian faith to be the supreme principle of human righteousness and human life."

Made the Northwest.

James J. Hill discovered "the breadbasket of the world" in the Great Northwest; he led in its development from a wilderness into what now comprises six wealthy states dotted with 400,000 farms; and he blazed a trail for transportation which reached eventually from Buffalo to Asia, with a total mileage of rail and steamship facilities that would nearly girdle the earth. That but roughly spans the story of his achievement.

Near Guelph, in Ontario, where James (J. Jerome) Hill was born in 1838, the son of an Irish-Canadian farmer who died when the boy was 15, there stands a tree stump labeled: "The last tree chopped by James J. Hill."

It marked the lad's resolution to go to the United States. He had been prompted by an odd incident. According to the story that is told, a strange traveler had stopped at the Hill farm to take dinner, and left his horse at the gate. Young Hill saw the animal was tired and he carried it a pail of water. The stranger was pleased with the lad's thoughtfulness, and as he drove off he tossed him a newspaper from the United States, and called out gravely:

"Go there, young man. That country needs youngsters of your spirit."

Goes to United States.

Hill read the paper carefully. It contained glowing accounts of opportunities in the States. He resolved to investigate for himself. It was the next morning that he chopped his last tree.

As a mere roustabout lad of 18, he toured Maine to Minnesota. When, in 1856, he disembarked from a Mississippi River packet at St. Paul that place was a frontier town of 5000 inhabitants. At the sign of W. J. Bass & Co., agents for the Dubuque & St. Paul Packet Co., he found a job as both stevedore and clerk.

In the 15 years that followed he seized every opportunity to study the whole problem of river transportation. He gathered no end of experience and a little capital with which he launched his own firm of Hill, Griss & Co., which promptly displayed its initiative by bringing the first load of coal that had ever been seen in that section into St. Paul. Two years later, with a flat-bottomed steamer, he established the first regular communication with St. Paul and the Manitoba ports of the fertile Red River valley.

At about that time St. Paul was having its first experiment in railroad building. Eighty miles had been laid to St. Cloud, 316 miles to Breckenridge, both of which terminals were at the southern end of the Red River valley, and there were about 100 miles of track "which began nowhere and ended in that same indefinite spot." This venture ran up a debt of $33,000,000 and collapsed, with its only assets being "a few streaks of rust and a right of way."

Buys St. Paul Road.

Hill had had sufficient success in the region to be seized with a consuming desire to purchase the defunct property. After five years of financial dickering, including the sale of all his other interests, which netted a fortune of $100,000, he and a syndicate of three others—Sir Donald A. Smith, George Stephen and Norman W. Kittson—obtained the object of this desire.

The St. Paul, Minnesota and Manitoba Railway was formed to operate the property, with Hill as general manager. When, in 1883, Mr. Hill was elected president he undertook the extension of the road from its Dakota and Minnesota homestead to the Pacific Ocean. He was confronted by three great competitors to the south, each of which had received big bonuses as Government aid, whereas the "Manitoba" or the Great Northern, as it came to be known, did not have a dollar of Government subsidy or an acre of grant to forward its progress from the Minnesota boundary to the sea.

In this light, Hill's plan was widely deemed pure folly, but he pressed it to conclusion by building and populating as he built. For several years he laid rails westward at the rate of a mile a day, and at a cost of $30,000 a mile, and as he went he left a trail of embryonic farms by the railside.

Became Empire Builder.

With the line to Puget Sound once laid, he turned empire builder. He introduced the livestock industry into vast areas of bunchgrass plains, and developed them by importing blooded stock; he sent demonstration trains through the country with men who showed the people how to raise more wheat to the acre; he made an outlet for the grain by establishing a cheap rate by rail and steamship to Buffalo, where he built great elevators; in fact, for upwards of 20 years he left nothing in his power undone to develop the country where he had staked out his claim as the great common carrier.

But at the Pacific tidewater he was not satisfied, for he saw in the Orient still further opportunities. He organized a fleet of Pacific steamships for the commercial invasion of Japan and China. Japan at the time wanted steel rails, but proposed getting them from England, as the rates were less. It is related that when John W. Gates, the steel magnate of Chicago, came to Hill with the proposition of getting American rails to Japan, the latter replied:

"I will make you a rate of $8 a ton from Chicago or Pittsburg to Yokohama. If that is too much, I will carry it for the axle grease used on the locomotives and freight cars; and if you can't stand that, I will carry your freight for nothing."

At the $8 rate named, the American manufacturer was enabled to get the Japanese contract.

Wheat Sent to Orient.

The same tactics were adopted in getting American wheat and flour into Japan and China, where rice was the staple food.

His faith in the Far East was rewarded as liberally as that in the Northwest. It is estimated that the Pacific fleet now carries nearly $50,000,000 worth of products to the Orient every year.

While Mr. Hill built up for himself and his associates an immense fortune, he also helped to create for the settlers along his lines a wealth of over $5,000,000,000 in real property, which is represented by the value of the 400,000 farms and their 65,000,000 acres of improved land.

Upon his retirement at 69, the "streak of rust" he had bought 30 years before, had expanded to more than 6000 miles and it was earning gross profits of more than $68,000,000 a year, and carrying 15,000,000 tons of freight annually. He still retained a hand in the Great Northern's policy as chairman of the board of directors, while his son, Louis, who had worked up from the humblest position of his father's railroad, became president.

Secret of His Success.

The secret of the Hill success was no secret at all, according to Mr. Hill, and he had no new recipes to offer. "The man with the big opportunity today," he said, "is the man in the ranks." But the secret of failure he frequently declared to be extravagance. He regarded this as a national tendency, against which he strongly set himself, particularly as concerned the natural resources.

During his active supervision of the Great Northern system, Mr. Hill oversaw almost every detail, to the wonder of all employes with whom he came in contact. A fugitive instance of his recognition in his own country is the story of a tourist who declares that there are afloat in the Swedish section of the Northwest upwards of 10,000 different stories in Swedish dialect with "Yem Hell" as the centerpiece. Patrons of his lines have liked and disliked him in rapid alternation, for it was his point to have his way, not only where his road should run, but where his patrons should settle. This was part of his economic policy. He carried out a singular regularity in the location of branch lines, giving a minimum of short lines on which light trains were unavoidable. The principal text of his railway gospel was low grades, heavy power, large capacity cars and big train loads on his main lines, and he began to preach this at a time when these things were held as visionary by most railway men.

In contrast with the late E. H. Harriman, who outdid him in the extent of railway ownership, Mr. Hill was not only the financial head, but the practical head, of his great railway system. He was the chief promoter and president of the Northern Securities Co., organized with a purpose to bring the Northern Pacific and Great Northern under one ownership, to which such opposition developed that a suit was brought in the United States Circuit Court, which decided that the acquisition was an illegal combination—affirmed in March, 1904, by the United States Supreme Court.

For several years Hill had been in the habit of insisting, both to his friends and to the public, that he was not actively engaged in business.

Just how active he was during the last two years of his life can be judged only by little evidences of his master hand in matters affecting the Great Northern Railroad and the First National Bank of St. Paul and by three outstanding accomplishments in which his will and genius asserted themselves. From a world viewpoint it would be hard to say whether his stanch support of the Belgian people following the invasion of the Germans or the part played in the negotiations for the $500,000,000 loan to the allied Governments is the more important.

Gave Great Help to Belgians.

From a local viewpoint his influence in the upbuilding of South St. Paul stockyards, principally through the decision of Armour & Co. to come to the suburb, claimed first rank.

From the time the work of succoring the Belgians began, Hill took a leading part in the movement. It probably will never be known how much money he sent to King Albert, a personal friend, and how much he induced others to send.

His place as an international figure was never more prominently displayed than when the representatives of the allies came to New York in quest of a huge loan. One of the first men to be sent for by J. P. Morgan was Hill, and his assurance that he and the people of the Northwest were prepared to do their share in taking up the foreign bonds is believed to have contributed largely to the success of the negotiations.

The names of the contributors to the bonus by which the Armours were brought to St. Paul were not made public, but it is said on good authority that without Hill's financial and moral support the deal never would have consummated.

His claim to being the original advocate of livestock development in the Northwest is unquestioned and since the retirement of A. B. Stickney from the presidency of the Chicago Great Western Railway, he has been the most ardent proponent of the upbuilding of the industry at this center, a work which has been taken up enthusiastically by his son, Louis W. Hill.

Most Novel Exhibit

At Operative Millers' Convention

Coliseum Building, St. Louis, May 29-June 2

You are cordially invited to see the novel exhibit of the money-making "Midget" Marvel mill that is in full operation this week at the Operative Millers' Convention, in the St. Louis Coliseum Bldg., May 29-June 2, if your present business or income is not satisfactory; or, if you want to get into a more profitable and pleasant line of business; or, if you are seeking a good sure profit-yielding investment.

THE "MIDGET" MARVEL MILL

Come and see how you can, on comparatively small capital, without previous milling experience, and with the aid of our special instructions and "Confidential Selling Plans," start yourself into the flour-milling business and make more money out of it—and make it easier—than in any other business you can get into. Come and see it make the finest of flour right before your eyes—see the simple, understandable process of getting all the flour out of the wheat berry and separating it from the offal in three-quarters of a minute, as against three-quarters of an hour required by the old process. See how easily you could, without any additional help, successfully run this money-making mill yourself in little space and on little power. If you can't come, write for our free illustrated book, "The Story of a Wonderful Flour Mill," prices, terms and trial offer. It will be a revelation to you.

$5000 NEEDED TO FINANCE PARADE FOR PREPAREDNESS

Security League Committee to Meet Today to Discuss Plans to Raise Funds.

DOCTORS WILL MARCH

Central Trades and Labor Union Will Not Participate as an Organiation.

A meeting of the Executive Committee of the National Security League will be held today to consider means of financing the preparedness parade to be held next Saturday. Horace D. Johns, secretary of the league, said that bands for the parade will cost $3000 and that $800 more will be spent for mounts for the National Guards. It is expected that the cost of building a reviewing stand, and other expenses, will bring the total to more than $5000.

The league is supported by voluntary contributions and membership dues, the chief source of income being annual memberships at $1. This will not go far toward meeting the expenses of the parade, Johns said.

Johns was informed that the negro division being organized would contain 1000 marchers. Capt. William H. Butler, a soldier of the Spanish-American War, has charge of the negro branch and expects to enlist many negroes who have been soldiers.

Doctors Will March.

The St. Louis Medical Society announced Saturday night that as a result of a preliminary canvass among its members it appeared that at least two-thirds of the membership would march in the parade. The society now has about 600 active members.

Representatives of 18 Turner societies of the city, at their regular meeting Friday night, declined to take any official action on the invitation to participate in the parade. The consensus of opinion was that the meeting had no authority to act, and that each Turner society should decide the questions for itself.

P. M. Hucke, who was chairman of that meeting, said today he did not know what action would be taken by the societies. The invitation came so late, he said, that he doubted whether any of the societies would have opportunity to act on it unless they called special meetings.

College to Have 150 in Line.

Christian Brothers College will be represented in the parade. Up to last night 150 students had volunteered to march, and it is expected that the number will reach 200. Only men from the college departments will be in line.

The students have been drilling ever since the preparedness movement started, and are trained in the manual of arms as well as in maneuvers.

When objection was made by the faculty on account of the time taken for drilling, the students by a unanimous vote requested that they be permitted to continue it. They drill one hour a week, in companies of 12, under upper classmen who have had military training.

The Central Trades and Labor Union yesterday afternoon voted to table an invitation to march as a body in the parade, after speakers argued that the organization should not join in movements which did not have direct bearing on the welfare of union labor. Under the action of the central body, the decision as to participation in the parade is left to the separate unions.

The invitation was extended in a letter from the Security League. It was tabled by a vote of 133 to 42.

An invitation from the Socialist party, asking the central body to participate in an anti-militarism demonstration at the city hall the same day, also was rejected. The invitation was referred to the separate unions.

The invitations were discussed for nearly an hour, several delegates charging that the preparedness demonstrations were promoted by munitions manufacturers. Other delegates, including David Kreyling and James Conroy, urged that the invitations were not proper subjects for discussion by the central body.

Alliance President Assails Organizers of Parade.

Henry A. Kersting, president of the St. Louis German-American Alliance, speaking Saturday night at the golden jubilee of the St. Louis Liedertafel in Concordia Turner Hall, repeated his previous declarations that the alliance would not march in the preparedness parade next Saturday. The chief reason he gave was that he did not like statements which have been made in the Post-Dispatch, and that Horace D. Johns, secretary of the National Security League, in charge of the parade arrangements, is a son of George S. Johns, editor in charge of the editorial page of the Post-Dispatch. "George Johns calls me a hyphenated American and a traitor to my country," Kersting complained.

"I would not march in the footsteps of such dirty cattle," he said, after his reference to the elder and the younger Johns. He also charged that munitions manufacturers are back of the parade plans, and said 11 of the 14 men "originally forming" the National Security League were profiting from the sale of war materials.

LOSES $10,000 ON FAKE RACE

Springfield, Ill., Man Defrauded at Palm Beach, Fla.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., May 29.—Defrauded of $18,000 on a fake horse-race game in Florida, Henry Hurd, a wealthy farmer of Cerro Gordo, Ill., appealed to the Springfield police today to help him find the men who swindled him.

Hurd spends each winter at Palm Beach. Recently he was approached at Palm Beach by two middle-aged men who professed to know him and his family. They let Hurd win a little on a horserace and he was elated. Then he plunged $18,000. The men went away but wired him he had won and to meet them in Springfield to get his share.

Nine Reported Missing.

England to Postpone Holidays.

LONDON, May 29.—At a conference today between David Lloyd George, Minister of Munitions, and representatives of various trades unions, it was agreed unanimously that the Whitsuntide holidays would be postponed in the case of munition workers in order that the present efforts for acceleration of the output of munitions may be continued without interruption. It was decided that the holidays be postponed two months.

Buckingham Guest Loses Handbag.

Mrs. M. P. Branch of the Buckingham Hotel told the police that when she walked away from a bench in Forest Park, near the Laclede pavilion, last evening, she left her hand bag containing some papers, trinkets and 75 cents. When she returned for it a few minutes later, she said, she saw a man and woman walking away from the bench. The bag was missing.

DRIVER OF NEW AUTO KILLED, SIX IN CAR INJURED

Emil J. Kessler Crushed When Machine Overturns on the Larimore Road.

The automobile accident on Larimore road, north of the city, in which Emil J. Kessler of 2215 Adelside avenue, vice president of the Kessler Oak Leather Co., was killed, at 4:45 last evening, and six others were injured, was described to a Post-Dispatch reporter today by one of the injured guests in the car, Edward Heisler, a saloon keeper, of 3424 North Eleventh street.

John Schultz, 45 years old, of Roche, Ill., a relative, who has been living with the Kesslers, was the most seriously injured of the survivors. His chest was crushed and three ribs broken, and he is in the Westminster Hospital, 3520 Hall's ferry road. Mrs. Kessler, her son, Casper, 11, and her daughter, Marie, 8, and Heisler and his wife, were the others bruised, Heisler suffering a dislocation of the left shoulder.

Kessler was taking his first ride in a new Dorris seven-passenger car which had been delivered to him at noon yesterday. He was fairly familiar with automobile driving, his acquaintances say.

Started on Ride at 2 P. M.

"Mr. Kessler had promised to take my wife and me with him in his new car, whenever he should get it," Heisler related; "and at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon he came by for us. He had Mrs. Kessler and the two children and Schultz in the car. Schultz and Casper Kessler were with him on the front seat, and the rest of us sat in the rear seat, with little Marie playing on the floor of the car.

"We went to Calvary Cemetery, and then to Friedens Cemetery, and then stopped at Wehmeyer's roadhouse on Riverview drive, where we had soft drinks. We started back in a southwest direction on Larimore road.

"We were running about 25 miles an hour, when we saw a car approaching in the opposite direction. Two motor cycles, with a man and a woman on each, were running at the right of our car, and it did not look as if Kessler could turn out far enough for the other car, without striking the motor cycles. So he threw on the brakes.

"As he did this it seemed that one of the rear wheels broke and the car skidded, turning about so that it pointed in the opposite direction. Then it overturned throwing us all out, and the steering gear struck Kessler and Schultz. The car righted itself, but toppled so that it seemed it would fall over on us all, and we crawled out of the way. When I got up I went to Kessler, who was not under any part of the car at that time, and he asked me whether I was badly hurt."

Kessler Dies on Scene.

Heisler said he did not see where the other automobile went, and that he also lost track of the motor cyclists. Drivers of cars, coming up within a few minutes after the accident, took the injured persons to physicians' offices, and the Rev. Father Kempf of St. Aloysius' Church, who chanced to be in the neighborhood, administered the last sacrament of the Catholic church to Kessler, who died at the scene of the accident, from a lung puncture, caused by a broken rib. He was conscious until a minute before his death, and he asked that his watch, knife and other articles in his pockets, be given to his wife.

At the office of the Dorris Motor Car Co., 4100 Laclede avenue, an officer of the company said today that an inquiry was being made as to the cause of the addicent, but that a conclusion had not been reached. He said he did not believe, from what he had learned that the breaking of the wheel was caused by the sudden applying of the brake, but he said the wheel was broken and that the breaking of it did not seem to be fully explained.

GIRL WINS STEP IN SUIT TO ENTER TEACHER COLLEGE

Judge Hennings Overrules Demurrer of Board to Action Brought by Marie E. Kayser.

Circuit Judge Hennings today overruled the demurrer of the Board of Education in the mandamus suit brought by Ferdinand C. Kayser and his daughter, Miss Marie E. Kayser, of 3937 North Twentieth street, against the board and Supt. Blewett to compel her admission to the Harris Teachers' College.

Miss Kayser was graduated from a Catholic high school last year. The rule is that women graduates of public high schools whose record places them within the standing of the highest two-thirds of their respective classes may be admitted to the teachers' college without examination, while graduates of other high schools have to take an examination. Miss Kayser was informed that under this rule she would have to take an examination.

The demurrer was on the ground that the petition did not state a cause of action. It set up that the Teachers' College was not part of the public educational system of the city and therefore the board had the right to select and exclude students as it saw fit.

Part of Educational System.

Judge Hennings holds that the Teachers' College is a part of the educational system maintained by taxes and that it can no more be controlled for the benefit of some, to the exclusion of others with equal qualifications, than can any other school. He holds that it is contrary to the natural rights and the manifest purpose of those paying taxes for the support of the public schools for the board to hold that by arbitrary regulations it can limit the attendance to a favored few.

"If the teachers must be selected from all those applying on the basis of merit," he says in his opinion, "then the opportunity to prepare for such a test ought to be on the same basis. The Board of Education has the right to make rules and regulations governing admission, so as to give all persons who come within the sphere of its activities—that is, have equal qualifications for pursuing the studies therein taught—equal opportunities for admission.

"All applying for admission must be given an examination of the same general character and nature, covering the work prescribed in the high school course. In the event the applicant obtains a grading that would bring her within the standing of the highest two-thirds, then she ought to be admitted on the same basis as the two-thirds of the high school graduates entitled to admission without examination."

Case Yet to Be Heard.

The Judge says the rule subjecting all others than the two-thirds to tests and conditions not applied to them and a rule limiting the number to be admitted to the prospective need for new teachers is arbitrary, unreasonable and illegal. The rule of admission to the college, he says, should be uniform, applying to all citizens alike, and if the capacity of the school is limited then all obtaining above the prescribed grade by examination or otherwise ought to receive the benefits in an equal degree.

The case is yet to be heard on its merits, but as the same law points will be involved as are passed on in the overruling of the demurrer, it is assumed that the decision will be against the Board of Education.

SCHORR PERSONALTY, $176,858

An inventory of the estate of Jacob B. Schorr, president of the Schorr-Kolkschneider Brewing Co., was filed in the Probate Court today showing personal property of $176,858, and real estate consisting of a house at 2165 Salisbury street and property on Farrar street.

The personal property was divided as follows: Notes $59,101, stock $108,450, bonds $6000 and cash $3297.

She Thought the Seven Children Should Be Considered, Too, in Stopping Marriage at Altar.

NEW YORK, May 29.—Having given a last pat to his white satin tie, Otto Wiedenbaum, 29 years old, of 210 East One Hundred and Ninth street, drew back from the mirror yesterday afternoon to let his wife admire his high silk hat, swallow-tail coat, low-cut white silk waistcoat, white silk socks, patent leather pumps and white rose boutonniere. He smiled at her as she nursed their seventh child, three days old.

"I should look my best," he said. "I go to the wedding of a man I know very well."

The man was himself. He had obtained a license to marry Miss Amelia Gnipewich, 25, of 2 East One Hundred and Nineteenth street, 10 blocks from his home. To oblige her he had changed his religion from Jewish to Greek Catholic.

The wedding party was gathered in St. George's Greek Church and Wiedenbaum was at the altar clasping the hand of Miss Gnipewich when down the aisle marched Mrs. Bessie Rock, aunt of Wiedenbaum's wife.

"Stop the wedding!" cried Mrs. Rock. "This man has a wife and children."

"If it's like that I'm sure I don't want him," said Miss Gnipewich, and after that police reserves were necessary to pry her relative loose from Wiedenbaum, who is a wireman in the subway. He was sadly battered and his wedding costume was in tatters when he was locked up at a police station.

INTERNAL REVENUE TAX FOR YEAR TO BE $500,000,000

Big Increase Due to Prosperity of Country, Secretary McAdoo Says —More Whisky Used.

WASHINGTON, May 29.—Half a billion dollars will be the Government's internal revenue tax toll for the fiscal year ending June 30 next, according to a statement issued by Secretary McAdoo, the figures of which exceed by many millions all previous estimates. The receipts will be made up substantially as follows:

Taxes on whisky, beer, cigars, cigarettes and tobacco, $300,000,000.

Taxes on the incomes of individuals and corporations, $115,000,000.

Emergency tax collections, $83,000,000.

The volume of money pouring into the treasury has steadily increased month by month since last fall, until it is now greater than at any time since the effects of the war began to be felt. Mr. McAdoo accounts for the situation as follows:

"The prosperity of the country, with the attendant wider scope of employment and increase in wages has, in itself, resulted in a larger consumption of taxable articles, greatly augmenting the Government's revenue."

Consumption of whisky, cigars, cigarettes and tobacco has increased.

MEDIATION UNACCEPTABLE, DECLARES LONDON TIMES

Others Agree With Stand That Germany Must Be Beaten, but News Says Narrow View Should Not Be Taken of President's Speech.

LONDON, May 29.—The Times today, discussing recent reports that President Wilson was preparing the way for American mediation in the war, declares that mediation of this character cannot be entertained because, as the editorial phrases it, a compromise between right and wrong is impossible and the war, as a matter of principle, must be fought until Germany is beaten.

"President Wilson's electioneering speeches," says the Times, "are bringing him on dangerous ground. He should be sorry to emulate the suggestion of the Frankfurter Zeitung that President Wilson probably considers his political prospects would be helped by a conclusion of peace, but we think it right to state quite clearly that the allies are not and will not be disposed to allow American internal politics to be intruded into their personal quarrel."

The morning papers generally comment at considerable length on President Wilson's speech. The Daily Chronicle thinks that "Germany is working up a peace move in her own interests and is plainly counting on American opinion to help her."

The Express says: "Peace talk is premature and mischievous. Germany would doubtless be glad to agree to what might appear to be terms favorable to the allies. Nevertheless there can be no satisfactory end until Germany has suffered a decisive defeat."

The Daily News says: "It would be a profound misfortune if the critics took too limited a view of President Wilson's speech. On its positive, constructive side, it deserves serious treatment, and principally by this country. Nothing is clearer than that on fundamental issues President Wilson and Sir Edward Grey are absolutely one. The identity of purpose between Great Britain and America in their aim for the maintenance of the world's peace is full of hope."

"Irresponsible peace talk received its quietus from Sir Edward Grey last week, but no doubt President Wilson's speech before the League to Enforce Peace will revive the discussion in certain quarters," says the Liverpool Post. "Its definiteness in certain particulars is arresting, but perhaps to many of his own countrymen the air of definiteness which the President gives to some of his phrases may seem elusive.

"One can imagine many being specially disappointed when he says that with the causes and objects of the war the United States has no concern. To us, who believe we are opposing an attempt at world domination, it is hard to believe that the cause for which we stand is not of some concern to the great republic of the west."

The Post argues that the entente allies are fighting for virtually the same object for which President Wilson proposes a league of nations.

The Manchester Guardian says this plan of the President is almost as old as the first formulation of the ideal of organized peace, but that it never before in any part of the world has commanded the support accorded it in America today. This newspaper says further:

"The President inevitably has confined himself to cautious and general terms, but it is impossible to miss the significance of his declaration that the United States would be ready to become a party to any feasible league of nations. Twenty-one months of war have done much to undermine even the rooted American aversion from alliances and leagues."

The Westminster Gazette says that if one is to understand what President Wilson is driving at, his speech must be considered from two points of view—the immediate point of view of the war, and the more remote one of reconstruction after the war. It continues:

"This proviso, necessary for the President's neutrality 'in mind and thought,' is an ice cold abstraction for a belligerent who believes he is fighting in the sacred cause of law and right. We do not understand how a neutral can expect to influence these events if he begins by declaring himself not to be concerned with their causes and objects. We do not see how he is to control this 'stupendous flood' if he is not 'interested to search for or explore the obscure fountains' from which they burst forth."

Presenting the argument that the entente allies cannot be expected to welcome the implied judgment that they really are responsible with their enemies for starting the war, the Gazette continues:

"We must guard ourselves in advance against being thought unreasonable or aggressive if we are unable to accept peace overtures based on the assumption of equal guilty. That being said about the immediate prospect, we should be extremely foolish to write off as unimportant or impracticable what the President says about reconstruction after the war."

The Gazette considers President Wilson's declaration that the United States is willing to become a partner in any feasible association of nations as a momentous one, and asserts that Great Britain's record for a century is an indorsement of his suggestion for establishing the security of the highways of the seas. It adds that "if the President means sea power in war is to be reduced or limited in such a way as to deprive us of our principal weapon and means of defense, we should naturally have a good deal to say on that subject."

BERLIN OFFICIALS SKEPTICAL AS TO PEACE BEING NEAR

ATMOSPHERE IS CLEARED

Germany Can Now Await Developments, Post-Dispatch Man Is Told.

By KARL H. VON WIEGAND,
(Copyright, 1916, by Press Pub. Co.)

BERLIN, May 29, via London, May 30.—The "first peace discussion between the British Foreign Secretary and the German Chancellor," as one of the local papers characterized the Post-Dispatch's Bethmann-Hollweg interview and the Sir Edward Grey statements, can be considered closed.

The atmosphere cleared, the war can go on, perhaps with renewed vigor. Whether the first informal exchange of views in the great world war between the two leading statesmen of England and Germany, through the medium of American newspapers, brought peace any nearer, there is no agreement here.

The pacific factors regard it with more or less satisfaction, and see in the willingness of Grey and Bethmann-Hollweg to enter into such an informal exchange of views a favorable sign. They consider the interviews, to some extent, have cleared the ground, and that the next interchange in whatever manner will find both sides willing to come closer to each other.

Official circles are skeptical. They do not believe England is ready to recognize the "war chart as it is" and they do believe that England and France are placing great hopes upon the starvation policy. High officials state that the food question will not have any military effect whatever in determining the course of the war and that the allies are doomed to another bitter disappointment in that direction.

Unofficial reports appear to agree with official reports that the present prospects point to a bumper crop.

Air Cleared of Peace Talk.

The Russians are making no dents in Hindenburg's line in the East; on the west front the Germans declare they have nothing to fear in the way of a reverse, and in the south the Austrians are pressing the Italians hard.

"Having let the world know again that

Germany is ready to terminate the war, we can now await developments, if the other side can," said an important official.

The two interviews certainly have cleared the air here of peace talk for the time being.

The belief that President Wilson soon will make a move for peace was derived at by the pacific element from brief dispatches. This hope was considerably dashed by the later London dispatches.

As the German press and public are largely dependent upon the English view of political conditions in the United States, public opinion here is more or less confused on President Wilson's attitude, or what action may be looked for from him. The character and tone of President Wilson's new note to England on the mail seizures is awaited with more than the usual curiosity, as, perhaps, giving a line on his future action.

Government circles are extremely skeptical about President Wilson taking an energetic attitude toward England to enforce American rights in the blockade question, or that he will take any step for peace.

In many quarters President Wilson is credited with being so deeply imbued with England's school of political thought, and so in sympathy with it that it is not believed he will take the initiative for peace, so long as he believes England has a chance of winning.

If, as press dispatches state, the President has said he will make no move for peace until both sides ask him, it is declared here a point will be reached where mediation will be no longer necessary, and even if a mediatory step then were taken, it would be mere empty formality.

The reports abroad, connecting Prince von Buelow with peace negotiations, first with one country, then with another, appear utterly unfounded. Prince von Buelow has been in Berlin for some time, and told me today he would, in a day or two, leave for his home, near Hamburg.

Sir Edward Grey's discussion, in the House of Commons, of the Post-Dispatch's interview with Dr. von Bethmann-Hollweg, was featured in the papers here. It was apparent from Sir Edward Grey's utterances, as printed here, that the British Foreign Secretary was under a misapprehension as to the Chancellor's statement in that part of my interview referring to Grey's conference proposal of July, 1914, which might possibly be due, to some extent, to an error in transmission. In justice to Herr von Bethmann-Hollweg it should be made clear he did not say to me, as Grey was quoted as saying in the Commons, in a dispatch from Holland, that England made the conference proposal for the purpose of giving Russia time to mobilize her army, nor did he cable any such stateemnt.

In discussing Grey's conference proposal during the conversation the Chancellor in no way intimated that he believed the British Foreign Secretary was moved by ulterior motives in making the proposal; in fact, he stated that he did not question Sir Edward Grey's good faith on that point.

The Chancellor did say that Russia, notwithstanding official assurances to the contrary, was mobilizing in accordance with a decision determined upon July 25 and under full headway when Grey's proposal was made. The Chancellor declared that no statesman could accept the responsibility of accepting a conference, the outcome of which was problematical, while Russia was utilizing the time to assemble her armies on the German frontier.

The Lokal Anzeiger also has called attention to the apparent misunderstanding of the Chancellor's remarks. Prefacing its comment with "We are in accord with the Chancellor's statement to Wiegand; the retrospective obse - tions and considerations are utterly useless at this time," the Lokal Anzeiger said:

"One distortion of the interview, however, we would like to contradict which may be due to improper translation and because this distortion tends strongly toward poisoning the respective polemics of the two statesmen.

"Grey claims the Chancellor had said that England, in those July days of 1914, had suggested a conference to adjust the conflict between Austria an- Servia, to enable the Russians to g in time to mobilize. The conference was not suggested until after Russia commenced mobilization, the unavoidable result of which was a change in the strategic situation, at the very beginning of the war, to our disadvantage.

"Therefore, the acceptance or rejection of the conference could not be decided by the measure of our confidence in the good faith of the English.

"The progress of Russian mobilization and the decision of Russia were not dependent upon the good will of England, but upon the influence that England had in St. Petersburg. And this influence must have been small, for the reason that it was well known in Russia that, in the event it came to war between herself and Germany, England would place herself on the side of Germany's foes."

SAYS BRITISH AND RUSSIAN ALLIANCE IS 'FOR ALL TIME'

LONDON, May 29.—The "absolute accord between Great Britain and Russia means that the alliance formed in time of war against a common enemy has become an alliance for all time," said Sergius Sazonoff, the Russian Foreign Minister, in an interview with the Times' Petrograd correspondent.

"The alliance made by the Governments has now become an alliance of the hearts of the people," he continued. "In this friendship I can see the realization of the fondest dream of my career, for in the true friendship of England and Russia the peace of the world is assured for many generations. We have thus potentially won the war, although the struggle itself may continue for years. Crystallization of the idea that England, France and Russia cannot be alienated establishes the certainty that the central Powers have lost, no matter how they may, by the fortitude and internal sacrifice, postpone the inevitable day of the admission of their failure.

"With the realization of the entente's amity and unity must come also the permanent dissipation of the mischievous idea that the Russians are a people of ambitions and aggressive design, planned to advance their own aims at the expense of Europe.

"Nothing is farther from the Russian character. With our southern outlet made irrevocably secure in perpetuity, with the legitimate growth of and development of our economic and industrial life secured, with our bundaries suitably adjusted and our fellow Slavs assured of their due, the destinies and aims of Russia in the West are fulfilled.

"We can then turn to the true aspirations of the Russian Government and people, namely, the development of our vast empires and the furthering of the interests of the peoples embraced within our empire.

"The realization of this colemn truth must bring convincing evidence that the Russian does not stand as a menace to Norway, Sweden or other neighbors. I hope the recent rumors regarding the Aland Islands, which now happily are dissipated, will prove the last error of suspicion of the Swedes regarding Russia."

M. Sazanoff, referring to the promises of Polish autonomy, said:

No one deprecates more than the Russian Government the sufferings which have come to Poland and the Polish refugees. His majesty, the Emperor, has been so moved at the distress of his Polish subjects that the greater demands for human sympathy have swept aside military aspects and he has freely given permission for widespread relief work to be conducted among them by the Rockefeller commission. The Poles cannot expect that in this life and death struggle we will be able to outline in full our program for Poland s future, but that Poland will receive a just and equitable autonomy in the greatest degree, adjusted to their future life and their economic and industrial development, is certain. The Poles and the friends of the Poles may, therefore, look forward to the Russians for a dawn of a new era and a period of unexampled development, which will follow the inevitable successful conclusion of the war.

Reported That President Will Rebuke Gerard for Peace Interview.

NEW YORK, May 29.—A Washington dispatch to the Tribune says Ambassador Gerard's peace interview, given to a Munich paper and printed in this country, will call forth a stern admonition from President Wilson to refrain from public comment, administration officials intimated today. It was stated flatly that Mr. Gerard had received no instructions to talk peace in any way.

While the Ambassador is encouraged to obtain German views on peace, for the information of the President, his discussion of the question publicly is regarded as highly improper and damaging to the President's availability as a peace mediator.

President Wilson, it is declared, is the only American official who will be allowed to discuss peace publicly. While the matter is still in its formal stage his propaganda is personal. The State Department and diplomatic corps have no connection with it.

In German quarters here, Mr. Gerard's interview was thought to "show a friendly feeling for the German cause." The hope was expressed that Mr. Gerard's statement would help turn popular favor in Germany toward President Wilson as a mediator and heal the wounds caused by the neutrality and submarine policies of this Government.

The object is considered entirely worthy by administration officials, but they say there is such a thing as overdoing it, and that Mr. Gerard should keep quiet and let the President do the talking.

Chancellor's Statements as to Grey in Post-Dispatch Interview.

In the interview with Von Bethmann-Hollweg, published in the Post-Dispatch last Tuesday, the Chancellor is quoted as follows in regard to Sir Edward Grey's proposal and the mobilization of the Russian army. This version, which accuses the British statesman of bad faith, is probably the one which was received in England after having, as Von Wiegand believes, suffered in transmission:

"Let me make one more and a last remark about the past. Again and again Sir Edward Grey renews his assertion that Germany could have averted this war had it accepted England's proposal in the face of the mobilization measure of Russia's vast army in full headway.

"Despite Russia's official denial, notwithstanding the fact that the formal mobilization orders were not issued until the night of July 30, it was definitely known to us, and has since been confirmed, that the Russians on July 25 began mobilizing, in accord with a decision arrived at when Sir Edward Grey's proposal was made.

"With two frontiers to defend, Germany could not engage in debates, the outcome of which was extremely problematical, while possible foes were utilizing the time to mobilize armies with which to invade us."

Intruder Arrested in Store.

Patrolmen investigating the removal of a glass panel from the back door in the dry goods store of Albert Knecht, 2245 Cass avenue, last night found a man inside the store who said that he was Charles Cody, 24 years old, of 3676 Laclede avenue. He refused to make any statement.

DOES RHEUMATISM BOTHER YOU?

The Doctors Say "Use Musterole"

So many sufferers have found relief in MUSTEROLE that you ought to buy a small jar and try it.

Just spread it on with the fingers. Rub it in. First you feel a gentle glow, then a delicious, cooling comfort. MUSTEROLE routs the twinges, loosens up stiffened joints and muscles.

MUSTEROLE is a clean, white ointment, made with oil of mustard. It penetrates to the seat of pain and drives it away, but does not blister the tenderest skin.

It takes the place of the mussy, old-fashioned mustard plaster.

MUSTEROLE is recommended for Bronchitis, Croup, Asthma, Pleurisy, Lumbago, Neuralgia, Sprains, Bruises, Stiff Neck, Headache and Colds of the Chest (it often prevents Pneumonia).

At your druggist's, in 25c and 50c jars, and a special large hospital size for $2.50.

Be sure you get the genuine MUSTEROLE. Refuse imitations — get what you ask for. The Musterole Company, Cleveland, Ohio.

DIVAS WIN HOTEL SUITES RESERVED FOR POLITICIANS

Mme. Schumann-Heink's Peremptory Telegram Gets Her Rooms at Planters.

Art won a victory over politics, when Mms. Ernestine Schumann-Heink and Mms. Johanna Gadski, two of the principals in the out-of-door production of "Siegfried" in Robison Field the night of June 13, obtained rooms in St. Louis hotels where politicians were vainly seeking accommodations for the week of the Democratic national convention, June 11-16.

The principal hotels had reserved all their rooms for convention visitors before the grand opera stars made their application for rooms. The local Grand Opera Committee informed the operatic managers of this. When the singers were approached with tactful suggestions about going to private residences or sleeping on steamboats, Mme. Schumann-Heink composed a telegram to Manager Walker of the Planters Hotel.

The telegram read: "Have been stopping at your hotel for years, and will not go elsewhere unless you tear or burn it down."

Walker wired back, reserving a suite of three rooms for Mme. Schumann-Heink and her staff. Whether the rooms were taken away from Tammany braves or Kentucky colonels, Walker has not told anyone.

Mme. Gadski sent a forceful representation to the management of the Buckingham Hotel, and the "impossible" was performed by reserving a suite for her. No accommodations have thus far been obtained for Miss Frieda Hempel. Clarence Whitehill, Johannes Sembach, Otto Goritz and Albert Reiss, also principals in the cast, or for Arthur Bodanzky, conductor of the Metropolitan Opera House orchestra. The managers, directors and principals are still without assurance of quarters. For the accommodation of the 100 members of the orchestra, a plan for tenting on Robison Field has been suggested. The Cardinals will not mind, as they will be away that week. It will not be the first time that men have gone to sleep in the outfield or on the bases.

All the grandstand boxes have been sold, and to accommodate additional box subscribers, the Grand Opera Committee has arranged to install 30 field boxes, immediately in front of the players' benches. The night of the performance is the night before the opening of the convention, and in case of rain, the performance will be given on the next clear night.

FAUST SPAGHETTI

The National Health Food

Everybody everywhere likes Faust Spaghetti. And it is perfectly natural, because there are few foods which can be served in so many tasty dishes and appetizing combinations.

Yet it is the most nourishing of all foods. A ten-cent package contains more dry nutriment than a dollar's worth of meat. Faust Spaghetti is made of Durum wheat, rich in gluten—the strength and tissue builder. Insist on having it. At your grocer's. Write for free recipe book.

DEAD ON HIS FEET

GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules will bring new life and quickly relieve that stopped-up congested feeling. They will thoroughly cleanse and wash out the kidneys and bladder and gently carry off the ill effects of excesses of all kinds. The healing, soothing oil soaks right into the walls and lining of the kidneys and expels the poisons in your system. Keep your kidneys in good shape by daily use of GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules and you will have good health. Go to your druggist at once and secure a package of this time-honored, world-wide remedy. It is not a "patent medicine." It is passed upon by U. S. Government chemists and declared pure before coming into this country. GOLD MEDAL is the pure, original Haarlem Oil, imported direct from the ancient laboratories in Holland, where it is the National Household Remedy of the sturdy Dutch. Look for the name GOLD MEDAL on every box. Accept no substitute. Your druggist will gladly refund your money if not as represented.—ADVERTISEMENT.

The Savings Habit

There are a hundred reasons why a man should save part of his income and place it in a Mercantile Savings Account. Every banking institution adds to its surplus and profit account each year besides paying expenses and dividends. The same rule ought to apply to the individual to the extent that he is adding steadily to his savings account, which is his surplus and profit account.

Further, the corner stone of that fortune you want to build is "thrift." If you never lay the corner stone, you will never start building your fortune.

Hopes Belligerents Will Show Greater Tolerance, Partly Renounce Claims and Sympathize With Peoples.

ROME, May 29.—Cardinal Gasparri, Papal Secretary of State, is quoted by Rome newspapers to the effect that Pope Benedict, while maintaining strict neutrality, deplores the anti-Christian and inhumane aspects of the war. In the absence of satisfactory evidence of an impartial nature, the Pope is unable to pass judgment on charges of improper conduct of war made on both sides.

The Pope is represented as cherishing the belief that the conclusion of hostilities may be hastened by a greater degree of Christian tolerance on both sides, by partial renunciation of claims and keener sympathy for suffering peoples.

Caruso on a New Victor Record.

In the Victor records for June there is a delightful song, "Olden Times," by Caruso. Admirers of the great tenor will be interested in knowing that Caruso composed this song. His hobby is musical composition, and he has several successful songs to his credit. Another interesting new record is by Melba. This record contains a rendering of a gypsy lyric by Dvorak, "Songs My Mother Taught Me." This is the most popular of the Bohemian composer's songs. Julia Culp is heard also in the "Cradle Song," adapted from Kreisler's "Caprice Viennois." The English words were written by Alice Mattullah. A record that is certain to prove popular is "My Old Kentucky Home" by Alma Gluck, and there is another new one by the same singer, "Ye Who Have Yearned Alone." Marcel Journet's Servian National Air, written in 1848 during the war between Servia and Hungary, being the song that is now sung wherever the Servians are gathered for war, is one of the most beautiful of the June collection. There are many other new and interesting records by the group of famous artists singing for the Victor. A record that should prove popular at home is the "Missouri Waltz," which has made a great hit.

MUNICIPAL PIER OPENED IN CHICAGO COST $4,750,000

Runs 3000 Feet Into Lake Michigan and Has Width of 292 Feet.

CHICAGO, May 29.—Commercial utility and social recreation facilities are combined on a large and unique scale in the Chicago municipal pier, at the foot of East Grand avenue, and just north of the mouth of the Chicago River, which was opened to freight traffic for the first time today when the Northern Michigan Transportation Co. received and shipped freight there.

The first social feature to take place on the new pier and which will occur before it is entirely completed, will be a meeting to be held June 8, under the auspices of the Illinois Equal Suffrage Association, and which will bring together prominent suffrage workers and orators from all sections of the country, it is expected.

The United States Government spent nearly a million dollars to erect a breakwater to protect the pier. The pier itself runs out 3000 feet into Lake Michigan and is 292 feet wide. It was built on a bond issue of $4,750,000, under authority of the City of Chicago, and its erection began about four years ago.

One of the most popular features of the new pier is expected to be the great promenade way, leading all the way from the west end to the east end. It will be uncovered, admitting the full sweep of the cooling lake breezes, as it will be high above the freight dock level.

SOCIETY

MISS THEODORA THACHER, whose wedding to F. Ewing Glasgow will be one of the notable June events, will be the guest of honor this evening at a box party to be given by Miss Minnie Potter, one of her bridemaids, followed by a supper at the home of Miss Potter's mother, Mrs. William B. Potter, 4021 Washington boulevard.

Miss Potter will make her debut tonight on the professional stage with the Park Theater Players in the first performance of Lilla Chopin Hattersle's play, "Kitty Comes In," which won the prize given by the management of that theater.

The guests in the party will be the bridal party, which includes Mrs. Alexander M. Sullivan, Mrs. Bruce Seddon, the matrons of honor, Misses Anne Farrar and Virginia Flad, the bridesmaids, Messrs. William Ross Glasgow, Harold Pettus, Alex R. Skinker, Samuel H. Allen and Allan Pendleton Gamble.

Mrs. William C. Steigers of 5156 Von Verson avenue, has returned from a month's trip to Eureka Springs, Ark., Kansas City and Excelsior Springs, Mo.

The rain Saturday afternoon prevented the garden tea from being given at the Arches, so it was postponed until Wednesday, the weather permitting.

A colonial wedding, arranged by Mrs. Herbert Wolff for children, a program of dances under the direction of Jacob Mahler, songs by Mrs. Oliver L. Garrison Jr. and a group of Polish songs by Mme. Franka Gordon de Jurgielewicz, dressed in a Polish wedding robe, will be part of the entertainment of the patrons.

Mrs. Charles D. Stevens and her daughter, Miss Barbara Stevens, have given up their home at 5352 Vernon avenue and have taken an apartment at 5212 Cabanne avenue.

Mrs. de Courcey Lindsley of 3937 West Pine boulevard is visiting her sister, Mrs. Allan Pinkerton, at the Vanderbilt, in New York City.

The May day festival and children's picnic, which was to have been given Saturday at the Century Boat Club, has been postponed until tomorrow at 2:30 p. m. The same program, including a May pole dance, race, contests and dances will be given.

Mrs. Sam Freedman of 3426 Arsenal street and her son have gone for a visit to Mrs. Freedman's sister, Mrs. A. C. Weintraub of Argenta, Ark.

The Y. M. H. A. Cadets will give their annual picnic at Ramona Park, June 11. There will be a military drill, athletic events and a baseball game.

INDORSES EFFICIENCY BOARD

Central Labor Union Committee Says Body Is Non-Partisan.

A report of the Legislative Committee of the Central Trades and Labor Union indorsing the work of the Efficiency Board was adopted by the delegates at their meeting yesterday. The committee attended the meeting last week of the Board of Estimate and Apportionment, which refused an additional appropriation of $4800 to extend the work of the board. The committee said it found that the Efficiency Board has eliminated political power as a means of obtaining appointment to city offices.

The body indorsed the proposed bond issue to provide a fund for the building of new schools in St. Louis, contingent upon the guarantee of the Board of Education that St. Louis workmen will be employed on the school work wherever possible.

1000 SHOTS FIRED AT FRENCH FLYER, BUT HE LANDS SAFELY

German Fokker Which Attacked Him Brought to Earth by Another Allied Machine.

PARIS, May 29.—Today's communication from the War Office tells of a thrilling adventure in the air as follows:

"While one of our pilots was making a trial flight he was attacked in the region north of the River Aisne by a German Fokker. The enemy machine fired more than a thousand shots at the French aviator. Under this hail of bullets and in spite of the fact that his machine was virtually cut to pieces by this fire, the French aviator succeeded in getting back to our lines, followed by his adversary. Another French machine came forward and attacked the German. He was not more than 30 yards distant and was brought to the earth at a point near Bourgogne, west of Rheims.

"On the left bank of the River Meuse cannon mounted on automobiles brought down two German air machines, the first to the north of Avocourt and the second in the direction of Forges."

GRIP AND NEURASTHENIA

There is a form of neurasthenia that follows the grip. Doctors call it "post-grippal" neurasthenia. One of the foremost medical authorities of New York city in a lecture in the international clinics, said:

"Broadly speaking, every victim of the grip will suffer from post-grippal neurasthenia also. Lowering of nervous tone with increased irritability is the most striking effect of the disease, languor of mind and body, disturbed, fitful sleep and vague pains in the head and elsewhere. The treatment calls for rest and a tonic."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, a non-alcoholic tonic, are particularly suited for building up the blood and strengthening the nerves after an attack of the grip. The rich, red blood expels the lingering germs from the system and transforms despondent grip victims into cheerful, healthy, happy men and women.

If you have had the grip get a box of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills now from the nearest drug store and begin the treatment at once.

On request we will send you a free pamphlet, "Building Up the Blood," which contains a chapter on the grip. Address the Dr. Williams Medicine Co. Schenectady, N. Y.—ADV.

NEARLY WILD WITH BURNING ITCHING

Eczema. From Hands to Elbows One Mass. Could Not Put Hands in Water. Could Not Sleep.

HEALED BY CUTICURA SOAP AND OINTMENT

"My daughter was poisoned by salt and it turned into eczema and from her hands to her elbows was one mass of red, burning itching eruptions. It began with a rash which was of such a burning itching nature that at times she was nearly wild. For many weeks she could not put her hands in water and she could not sleep.

"She suffered intensely for several weeks and I tried wringing towels out of hot water and putting a rubber sheet across her, but she wasn't helped. The Doctor said to try Cuticura Soap and Ointment. I did and the itching and burning left her, and I used four boxes of Cuticura Ointment together with the Cuticura Soap and she was completely healed." CLEANUP WORKERS BUSY IN DOWNTOWN SECTIONS

Especial Attention to Be Given River Front, Place of Interest to Visitors.

The St. Louis Continuous Clean Up and Paint Up Campaign Committee will direct all its efforts this week to cleaning up and painting up the business district, from Jefferson avenue east to the river, north from Market street to and including Franklin avenue, and the railroad district from Jefferson avenue east to the river and south from Chouteau avenue to and including Market street.

John H. Gundlach, chairman of the Railroad Committee, has secured the cooperation of all the steam railroads entering St. Louis, and of the United Railways, to clean up all rights of way and approaches to St. Louis, so that visitors may have a favorable impression of St. Louis upon entering our city.

Gundlach has also taken up the matter of the police enforcing the ordinance prohibiting the throwing of rubbish on the public streets. He has been assured that this law will be enforced.

Allen W. Clark, chairman of the National Bureau of the Clean U and Paint Up Committee, has urged that special attention be given to cleaning up the river front, as the Eads Bridge, Municipal Bridge and the Mississippi River will be the things which visitors to St. Louis will want to see first. The entire committee is devoting its efforts to making the river front as attractive and clean as possible.

BARTHOLDT NOT TO RUN FOR CONGRESS, IS FOR MEEKER

Hughes-Swanger Clubs Organized in City by Mayor Kiel Supporters.

The faction of the Republican City Committee controlled by Mayor Kiel, Circuit Clerk Charles R. Graves and Chairman John Schmoll has begun the organization of Hughes-Swanger clubs throughout the city. The object of the clubs will be to urge the delegates to the Republican national convention to vote for Justice Charles E. Hughes for President and to work for the nomination of John E. Swanger of Sedalia for Governor.

The petitions which are in circulation state that Swanger, if elected Governor, will give St. Louis home rule.

The supporters of Judge Henry Lamm of Sedalia, rival candidate for Governor, also started a Hughes-for-President boom at a banquet to Judge Lamm a week ago.

There seems to be a general desire on the part of candidates and their managers to gain strength for themselves by taking advantage of the popularity of Justice Hughes. Thomas J. Akins, a senatorial candidate, was one of the first to land in the Hughes band wagon, and to use Hughes' name in an effort to win votes for himself.

Walter S. Dickey of Kansas City, who has been campaigning for United States Senator for several months, filed his declaration with the Republican State Committee today.

Former Congressman Richard Bartholdt has made a definite announcement that he will not be a candidate for the Republican nomination for Congress in the Tenth District, and that he is for the renomination of Congressman Jacob E. Meeker. Bartholdt has written letters from Washington saying that he finds that Meeker stands well in Congress, and that he ought to have a second term. He said the fact that Meeker had voted for the resolution to warn Americans to keep off of armed merchant ships of the allies was an indication of his usefulness as a member of Congress. Bartholdt also mentioned that Meeker was an effective campaigner against prohibition.

Former Judge William Zachritz, member of the Republican City Committee from the Fifteenth Ward, filed today as a candidate for nomination for Circuit Judge of St. Louis. Otto J. Schulte, owner of a grocery store, saloon and meat market, and former member of the Boot and Shoe Workers' Union, filed today as a candidate for the Republican nomination for Congress in the Eleventh District.

WAITE WANTS NO APPEAL; DESIRES EARLY PUNISHMENT

Convicted Dentist Attends Religious Services in Prison; Hears Sermon on "Two Thieves."

NEW YORK, May 29.—A declaration that he wishes no appeal in his behalf was contained in a statement issued from his cell in the Tombs yesterday by Dr. Arthur Warren Waite, convicted Saturday of the murder of his father-in-law, John E. Peck of Grand Rapids.

"I am satisfied with the verdict," he said, "and don't want any appeal made by Walter R Deuel (Waite's chief counsel) or anyone else. I am willing to take the punishment for my ill deeds, and the quicker that punishment comes the better."

Waite's demeanor underwent a change and he lost much of the mask of indifference which he has maintained since his removal to prison.

He expressed a desire to attend religious services and was one of those who heard the Rev. J. Callahan preach a sermon on the "two thieves," at the Protestant service conducted in the prison. In the afternoon Waite sent for a copy of the Bible and spent several hours reading it.

JUNIOR WINS ORATORY MEDAL

Lawrence J. Long, a member of the junior class of the collegiate department of the Christian Brothers College, was awarded the gold medal for his address, "A Policy of National Defense," in the annual oratorical contest held in the auditorium last evening. John Vincent Moran, a senior, and Herbert M. Hart, won second and third prizes, respectively.

Eight students participated in the contest, and the winners were chosen by a vote of the members of the audience who were not students at the college. The college orchestra gave a musical program.

Miss Grace Wilson, a stenographer of 624 North Garrison avenue, was cut and bruised when she and Edward Dukek of 3850 Wyoming street fell from a skidding motor cycle at Union boulevard and the Hodiamont right of way at 1 o'clock this morning. Dukek was not hurt.

MAN ARRESTED ON DAUGHTER'S CHARGE THAT HE BEAT HER

Ethel Hilton, 14, Says Father Mauled Her With Fists and Threatened Death.

Frank Hilton, a laborer of Washington Park, East St. Louis, was arrested Saturday night on the charge of disturbing the peace of his 14-year-old daughter, Ethel, who says he beat her with his fists and a trunk strap and threatened to kill her with a butcher knife.

The girl says her father accused her of telling an untruth and, after beating her with the strap, pounded her head against the wall and flourished a butcher knife and said he was going to cut her throat. She ran out of the house and went to the home of Charles Avery, a neighbor. Hilton's arrest followed. He was released by Justice Driscoll on $50 bond.

Yesterday afternoon, James McHale, an attorney representing the Humane Society, and Mrs. Jane Law, the truant officer, took charge of the girl and placed her at the Children's Detention Home, 1209 College avenue. Dr. H. G. Stanton, who examined her, said he found severe lacerations of the head, neck, right arm and back. The Humane Society will take care of her and will aid in the prosecution of her father.

EASTLAND TO SAIL LAKE AGAIN

CHICAGO, May 29.—The steamer Eastland tomorrow will make its first trip lakeward since it turned over last summer in the Chicago River, causing the death of more than 800 persons.

The boat is to be owed to a shipyard in South Chicago to be rebuilt. Recent dispatches from Washington said that the Eastland was to be used as a training ship for the Illinois naval reserve.

Says Pickpockets Got $32.
Joseph Franz of Staunton, Ill., told the police that he was robbed of $32 by pickpockets on a McKinley car while crossing the river last night.

Pimples Disappear

There is one remedy that seldom fails to clear away all pimples, blackheads and skin eruptions and that makes the skin soft, clear and healthy.

Any druggist can supply you with zemo, which generally overcomes all skin diseases. Acne, eczema, itch, pimples, rashes, blackheads in most cases give way to zemo. Frequently, minor blemishes disappear over night. Itching usually stops instantly. Zemo is safe, clean, easy to use and dependable. It costs only 25c; an extra large bottle, $1.00. It will not stain, is not greasy or sticky and is positively safe for tender, sensitive skins.

NAVIN FIELD, DETROIT, Mich., May 29.—The Browns and the Tigers, who met in the close of their series here this afternoon, will not meet again at Detroit this season until September. A double-header was this afternoon's feature. Cunningham warmed up for Detroit and Weilman, who worked Saturday, for St. Louis.

Tobin went to center field in place of Marsans and batted third, Austin dropping to seventh place. Miller went ahead of Pratt and Severeid donned the mask. Attendance at the beginning of the first game was 3500. Umpires were Dinneen and Chill.

FIRST INNING.

BROWNS—Shotton singled to right. Johnson beat out a bunt. Tobin forced Johnson, Young to Bush. Sisler grounded to Burns, Shotton being held at third. Bush threw out Miller. NO RUNS.

DETROIT—Bush flied to Tobin. Vitt's grounder to Pratt took a bad bound and the runner was safe. Cobb was called out on strikes. Vitt died stealing, Severeid to Johnson. NO RUNS.

SECOND INNING.

BROWNS—Pratt singled to center. Austin beat out a bunt. Severeid bunted to Burns, who threw low to third, filling the bases. Weilman cleaned the bases with a double to the scoreboard, Pratt, Austin and Severeid scoring. Shotton sacrificed, Vitt to Burns. Johnson grounded to Burns, who stepped on the bag after driving Weilman back to third. Young threw out Tobin. THREE RUNS.

DETROIT—Veach popped in the air and Austin muffed the ball. Bobby tried to reach second but was out, Austin to Pratt, in a tight race for the bag. Heilman flied to Miller. Burns singled to center. Young popped to Austin. NO RUNS.

THIRD INNING.

BROWNS—Sisler singled through short. Miller sacrificed, Vitt to Burns. Cunningham threw out Pratt. Austin grounded to Young.—NO RUNS.

DETROIT—Stanage flied to Pratt. Cunningham was called out on strikes. Bush singled to left. Vitt walked. Weilman threw out Cobb. NO RUNS.

FOURTH INNING.

BROWNS—Severeid doubled to the score board. Weilman sacrificed, Cunningham to Burns. Shotton was out to Burns, unassisted. Johnson singled to left, scoring Severeid. Johnson stole second. Tobin flied to Veach. ONE RUN.

DETROIT—Pratt threw out Veach. Heilman singled over second. Pratt was under Burns' high fly. Young forced Heilman, Johnson to Pratt. NO RUNS.

FIFTH INNING.

BROWNS—Sisler walked. Miller lined straight to Vitt, whose quick throw doubled Sisler off first. Pratt walked. Pratt was out stealing, Stanage to Young.

DETROIT—Stanage singled to center. Cunningham walked. Bush flied to Miller, Stanage taking third. Vitt forced Cunningham, Pratt to Johnson, Stanage scoring. Cobb flied to Tobin. ONE RUN.

New Tennis Star From Frisco Is Shining in East

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, May 29.—The defeat of R. Lindley Murray, the California meteor, and the victories of Willie Davis, the newest wonder from the Pacific Coast in the semi-final round furnished the thrills yesterday in the lawn tennis single on the courts of the Sleepy Hollow Country Club at Scarborough.

Harold A. Throckmorton, the national interscholastic champion, started the excitement by completely mastering Murray to the score of 6—3, 6—3. Later in the day Davis met Throckmorton in the semi-final round and defeated the most brilliant of the younger players in this section of the country by a score of 6—3, 6—2, 6—0. The three sets were decided upon before the match by mutual consent.

Murray was regarded as practically certain of a place in the cup final before the tournament began. He made his first bid for fame in the Sleepy Hollow tournament two years ago. Throckmorton surprised the gallery by smothering Murray's service from the beginning.

Davis Outdoes Throckmorton.

He leaped for the net pouncing on the ball almost before it bounded, slashing cross courts at Murray to catch the famous Californian off his feet. With the string drawn from his service, Murray made a poor defense and went down with unlooked for ease.

Davis seemed to shade Throckmorton at every department of the game as they met in the semi-final. He was a trifle steadier. There was a vicious break and bite to his service that kept Throckmorton guessing. Davis used his service so cleverly as to score by frequent aces.

In the rallies, which were worked with whirlwind pace as the boys fought for openings, Davis was always a bit more steady than his opponent. The newest wonder from California, on the whole, exhibited splendid control and did the best work of the entire tournament.

HAMILTON'S SALE TO TIGERS A BIG SURPRISE TO FANS

Reports Had Indicated He Was Rounding to His Old Form.

Earl Hamilton, the Browns' once-famous southpaw who has been of little service to the club since he was injured in an automobile accident at the close of the 1914 season, has been sold to Detroit for a cash consideration which the Brown officials refuse to divulge. President P. DeC. Ball admitted today that the sale had been consummated although he was not familiar with the details.

Business Manager Branch Rickey of the Browns is on his way here from Detroit, where he conferred Saturday and yesterday with Manager Jones. It was after Rickey's conference with Jones that the sale of Hamilton was announced.

The outright disposition of Hamilton at a time when the Browns are in a losing streak was taken today as an indication of a general shake-up in Jones' team. That no players were involved in the Hamilton sale was somewhat a surprise to those who have followed the fortunes of the local club.

Hamilton was left at home when the Browns went East on their late disastrous trip. He worked out daily an, according to Rickey, John Lavan and Catcher Harry Chapman, who worked with him, Earl showed a vast improvement. Only a week ago Rickey told the Post-Dispatch.

Chapman's Favorable Report.

"Hamilton looks as good to me today as he ever did. He has regained the use of his fast ball."

If Hamilton is anything like the Hamilton of 1913, the Browns fans will regret his passing. If he's still the Hamilton of 1915 he will not be missed.

When President Ball was asked whether the sale of a pitcher who threatened a return to form was considered good policy at this time, he said: "It will be considered smart by anybody who knows anything about Hamilton."

Ham May Work Today.

Hamilton was transferred to the Detroit bench yesterday and may be called upon to oppose the Browns in one of today's games. If he's beaten the deal that shifted him to the jungaleers' camp will look good from a local point of view. Should he whipsaw his former pals there will be wail from Baden to Carondelet.

What will follow the Hamilton sale is a matter of conjecture. Otis Crandall is ticketed to go, the railbirds say, while every effort is being made to acquire a catcher who can flag the alien base-runners. Ainsmith of Washington is one of the men sought.

To replace Hamilton Jones soon will have Ernie Koob, the clever Michigan schoolboy, who is recovering from an attack of pleurisy. Koob expects to be in the game inside of 10 days. He's able to work out now, but is 12 pounds under weight. The loss of Koob is one explanation for the Browns' failure so far.

Cards' Game Off

CHICAGO, May 29.—The game scheduled for this afternoon between the Cardinals and Cubs was called off shortly after noon on account of rain. The postponed clash will be played as part of a double-header Wednesday afternoon.

LOOKING THEM OVER WITH OLD MAN DOPE

By John Edward Wray

Look Out for the June Rise!

OUR big June rise is only a few days off. This goes for the Mississippi and the big baseball leagues—especially the latter. Looking at the readings today, we find the Detroit, Boston and Chicago clubs considerably below the normal stage for this season of the year.

Teams of the normal strength of these three aggregations cannot be kept out of the hunt much longer. The spring spurts of Cleveland and Washington have carried those clubs further than most managers expected and the coming Western trip of the Eastern clubs may witness a considerable revision of the league's standings.

When the "Big Three" moguls are properly fired up, the switch engines will have to take the sidetrack.

Give Simpson a Record!

BOB SIMPSON of Missouri, who proved himself on more than one occasion this spring to have passed out of the near-championship division into a class all by himself, may not be credited with a world's record in the high hurdles, which he ran in time caught by four watches as good as 14 3-5 seconds, or even better.

Although two timers' clocked him 14.2 and two others 14.3, Johnny Bender stopped his timepiece at 15 seconds, which, it is thought, will prevent his being awarded an A. A. U. Hall of Fame place.

Performance Seems No "Fluke."

SUCH a ruling would be manifestly unfair, with a majority of four to one against Bender. The added facts that Simpson had twice before done better than 15 seconds and that, on Saturday, he also tied Kraenzlein's famous low-hurdle record (which had stood for 18 years), ought to indicate that the performance was legitimate and not a "timing" mistake.

The Valley Conference WILL approve the mark, whatever the A. A. U. may do; and in intercollegiate circles Simpson will be given credit for being the greatest hurdler of all time, as well as one of the country's greatest all-around athletes.

He's Cleveland's Mainspring.

PITCHER GUY MORTON came from Waterbury, but that doesn't account for his long wind-up. Guy, however, is all the works for Cleveland.

Mr. Wood May Smoke Up.

JOE WOOD of Boston, who has in the past showed us more smoke than the Terminal yards at 7 a. m., may be summoned to the rescue of the Red Sox, who are now lingering in fourth place, almost as far behind the league leaders as the cellar champion Cardinals are behind Brooklyn.

Joe has not been working at his smoke-producing trade this year, because, it seems, he refused to stand for a cut in a contract which was fully as large as Benny Kauff's pre-season boasts.

But the Carrigan pitching staff has not been going at top speed. Shore is still far from efficient, and Wood's annual contribution of 12 or 15 victories—even if he doesn't improve this—would help out considerably. The chances are he will be recalled.

One thing would seem certain—that Cleveland, considering the way it has been playing, will NOT get Wood, as sought. The Bostonians would hardly take a chance on strengthening the club that has stolen the thunder of the world's champions.

Soccerites Meet Today.

PHILADELPHIA, May 29.—A revision of the rules governing soccer and other matters of importance to players and followers of the game will be considered by delegates to the United States Football Association, which opened its annual convention here today. Delegates from New York, New England, Chicago, St. Louis and affiliated associations from other sections are in attendance.

Borton Hits for Pratt, but Jones Loses Again, 6-3

DETROIT, Mich., May 29.—Eddie Plank, the veteran southpaw, who has pitched good ball but who has been unable to win with any frequency, and Dave Davenport, the lanky right-hander, propably will be selected by Manager Jones to do the twirling in the first double bill of the season here this afternoon. The last time the Browns called here Plank downed the Jungaleers, 5—4, three of the locals' counts coming in the final frame. Davenport was driven off the slab in four frames in the same series.

There's no telling who will be selected by Jennings. He has used up his best two hurlers—Coveleskie and Dauss—in winning the first two battles of the series. Jean Dubuc and rookie Cunningham probably will draw the assignment.

After the twin-bill today the Browns return home for a long stand, opening with the Cleveland Indians tomorrow.

Beating the Browns yesterday, 6—3, the Jungaleers chased an old hoodoo in the person of Bob Groom. While with Washington, Groom always could beat Jennings' team. But times have changed and so has Groom. He was chased in less than three innings, during which time four runs and six hits were made off his delivery. Jim Park finished the game and pitched in good style.

The Tigers scored two in the first, came back with one in the second and added another pair in the third. The final marker came in the eighth. Sisler's triple and a sacrifice fly gave the Browns one in the second. A double by Miller and single by Pratt added another in the fourth, while in the eighth Johnson's double and Miller's one-spot added the final marker.

Although Pratt had driven in one of the two runs for the Browns, Jones benched him in the eighth, with two men on the sacks, to allow Borton to hit for him. Borton, though, failed to come through.

MIDLAND VALLEY GOLF HONORS AT STAKE TOMORROW

Competitive Play Will Also Be Held at Algonquin, Normandie and Westwood.

Tomorrow being Memorial day, the golf clubs in and about the city are making preparations for the usual big day. Tournament play, either match or medal play, will be held at the Algonquin, Normandie, Midland Valley and Westwood clubs. Tripie A. Bellerive and other suburban links will be occupied, although real competition has not been arranged.

The spring championship of the Midland Valley Club will be settled when Frank Canter and Oliver Smith, who gained admission to the final round by winning their matches Saturday, meet for the supremacy. This will be the feature match of the day and after it has been decided, four local club championships will have been established, this season. C. C. Pangman is supreme at Algonquin, Frank Fitzgibbon reigns at Normandie and Ed Schieli is high and mighty at Westwood.

Tombstone Tourney at Normandie.

The oddest tourney that has been arranged for tomorrow will be played over the Normandie links, a handicap tombstone tourney. Each player is given a handicap to the bogey score, which is 80, and is allowed to play that number of strokes. For instance, a man who receives seven strokes may play an 87. When he has completed this number of swats he plants his tombstone. He whose burial place is nearest to the hole 18 wins the prize.

Memorial day sweepstakes will be in order at Algonquin and a large entry is expected. This is a medal play handicap event, an annual feature of the Webster club's program. Westwood will also hold a medal play tourney.

PLAN FOR BOXING COMMISSION MAY BE FOUND TONIGHT

ORGANIZATION NEEDED

Gentleman's Agreement Among Boxing Clubs Here Would Strengthen Sport.

A meeting of promoters and others interested in the improvement of local boxing conditions will be held at Meramec Park, Meramec street and Grand avenue, at 7 o'clock tonight. Those invited are expected to discuss more serious subjects than the supper provided, the most important being the feasibility of establishing a local boxing commission for the protection of the game.

Meramec Park is the new outdoor home of the Future City Athletic Club, where boxing contests in the open air will be held whenever the weather conditions are favorable.

The tendency of boxers to report out of condition, to misrepresent their weight, to put up poor or indifferent fights when conditions do not suit them, and other features which tend to prevent the public getting all its money's worth could be wiped out here, according to several experts, if a "gentlemen's agreement" were reached by local promoters not to use any boxer who violated the ethics of the game in any exhibition locally.

Gibbons Agrees to Box Dillon.

Harry Pollock, manager of the Washington Park Sporting Club of Brooklyn has announced that he has finally signed up Mike Gibbons to meet Jack Dillon in a 10-round bout at his big open-air boxing arena the latter part of next month. Pollock says that he expects to sign Dillon, as he has already accepted his terms for the contest.

Ted "Kid" Lewis, the fast English welterweight, is matched for three fights to be decided at the Atlas A. A. of Boston. On June 13 he takes on Mike Glover of Boston, two weeks later Johnny Griffiths of Akron, O., and then Jack Britton, the welterweight champion. All three contests will be for 12 rounds to a decision.

Bill Brennan, the big Chicago Celt, who has been knocking his opponents out with great regularity of late, will be laid up with bad hands for at least two weeks. He has called off his fight in Philadelphia.

Al Lippe, who is now managing the affairs of Billy Papke, the former middleweight champion, declared today that Papke has decided that in the event of Johnny Howard beating him in their 10-round bout at the Clermont A. C. of Brooklyn on June 1, he will never box again, but if he gets the newspaper verdict he will continue in the boxing game.

Matchmakers Scotty Monteith and Leo Flynn of the Stadium A. C., New York, are trying to arrange a bout between Kid Williams of Baltimore and Jack Sharkey, the promising Brooklyn bantam, to be fought at one of the club's shows in a few weeks. Williams has been offered a guarantee of $1000, and it is thought he will accept it. The weight is to be 118 pounds ringside.

Frankie Brown, the New York bantamweight, will meet Louisiana of Philadelphia in a 15-round bout at the American A. A. of Baltimore tonight. Louisiana has been substituted for Frankie Burns of Jersey City, who is ill. Burns is also signed up to fight either Johnny Coulon or Pete "Kid" Herman of New Orleans for 15 rounds at New Orleans on June 12.

SPORT SALAD

BY I. C. Davis

Fielder to "Hug."

WELL, Hug, old boy,
This gives me joy—
Come right on in, old feller!
There's lots of room
And, I presume,
You'd like to share our cellar.

It's very plain
The storms and rain
Have driven you to cover;
But down here, Hug,
We're safe and snug
When clouds above us hover.

Down here with me
You'll "comfy" be
And we'll keep house together;
And in our caps
The fans, perhaps,
Will stick the booby feather.

IF the Browns and Cards keep on going down, they'll come out on top in the China League.

Still we have much to be thankful for. There are no 12-club leagues, for instance.

And every once in a while we have an open date. Like today, for instance.

Whiskers.

I MET a man the other day
With whiskers to his knees;
His lambrequins were silvery gray
And fluttered in the breeze.
Said he: "Until the Brownies win
I cannot get a shave,
And so these whiskers on my chin
Just simply won't behave."

He said: "One day I made the brag
Some twenty years ago,
That till the Brownies copped the flag
I'd let my whiskers grow;
And ever since that fatal day
I haven't had a shave;
I guess when I am laid away
I'll wear them to the grave."

Have a Look.

We look for the Browns to take a brace when they get back on the home grounds. It doesn't cost anything to look, you know.

The Cards must have thought they had a fighting chance to beat the Pirates yesterday.

The White Sox, crushed to earth, rose up and smote the Indians twice on the same day in the same place.

Manager Huggins announces that there will be a switch in the lineup today. Noting the daily shift in the lineup is about the only interesting thing about the Cards nowadays.

Shake It Out, Hug.

Hug ought to be an expert Card shuffler by this time. Wonder if he has an ace up his sleeve.

That young man Costello of the Pirates is about the freshest thing that has busted into our ball yard for many a day.

About the only thing the Pirates didn't take away from us was Sisler. They might have swiped him had he been here.

Not a Chance.

Jimmy Callahan says if a signed contract is a contract Sisler belongs to the Pirates. For Jimmy's benefit it might be stated that a contract signed by an infant in the cradle is not a contract, and therefore Sisler does not belong to the Pirates.

The Browns will be here tomorrow. That's one thing about the Browns. They always come back.

Not that there is any crying demand for their presence in our midst. But they come back anyhow. The justly celebrated bad penny has nothing on the Browns when it comes to turning up.

Tomorrow's Schedule.

AMERICAN LEAGUE.

Cleveland in St. Louis (two games, both in afternoon).
Chicago in Detroit.
Washington in Boston.
Philadelphia in New York.
(Morning and afternoon games.)

NATIONAL LEAGUE.

Cardinals in Chicago.
Cincinnati in Pittsburg.
New York in Philadelphia.
Boston in Brooklyn.
(Morning and afternoon games.)

Jimmy Johnston has decided to hold the next boxing show in Madison Square Garden, New York, on June 7. He is trying to clinch a return battle between Benny Leonard, the sensational lightweight and Johnny Dundee, in the main go of 10 rounds.

HUGGINS SHAKES UP BATTING LIST, BESCHER ON TOP

MILLER IS ADVANCED

Brilliant Pitching and Defensive Work of Pittsburg Stops St. Louisans.

By W. J. O'Connor.

Three successive defeats at the hands of the Pirates landed the Cardinals in last place yesterday on the eve of their departure for a 24-game series in the enemy's country. Today Manager Huggins plans one of his well-known shake-ups.

Hug was pretty badly shaken up himself yesterday. He was palpably nervous and annoyed. "But," said Hug, "I'm sure going to make some changes. I'm going to put Bescher up there leading off and I'll have Miller swinging either third or fourth. Hornsby goes back to the clean-up position, while other shifts will be made before we oppose the Cubs."

The Cardinals made a sad showing against the Corsairs in yesterday's double-header, losing the first, 4—0, and the second, 4—1. The latter game went only five frames, being called to allow Pittsburg to catch a train.

The first game was viciously aggressive at times and almost culminated in a free-for-all in the eighth inning, when Hornsby and Hinchman were pulled apart by the umpires just as they had squared off for a passage at arms. In this game the Cardinals ran into some atrociously bad breaks.

Pirates Play Brilliantly.

The Pirates put up the greatest defense seen here this season. Their outfield play was especially brilliant, catches by Carey and Barney, and two throws by these men, nipping Cardinal rallies in the bud.

The saddest break of all was in the fourth. Bescher opened with a walk. Betzel singled on the hit-and-run, but his drive traveled so fast that Barney was able, by fast fielding and a remarkable throw, to nip Bescher, who had rounded second and gone scarcely more than 10 feet towards third. Barney whipped the ball to Knabe, who snatched it with one hand and tagged Bescher with the same motion. Betzel then died trying to steal; and following this, Wilson walked. However, Hornsby filed to Hinchman and the biggest Cardinal rally ended without a man getting to third.

In the second game, Mamaux was entirely too much for the Cardinals, while Meadows was duck soup for the Pirates. He was hit even harder than Doak, who was savagely slammed in the first portion of the season's initial bargain bill. Upwards of 14,000 mourners watched developments, which began at 1:30 and wound up at 5 o'clock.

Bill Byron at His Best.

It was a big day for Bill Byron, the talented umpire. Frequently during the rioting in the first game Byron would turn to the fans, tap his temple knowingly and nod at the players, murmuring: "Squirrels."

Betimes Byron furnished amusement by his arguments with the bench polishers.

"You guys better get tongue-tied or I'll start a clubhouse movement," said he to the Pirates. And when Huggins overstepped the bounds of propriety, Byron said to him:

"And, remember, Huggins, you ain't barred; get tongue-tied or I'll move you out, too."

In a catch-as-catch-can bout with the King's English, Byron showe as much speed as any umpire in either league, especially when the crowd is what he chooses to call "mad and murmuring."

But Byron didn't really come into his own yesterday until the Hornsby-Hinchman tilt in the eighth inning. Then the vocal virtuoso valiantly galloped to third base, rushed between the belligerents and pushed Hornsby out of harm's way. Coming back to his position at the plate, he pointed to the sun, then to his head and then to the players, announcing: "It's the heat; it gets 'em all."

Which amused the mourners.

Hug Needed in Lineup.

It was quite evident to those who have studied the Cardinals so far this season, that the club, without Huggins at second, is like a ship without a rudder. There's no balance wheel, no guiding genius to lead the young hopefuls. Mechanically, the Cards are a nifty young team, for, with the return soon of Tommy Long, the Cards will be the youngest club in either league. The combined ages of Hornsby and Betzel do not equal Wagner's, although the Dutchman got four hits out of seven times up yesterday and cannot be considered all in.

But Huggins is a player of the Knabe stripe and it was Knabe's aggressiveness which put the Pirates over. Knabe supplied the spark all afternoon for the Corsairs. His line of lingo aggravated the aCrds and had them in the humor of fighting, but not the right way. The Cards were for fighting with their fists. Knabe's scheme is fight with anything but your fists.

At times when the Pirates would make one of those impossible plays, like any one of the three catches turned by Carey, or the throw by Barney which nipped Bescher, Knabe would dance around and yell: "Come on, let's get rid of these bushers."

This had its effect. The Cardinals were blind with anger and they couldn't see the ball, afield or at bat. Huggins used to pull Knabe's stuff, but Hug is on the bench and you can't do much there, not with Byron behind the bat. Therefore we opine that the Cardinals are going to have a pretty tough time winning. Even these superannuated Pirates, with Knabe as a spark plug, will be hard to beat.

21 DRIVERS TO START IN INDIANAPOLIS RACE

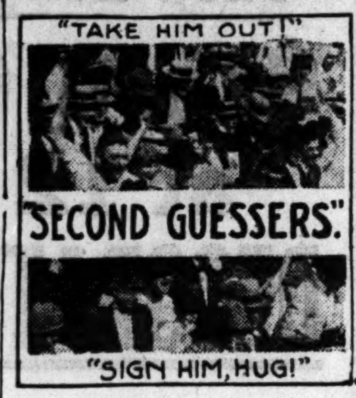

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., May 29.—The annual tide of automobile race fans was pouring into Indianapolis today from every direction. The sixth annual running of the International Sweepstakes on the Indianapolis Motor Speedway tomorrow is the attraction.

Twenty-one and possibly more drivers are expected to start the 300-mile contest. Scores of workmen were busy today cleaning the big brick oval. The drivers were making the final adjustments.

If it is cool and calm tomorrow a record-breaking performance is anticipated. Ralph de Palma's average of 89 miles an hour, the record established last year, was made under nearly perfect conditions. As the field of starters is fast and the race has been cut from 500 to 300 miles, it is considered probable that De Palma's speed will be surpassed in the 1916 race.

BROWNS TO PLAY BOTH GAMES IN AFTERNOON

The schedule for Sportsman's Park tomorrow, when the Browns return to oppose the Cleveland club, has been changed from a morning and afternoon game, to a bargain show in the afternoon, when both games will be played. The poor showing of Fielder Jones' men is responsible for this switch.

Sporting Editor Post-Dispatch.

They are yelling seventh or eighth for the Browns. Put me down as a "wise guy." If the Browns are in the second division till August or September, then Fielder and his squad will put on a spurt similar to that whirlwind finish of the Terriers last fall, when they copped 12 straight, and the Browns will breast the tape by a lap.

With good pitching the Cardinals would be up there; without it they will stay down. The Cards are great favorites, but a pennant for the Browns may change this, unless the Cards hang around the top.

A Point Well Taken.

Sporting Editor, Post-Dispatch.

Why does Huggins persist in keeping Gonzales on the bench when Snyder is in a batting and throwing slump? I hear a great deal of praise for Snyder, although his work so far this season has filled me only with disgust. McGraw ran him to the bench while he hasn't hit one in the pinch for lo, these many weeks. Let's have the Cuban in there for a spell.

They're at It, Again.

Pretty soon I expect Fielder Jones to resign. He said he wouldn't be identified with a loser, or something to that effect. When he steps out I'm in favor of making Branch Rickey manager. Rickey made a better showing last year with only one pitcher and sometimes without a first baseman and a right-fielder. With the present Browns Rickey would be right up there. The biggest handicap Rickey had was Hedges. He wouldn't spend a dime to see the world on fire.

'Fighting Ghost' Lost All His Spirit When Pork Chops Were Plentiful

By Harry S. Sharpe.

Jimmy Bronson, manager of the Southwest Athletic Club of Joplin, Mo., and of Jeff Clarke ("The Fighting Ghost") and Jack Thompson, the Denver (Colo.) heavyweight, who outpointed Sam McVey here at the Future City A. C., has a theory that young negro boxers who are good remain so only when they are kept on a "compulsory diet." Bronson contends that a young negro boxer who gets all he wants to eat retrogrades very rapidly.

"Take the 'Fighting Ghost,' for instance," said Jimmy. "A few years ago when he was under my management and I could hold him in Joplin, I allowed him a dollar a day, for himself and his family. He fought only now and then because I didn't want him to accumulate too much money. I was afraid that might spoil him. But when he did fight he was the wonder of the ring. Weighing only about 160 to 165 pounds, he took them all on at any weight, and I picked soume tough ones for him, at that. His speed was immense, and there wasn't a fighter in the business who could catch him in a 24-foot ring. He made everybody look so ridiculous we had to cut the ring down to 16 feet to keep him within hailing distance.

"Ghost" Needed Watching.

"The 'Ghost' was in demand in those days, but I kept him right at Joplin, and made him do all his fighting there, unless I accompanied him elsewhere. I was afraid to have him grow too prosperous, and afraid to let him from under my wing, because "I feared if he got away from me he would do too much eating, and the greatest fighter of his weight and inches in the world would be ruined.

"The 'Ghost' was not a champion, but he was a great drawing card. He was rapidly adding fame to his name, as a consequence of which I was gradually growing more anxious. Sure enough, the worst came to pass, and I lost him. Someone had whispered in his ear the joys of a life in Panama. He ran away from me, went down there and won the heavyweight championship. He had previously won the heavyweight championship of Mexico and Canada, but those titles were annexed in my presence and I didn't allow them to inflate his cranium. But his success in Panama, away from my watchful care, ruined him.

Ruined by Plenty to Eat.

"As the champion of Panama, the 'Ghost' began feasting on 'three squares per day,' pork chops and beer on the side, with the inevitable result—I have never known it to fail—he became lazy, and got fat. That was the beginning of his end, and too much eating was responsible for checking the career of this remarkable fighter. Did you notice when he fought Sam Langford at the Future City A. C. that he gave his weight as 170 pounds? Well, it was all of that, and then some, but he felt embarrassed to have it announced in my presence that he weighed any more than that, because he knew his fighting days were over when pork chops put him over the 165-pound mark.

"In Tommy Sullivan's 20-foot ring, big, fat Sam caught my 'ghost' and put him to sleep in the fifth round. Just a little more than a year ago, in a small ring at Joplin, Sam seldom got within six feet of my fleet-footed apparition. Too much eating has made the difference.

"Yes, sir," concluded Bronson, "I am satisfied that young negro boxers must be kept on a compulsory diet to make good."

Western Barge Crew Is Winner of Feature Race at St. Louis Opening

The Western Rowing Club barge crew gained its second victory of the season yesterday afternoon by capturing the barge race for the Block trophy, the feature event on the revival day program of the St. Louis Rowing Club. While Western led most of the way, the wearers of the white were forced to extend themselves over the full course of a mile and a half downstream.

St. Louis, which has done little this season, came to life and finished in second place, scarcely a boat length behind the winners. The Baden Juniors took third, with Century fourth.

The next club to stage its revival will be the Central Rowing Club, next Sunday. The program will be featured by a barge race and one for four-oared shells. All crews in the local harbor are expected to enter.

Prep Meet Called Off.

The annual interscholastic track and field meet which was scheduled to be held this afternoon at Francis Field was called off on account of the soggy condition of the field. Ninety athletes were booked to compete for honors. It has not yet been decided when the events will be run off, but it probably will be some time this week.

Giants Blank Wabadas.

The East St. Louis Giants tightened their hold on first place in the Interstate League by shutting out the Wabadas yesterday, 8—0. In the other battles the Manewals, with Woods twirling a one-hit game, blanked the Brockmeyers, 1—0, and Belleville beat Alton, 7—5. The Southern-Ben Miller game was postponed on account of wet grounds.

FORMER W. U. DEAN DIES

Prof. M. S. Snow Had Retired on a Carnegie Pension.

Marshall Solomon Snow, 74 years old, former dean and professor of history at Washington University, died yesterday at Taunton, Mass., at the home of his sister, Mrs. Adre A. Southwick, according to advices received last night at Washington University.

Prof. Snow retired in 1912, when he was awarded a Carnegie pension. He suffered a stroke of paralysis last October and had been in bed since. His wife was at his bedside when he died.

Born at Hyannis, Mass., Aug. 17, 1842, he was educated at Phillips Exeter Academy and Harvard University, graduating in 1865. He became a member of the faculty of Washington University in 1870, and in 1905 received the degree of LL. D. at Washington. His career as an educator was started as a submaster in the high school at Worcester, Mass.

30,000 YARDS OF BUNTING TO DRAPE COLISEUM INSIDE

Pillars and Ceiling Will Be Covered With White to Aid Light Reflection.

A visitor to the Coliseum today would never suspect that it is the building which within two weeks is to house the Democratic national convention. The Fraternity of Operative Millers opened a convention there, which will continue until Saturday night, and hundreds of workmen were installing the latest milling machinery and various milling devices.

At the office of Frank M. Robinson, manager of the building, it was asserted that despite the present seeming confusion and the quick work which will be required because of the occupancy of the building this week by the millers, a spotlessly white building will be turned over to the Democratic delegates.

Will Be Cleaned Thoroughly.

The company which whitened the walls and cement floors of the Coliseum last week by a spraying process agreed today to see that all signs of the spraying were removed from the chairs. Twenty scrubwomen began a preliminary campaign against the dirt upon the floors and chairs, but 100 will be put at work next Monday.

Workmen today completed a tunnel through the north balcony wall of the Coliseum which will provide a private entrance to the press sections from beneath the platform to be erected. The platform is being built in sections in the corridors of the Coliseum and the builder asserts that it can be put into place within a few hours after the hall is vacated.

Edward C. Dillman, in charge of the decorating of the Coliseum for the convention, said that he was preparing all his material, but could do nothing until the builders complete a great skylight, 50x120 feet, in the roof.

Permanent Skylight.

The skylight will remain a permanent part of the building and it is believed that it will make the use of the Coliseum possible for meetings in the daytime without the use of artificial light.

The ceiling of the Coliseum is to be covered entirely with white bunting, with the exception of a fan effect of American flags in the center, about 30,000 yards of bunting will be used. The columns throughout the building will be draped in white. American flags will be used along the rail of the second balcony, while upon the pillars at the first gallery there will be group pictures of the Democratic Presidents.

NATIONAL MEETING OF GERMANS DECLARES LOYALTY TO U. S.

"Creed" Considered at Chicago Says Americanism of German-Americans Is "Unhyphenated."

CHICAGO, May 29.—Loyalty to the United States was declared yesterday at a representative gathering of Germans from all over the country. A "creed" was submitted by the German-American Newspaper Publishers' Association, in which it was asserted that Germans might be hyphenated Americans, but their Americanism is "unhyphenated." The "creed" presented at the meeting will be acted on at another meeting to be held today. Some of the things which the tentative creed advocated were:

An adequate preparedness based on patriotism; American ships for foreign commerce; maintenance of the Panama Canal free to American ships; insistence by Americans on the freedom of the seas.

The meeting was presided over by J. B. Meyer, a Philadelphia manufacturer, and the majority of the representatives in attendance are here to attend the Republican convention. It is the intention to form in Chicago a central body, to keep in touch with all German-American organizations in the country, to guide them on questions in which they are interested.

AUTO RUNS INTO TWO COUPLES

Four Waiting for Car Knocked Down; Two Hurt.

Max Wagner of 3719 Cote Brilliante avenue was charged with carelessness after his automobile ran down two young men and two girls at Gravois and Milentz avenue in the heavy rainfall at 1 o'clock yesterday morning. The two couples were waiting for a street car when Wagner's machine bore down upon them.

Albert Carsten of 3507 Wisconsin avenue was injured about the scalp, and Miss Hilda Harkey, 3341 Indiana avenue, was cut on the right leg. John Koerner of 3541 Miami street and Miss Minnie Meyer, 3610 South Broadway, were knocked down, but were not hurt, although Miss Meyer fainted.

TWO MOTOR CYCLISTS INJURED

Louis Hoffman of 3306 South Jefferson avenue was knocked from his motor cycle by an automobile driven by William Doerge, 4532 Itaska avenue, at Michigan avenue and Haven street, last night. His right leg was fractured.

Andrew W. Ashinger of 3463 Potomac street was bruised about the body when his motor cycle collided with the automobile of Rodowe Absken, director of recreation of the park department, at Nebraska avenue and Potomac street, yesterday afternoon.

Man Injured by Street Car.
William O'Neal, 26 years old, living at Sarah street and Laclede avenue, was knocked down by a Vandeventer car when crossing Vandeventer avenue at Hunt avenue last night. He was taken to the city hospital, where it was found that his left shoulder was dislocated and he was cut on the face.

PASTOR CRITICISES RACQUET CLUB FOR BASEBALL POOL

Police Raid Craps Games, but Never Fashionable Clubs, Dr. Woodrow Says in Sermon.

The Racquet Club baseball pool, of which the Post-Dispatch told at the opening of the present baseball season, was the subject of unfavorable comment by the Rev. Dr. S. H. Woodrow in his sermon at Pilgrim Congregational Church yesterday morning.

"We sometimes hear of a police raid on negroes playing craps, or Chinamen playing fantan," Dr. Woodrow remarked. "But do we ever hear of a raid on our fashionable clubs, to stop the gambling that goes on there? The police have done something to interfere with the selling of baseball pools. But not long ago I read of pools for large amounts being sold at a leading club, and the names of the purchasers were printed. I heard of no arrests."

As told in the Post-Dispatch, the buyers in the Racquet Club baseball pool were Phil DeC. Ball, George H. Williams, D. R. Francis Jr., A. A. Busch, T. T. Anderson, Drummond Jones, Walter Orthwein, M. Hodgman, J. C. Roberts, E. G. Burkham and Sidney Bixby. These and other bidders 8? in all, paid $10 each for the privilege of bidding, and the buyers, in addition paid purchase prices ranging from $225 paid for the Cincinnati Nationals by Bixby, to $850, paid by Williams for the Boston Americans. The winner in the American League end of the pool, at the end of the season, will get $2665, and the winner in the National League pool $2397.50.

MAN ELECTROCUTED IN FACTORY

Albanian Loses Life When Thumb Touches Switchboard.

Raykip Mustafa, 2235 South Second street, an Albanian, was instantly killed at 10 o'clock last night when, in attempting to turn off the current from a fair of electric clippers in the plant of the St. Louis Screw Co., 6900 North Broadway, he put his thumb against the metal part of the switchboard. Daniel Peso, foreman at the plant, said a current of 440 volts was passing through the wire.

MRS. HOWARD GOULD WINS FIGHT FOR DOWER RIGHT

Husband, From Whom She Is Separated, and George Gould Had Sold Property Under Foreclosure.

NEW YORK, May 29.—Mrs. Howard Gould is entitled to one-third of the proceeds from property in Fifth avenue sold under foreclosure proceedings which she alleged were instituted by her husband and his brother, George J. Gould, to deprive her of her dower right in the property.

Mr. and Mrs. Gould were legally separated in September, 1909. She received $3000 a month alimony and also claimed a one-third interest in the real estate. Because her husband failed to pay one month's interest on a tax lien held by George Gould, the latter began foreclosure proceedings.

The referee reports that after paying all charges against the real estate there remains $421,454, to one-third of which Mrs. Gould is entitled.

War Sends Rain Insurance Up.

NEW YORK, May 29.—The war has had a marked effect on such an apparently unrelated matter as rain insurance in New York City. An organization which will give a musical festival Sunday afternoon at the Polo Grounds cabled to Lloyd's in London, asking the price of a $10,000 policy insuring it against loss by rain on that day. The reply was that the normal cost of such a policy was five per cent, but that "under existing conditions of military stress, it undoubtedly would be far beyond this sum."

SCHOOLBOYS MAKE $34 IN TWO WEEKS KILLING FLIES

Clayton Pupils Get 10 Cents a Hundred and Offer Holds Until July.

In the last two weeks, boys of the Clayton School district have earned $34 killing flies at 10 cents a hundred. The girls haven't brought in any dead flies, although the offer is open to them as well as to the boys.

The money is being paid by Thomas A. Skinker, lawyer and banker, and the offer is good until July 1. The children take the flies to school, where they are counted by the janitors. The school superintendent then issues certificates which the children cash. The $34 he has paid out represents 34,000 dead flies.

SUCCESSOR TO DR. NICCOLLS

Church Votes to Extend Call to Pastor in Allegheny, Pa.

The Rev. John William MacIvor, a Canadian of Scotch ancestry, now pastor of the Watson Presbyterian Church in Allegheny, Pa., is expected to become the pastor of the Second Presbyterian Church, succeeding the late Rev. Dr. S. J. Niccolls. The church voted unanimously, yesterday, to call him.

He preached two sermons to the congregation recently, and his work in Allegheny, a suburb of Pittsburg, was investigated by Leighton Shields, in behalf of the congregation. He has been pastor there since his graduation from McCormick Theological Seminary, Chicago, in 1903. He is 35 years old and has a wife and daughter.

T. R. IN CHICAGO 4 HOURS TODAY ON WAY TO MISSOURI

KANSAS CITY TOMORROW

Will Address G. A. R. Posts and United Confederate Veterans There.

NEW YORK, May 29.—Col. Roosevelt, before leaving this city yesterday on a speech making trip that will take him to Chicago, Kansas City and St. Louis, made public two letters in which he referred to the proposal to confer an officer's rank on a certain number of engineers participating yearly in the naval training cruises for civilians as "purely a political scheme, recommended by Mr. Daniels—a new form of the pork barrel which will supply the politicians with 30 additional and yearly plums for the next 10 years to come."

One letter was addressed to Henry Reuterdahl and the other to Thomas W. Slocum, chairman of the New York committee which is obtaining enlistments for the proposed cruises.

Letter to Reuterdahl.

Commenting on the naval appropriation bill, which contains the feature to which he objects, Col. Roosevelt, in his letter to Reuterdahl, says:

"It is well known that the scheme has been framed without consultation with the navy itself. There have been no hearings. The question has not been referred to the general board of the war college—or any board of competent officers. The chief of the Bureau of Steam Engineering, Admiral Griffin, is on record against it."

Col. Roosevelt, in his letter to Mr. Slocum, approves of the training cruises for civilians, however, and says:

"I believe it is a supreme patriotic duty for men who have had experience on the sea and who know our coast, and for those who have technical and mechanical training of use on naval ships, to go on the cruise and do their part in the cause of preparedness."

Colonel in Chicago Today.

Col. Roosevelt will arrive in Chicago this afternoon. He will remain there about four hours and then go to Kansas City, where he will address the Grand Army of the Republic and the United Confederate Veterans Tuesday evening. He will speak in St. Louis Wednesday and, returning East, will deliver an address in Newark, N. J., Thursday evening before proceeding to his home at Oyster Bay.

SON OF FORMER ST. LOUISAN IS DROWNED IN THE MERAMEC

J. B. Williams' Father Is Mayor of Pacific, Mo.—His Brother Drowned Two Years Ago.

The body of Joseph B. Williams, 19 years old, son of Mayor Henry Williams of Pacific, who was drowned yesterday afternoon, while swimming in the Meramec River, had not been recovered today and the search was being continued.

Williams and companions had gone to the Business Men's Recreation Club, half a mile east of Pacific. Williams was swimming with Horace Mannion, 17 years old, when both youths attempted to swim across the river, which is about 60 feet wide at that point. Mannion crossed successfully, but as he reached the bank he heard Williams calling for help. He went to his companion's aid, but Williams struggled so violently that Mannion could not help and had to break away from him to save his own life. Williams was carried under.

The young man was employed in his father's printing shop. The Williams family formerly lived in St. Louis. Another son was drowned about two years ago while swimming in an old quarry in South St. Louis.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., May 29.—Fire early today in the business district at Capitol avenue and Main street, destroyed a dry goods store and motion picture theater. The loss was estimated at $50,000.

TWO WOMEN, FIVE MEN TAKEN IN RAIDS; LIQUOR IS SEIZED

Police Are Active in Effort to Hold Down the Sunday Lid.

In their efforts to hold down the Sunday liquor lid, the police yesterday arrested two women and five men and confiscated a quantity of beer and whisky.

Mrs. Maggie Wing, who conducts a rooming house at 2647 Olive street, and one of her roomers, Mrs. Myrtle Smith, were arrested. Five empty beer cases, 32 bottles of beer and a quart of whisky found in the kitchen were seized as evidence.

Steve Olah, who has a saloon at 526 South Vandeventer avenue, and three of his guests were arrested in a room behind the saloon, where the police found a washtub filled with iced beer.

Charles Benthien, proprietor of a dramshop at 7218 Michigan avenue, was arrested after patrolmen reported seeing his bartender serving drinks to several men in a room adjoining the saloon.

TWO WOMEN OVERCOME AT FIRE

Another Cuts Hand When Turning in Alarm.

Miss Louise Dierson, a nurse, stopping at the home of Mrs. Isabelle Moneur, 5429 Von Versen avenue, cut her hand when she attempted to turn in a alarm at the Moneur residence night. She thrust her hand through glass door of the alarm box.

Miss Virgil Maxey, another nurse, stopping at the Moneur home, and Mrs Moneur were overcome by smoke when fighting the fire, which was in the attic. The fire was caused by lightning.

DYNAMITE FOUND NEAR FACTORY

25 Sticks Said to Have Been Seen First in Church Yard.

A bundle containing 25 sticks of dynamite was found at noon yesterday in the alley behind the mattress factory of Casper Stahle, 1836 Morgan street, by Van St. James, a negro, living at 2610 Wash street. The police threw it into the river.

William Seavers, another negro, of 1810 Linden street, told the police that he saw the dynamite at 6 a. m. in the yard behind the St. Nicholas Catholic Church, Nineteenth street and Lucas avenue.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

No Place for Incurables.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

"He that giveth to the poor shall not lack."—Proverbs.

People of St. Louis! The very poorest of the poor—the most needy of earth's needy ones, are crying a desperate cry to you for help—their cause has been forgotten! St. Louis has no help, no hope and no home for her incurably ill.

I want to bring before you just one, out of many, desperate, terrible cases which ought to awaken in every heart a wish to help.

As a social worker I have been laboring with the hospital organizations of your city for the care of a penniless orphan girl. She is afflicted with the terrible disease arthritis. The hospitals (and she has been in seven in 10 months) have been considerate and kind, but they have no room, and no time, and no wish to care for incurable patients.

In the case of little Margaret there is but one alternative now—the poor house—and you cannot condemn a young girl to spend long years in a city almshouse.

The public as a whole knows nothing of the humiliating hardships which are heaped upon our unfortunate little brothers and sisters—the incurables.

This appeal is to every mother and father who has lost an invalid child; to every man and woman who has buried a mother; to all who have "loved and lost" to come forward today and help establish, here in St. Louis, a "blessed" memorial to their loved ones.

"Commit thy way unto the Lord; trust also in Him, and He shall bring it to pass."—Psalms 37:5.

"Bring it to pass," dear Lord. Move the hearts of Thy children and bid them to give to their city for the care of Thy little ones a home for incurables!

MISS D. E. NIRDLINGER,
President, Josephine House.

Troubles of the Chauffeur.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

I cannot understand how it is when the American people are supposed to be for the under dog at all times they are so much against the automobile driver. Every letter I read in the column devoted to the people's letters is against them. I would like to answer a few of the charges.

Why is it a person driving an auto at night, having three lights, which can be seen at least 200 feet away, is blamed if he runs in to a man wearing black crossing a dark street? Which makes the most noise; is it easier for the man to see the auto or the driver to see the man? Which is the harder to stop, a machine or a man to stop his feet?

Why is it an automobilist is supposed to watch the street, yet he is blamed if someone steps off the curb into his road so close he cannot stop?

Why don't people move when they hear an auto and see one approaching?

Do people think that because one drives an auto he has no nerves?

Why is it people will always try to beat an auto or street car across the street? Is a second so valuable? How many slip?

Do they never think we may run into some one else or another vehicle while we are watching those who must beat us across the street?

FAIR PLAY.

The Joplin Mine District.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

Reading the report of the speech of Elizabeth Gurley Flynn in tonight's paper, I was somewhat dismayed at some of the statements, but when I came to her remarks on her visit to the Joplin lead and zinc district I was appalled and angry at such gross misrepresentation.

Would you call the workers downtrodden when they pay $2.50 per day for a common shoveler and other wages to $5 a day for unskilled labor? That is the present scale. And if a laborer is attracted there by the present boom and good wages and, finding houses scarce and rent high, chooses to build a shack of tar paper or boards on free mining ground, it is no handship; merely an economy and no blame to his employer. And if, lacking the city water in his temporary shack, he chooses to buy fresh spring water—better than the city water—delivered at his door for 10 cents a barrel, that is considered a convenience. I have spent most of my life in the district and have not found the laborers, as a class, living in "squalor, poverty and misery." As for the statement that the average life of the workmen is five years, it is ridiculous, absurd and altogether untrue.

It seems to me that such irrational, sweeping misstatements do more harm than good to the cause they are intended to propagate.

MARJORIE O'NEILL BAUERSFELD.

THE BASIS OF PEACE.

President Wilson's speech to the League to Enforce Peace is the most important and fruitful contribution to the peace discussion that has yet been offered.

The President offered peace mediation between the European belligerents whenever they are ready, but he went beyond this and outlined what he thought ought to be the fundamental things to be accomplished in order to lay the foundation of permanent peace and of amity and co-operation of mankind among nations. He laid a broad basis for a league of nations to enforce arbitration, protect the rights of small nations and secure the freedom of the seas. The President suggested these three fundamental things:

1. That every people has a right to choose the sovereignty under which they shall live. Like other nations, we have ourselves no doubt once and again offended against that principle when for a little while controlled by selfish passion, as our franker historians have been honorable enough to admit; but it has become more and more our rule of life and action;
2. That the small states of the world have a right to enjoy the same respect for their sovereignty and for their territorial integrity that great and powerful nations expect and insist upon. And,
3. That the world has a right to be free from every disturbance of its peace that has its origin in aggression and disregard of the rights of peoples and nations.

Referring to mediation in the present war and affirming the willingness of the United States "to become a partner in any feasible association of nations formed in order to realize these objects," the President said he thought the American people would wish their Government to move along the following lines:

1. Such a settlement with regard to their own immediate interests as the belligerents may agree upon. We have nothing material of any kind to ask for ourselves and are quite aware that we are in no sense or degree parties to the present quarrel. Our interest is only in peace and its future guarantees.
2. A universal association of the nations to maintain the inviolate security of the highway of the seas for the common and unhindered use of all the nations of the world and to prevent any war begun either contrary to treaty covenants or without warning and full submission of the cause to the opinion of the world—a virtual guarantee of territorial integrity and political independence.

The protest of the British press against interference at present, coupled with the statement of Russian Foreign Minister Sazanoff that the entente Powers are closer linked together and are prepared to push the war to final victory, checks any hope of early peace. In view of Von Bethmann-Holweg's interview, it is improbable that Germany will consent now to mediation on the lines suggested by Mr. Wilson, but the address will do good. It puts the United States in an excellent position in which undoubtedly other neutral nations will join; it stimulates thought and discussion of peace and lays a broad foundation for international co-operation in the interest of peace and justice after the war.

The President appeals to reason and civilization against the horrors of war and national greed and aggression that lead to war. He has sounded a high note in international councils. He has foreshadowed the federation of nations for progress. His voice may be smothered awhile in the clash of war and the turmoil of passions, but the word will survive. The time will come—soon, we hope—when the nations will understand and will help to usher in a new epoch in history.

ST. LOUIS' IRON INDUSTRY.

The American Iron and Steel Institute, whose membership includes 2000 of the ironmasters of the country and which has a world-wide membership, will hold its next meeting in this city. The organization can hardly be imagined as selecting for its convention seat a commercial city whose iron and steel industry is negligible. The decision to come here may, in fact, be assumed to be in recognition of the large place which the St. Louis industrial district occupies in this industry.

Whether this assumption is correct or not, the district undeniably occupies such a place and its importance is rapidly growing. It consumes a tremendous amount of iron products in a partly manufactured state and is soon to resume the production of basic iron in its own furnaces.

Speed the mails, Uncle Samuel; especially speed the mails of Missouri. We have all the facilities.

THE LUXURY OF LAWING.

The Jones-Veeck horse case looms large in the jurisprudence of Godfrey Township, Madison County, Ill.

Jones and Veeck were Godfrey Township neighbors. They disputed over the ownership of two horses. Jones said they were his.

Jones got a writ of attachment and the Constable came and led the horses away. That was two years and three weeks ago and the Constable still has them. Jones and Veeck have lawed each other through the 'squire court and the Circuit Court and the Court of Appeals; the court costs and the keep of the animals amounts to more than $700 and the total is increasing at the rate of a dollar a day.

The Court of Appeals has decided that the horses belong to Veeck and that Jones had no right to attach them two years and three weeks ago. So Jones' bondsmen have been notified to pay the costs. If they pay, Veeck can get his horses from the Constable. If they do not pay the horses will be sold for the satisfaction of the costs. That looks like an easy way out for the bondsmen. But wait a minute. Remember that the horses belong to Veeck. If they are sold to satisfy Jones' costs, Veeck will not have the horses which the court says are his. So he will proceed against the bondsmen of Jones for the value of his horses.

Veeck, undeterred by what happened to Jones from going to law, has gone to law against Jones for the loss of the horses' services for two years and three weeks.

Lawing is a costly luxury.

THE MOENTMANN PRECEDENT.

With regard to the settlement, for $21,000, of Marie Moentmann's damage suit for the loss of her arms in a bag factory, a reader asks "what amount of compensation this poor girl or her parents would have received, under the Illinois or New York law, or under the Phillips law had it been adopted in Missouri?" He speaks for himself and "some of my fellow laborers."

The Marie Moentmann case will undoubtedly be much in the minds of representatives of the workers, in the discussion of a compensation law to be introduced at the next legislative session. For the information of all concerned, this young woman would have received, under the Illinois law, a weekly sum equal to one-half her earnings (she earned about $6 a week) until payments equaled a death benefit, which is a maximum of $3500. After that, she would be paid not less than $10 a month during life. Under the New York law she would have received her full wages for life. According to life insurance tables, her life expectancy is 45 years, which would make the estimated total she might receive $12,440. Under the proposed Phillips law, the utmost she would have received would have been $2400.

Representatives of the workers will do well to remember that, owing to unusual conditions and great publicity, Miss Moentmann's case was settled much more promptly and much more to her benefit than the average damage suit. It can hardly be taken as a precedent in considering a fair compensation law. The average amount received by litigants who win is far below her settlement, and many just claims are defeated after prolonged litigation.

On the other hand, as the Post-Dispatch has pointed out, this case has sunk deeply into the public memory and aroused public sentiment in behalf of fair dealing towards injured workers. It may influence juries, and it will certainly do so, to the disadvantage of employers, if a good compensation law is defeated by them at the next legislative session.

It will be to the interest of both employers and employes to agree upon and pass such a law.

"THE WYOMING IDEA."

While we have been discussing the Swiss idea and the Australian idea, we have had right at home the Wyoming idea, well worthy of study and imitation. It is a plan of physical and military training introduced into the public schools. It organizes the boys into competitive cadet units or corps, under a system for awarding prizes and recognition in other forms for proficiency. Instruction is given in part during school hours and pupils receive credits for their cadet standing. Girls are also given an auxiliary part. The War Department warmly approves the plan, but adds that "trained youth cannot take the place of trained manhood; youths make imitation, not real soldiers."

With national co-ordination and utilization of the material, trained youths may be speedily converted into effective defenders.

CARE OF INCURABLES.

"No room, no time and no wish to care for incurable patients," is what a well-known social worker says of the hospitals of St. Louis. She is interested in a penniless girl who is incurably afflicted. And she says that the hospital managers have been kind and considerate in their temporary treatment of this unfortunate girl, but that conditions make it impossible for them to care for her permanently. Her letter is printed on this page.

It will be admitted, on consideration, that the test of a Christian civilization is its treatment of its most unfortunate members. That being the case, our neglect of incurable persons—the fact that we make no arrangements for their permanent care—shows that we are not yet in a condition to meet that test. A civilized community, if the word means anything, is but a family on a large scale. And what would be thought of a family which showed the most tender care for such of its members as could be cured of ailments, but cast out of the common home those for whom doctors and nurses could promise no cure?

Missouri and St. Louis need special homes for incurables. Other states and cities have such institutions. Miss Nirdlinger's eloquent appeal should arouse the public to take steps for the establishment of a home for the incurably ill.

GALLIENI, SAVIOR OF PARIS.

Gen. Joseph S. Gallieni, one of the brilliant leaders whose names have been thrown on an imperishable background by the war, died at 67 a few days after his late antagonist, Von Kluck, had celebrated his 70th birthday in renewed health and while other German generals as old or older have a promise of further years of usefulness.

Just how decisive the part was Gallieni played in the battle of the Marne cannot be accurately determined until later. His, however, was not only a highly spectacular movement, but one easily understood by the nonprofessional mind, and its consequences are as likely to be exaggerated in the future as in the present.

Assigned to the defense of Paris and having pledged that his mission would be accomplished, he did not wait for the enemy to appear before the works he had laboriously strengthened. Stripping the capital, from which the government had already fled, of 50,000 of its defenders, he executed a startling coup by sending them far afield in motor vehicles to fall on Von Kluck's right flank. What he did was at least an important factor in the victory of the Marne and he will always be known as the savior of Paris, the man specifically credited with averting the fate of 1870-71.

The exceptional group of commanders of the first ability developed in the armies of France is in remarkable contrast with the commanders of France's, British ally. Gallieni, Joffre, Foch, Petain, Nivelle and half a dozen others are assets of enormous value to France, while French on the Western line, Hamilton at Gallipoli, Townshend in Mesopotamia have been heavy liabilities for England.

LOVE.

A SHIFTLESS ecstacy, a throb of joy,
Mad thought, and pain born of the same,
When the hot womb of life did ever toy
With fires which had no lasting flame;
And the first parents, Eve and Adam, meant
For bliss, were frozen on the firmament!

Looking down, God saw, and felt, their fruitless
Waste of beauties meant for them;
Calling his angels from their lovers' kiss
He bade them find a fagot, which brought him,
He made a fire from which incense poured up,
The parents warm in love and honey cup.

Long years it burned steadily and it chanced
The young stole there to warm their blood;
Whoever found its perfumed flame, entranced,
Lived on forever and brought wood
From Youth's accesses and sweet senses, too,
And fed the fire, warm flame—eternally blue!

But Fate had seen! In embers of that fire
We two found death—so ripe to love—
No warmth! No warmth! Out, out the fire!
(God, how the embers poured incense above!)
Not so! I saw two lovers, they were warm,
Kissing each other, hiding from a storm.

It is ourselves, perhaps, and blood is cold
Because we wandered from the fire—
The curse of jingling, gleamisg yellow gold
Hath driven Love from his empire—
Thus it is that thou art pale, I worn out,
That you are rich, I poor—the fire burned out!

FINE PIECE OF FINANCIAL STRATEGY.

From the Cass County (Mo.) Leader.

Two lawyers who became offensively personal in the Daviess county circuit court were fined five dollars each, and it is intimated that each tried to borrow the money from the court to pay the fines. The court doubtless declined to make the loans, feeling that the state could better afford to lose the ten dollars.

The Vermont delegation to the Chicago convention has been instructed for Hughes. Vermont will be recalled—but probably it wouldn't be.

From the Cass County (Mo.) Leader.

The Board of Equalization of Randolph county found that $220,000 in cash on hand and in the hands of 160 taxpaying citizens had in some manner failed to find its way to the assessor's book. The taxpayers possibly did not want to flaunt their wealth before the eyes of their less wealthy neighbors.

NOT MUCH DIFFERENCE BETWEEN BEING AT THE FRONT OR THE BACK.

From the Cass County (Mo.) Leader.

The strange "gun cotton" rheumatism, which has developed among employees of munition plants since the European war began, has been contracted by R. A. Hamilton, who was at the Goodlander hotel, in Ft. Scott, last week. Mr. Hamilton, a few days ago, gave up his position at the DuPont plant at Hopewell, Virginia, and was on his way to Chanute, to make a visit with relatives, when he was attacked on the train with the disease. This is a new ailment and is puzzling scientists, although it is believed that it is caused by the men inhaling the fumes of sulphuric acid. It causes severe stiffness and pains in the joints, much like common rheumatism. Mr. Hamilton was one of those employed in the handling of gun cotton and says the plant is like a prison. Each employe is numbered and is photographed with this number on a placard on his chest, so that it shows in the picture. Every entrance and exit has a guard and the employe must show his photograph and number before he can either leave the plant or enter it.

EXPRESSION OF PREFERENCE.

Who can see the open road,
Who grants the right to all mankind
To shoulder their chosen load—
Who wanders out on life's highway
Doing the best he can—
And leaves their lives to other men—
Egad! Sir, he's a man.

BRITONS AT SEA.

From the London Mail.

It has been said of Hakluyt's "Voyages," which enshrine the story of the seamen of the Elizabethan day, that it is the real epic of our race, but these men of our modern merchant service are writing in their acts a new and grander version. Yet it is an epic which is in peril of being lost. The deeds of our glorious navy are embalmed in the book of history and are blazoned forth in official reports. The deeds of the merchant service and the fishermen, who now man so large a number of vessels engaged in the patrol of the murder-haunted seas and in the deadly business of mine-sweeping and submarine catching, have no eager chronicler and are too often lost in obscurity. Not seldom for military reasons the veil of secrecy cannot be lifted, and thus with the ravages of time and death many of the very bravest feats may be forever forgotten.

It is only now and again, as it were from a distant land, that some faint echo of these men's valor reaches the ears of their countrymen. We know that they have carried on the sea business of Great Britain throughout the war, and that they have very loyally and faithfully dedicated themselves to the protection of the lives of the women and children not only of England, but also of all the allies, and to their sustenance by the safe conveyance from oversea of every form of supply. A little cowardice on their part would have deranged the whole machinery, and it was such cowardice that the Germans sought to instil by all their apparatus of carefully planned savagery and murder. But there has been no cowardice. In the manifold defensive actions which have now been fought between British merchantmen and well-armed German submarines, we hear of no British seaman turning tail. Their spirit has been the spirit of the heroes of the Clan McTavish, and when they succumbed in the unequal fight—

Death from the sea;
They quaffed this loving cup,
England to thee.

Courage, so noble, so disinterested, so altogether beyond the reach of human recompense and reward, seems yet to merit some signal honor from the King and country. If, for these men there is no Westminster Abbey at the last, let us at least know them and be able to take off our hats to them in their life.

ANSWERS TO QUERIES

HEALTH HINTS.

SUFFERER.—Granulated eyelids: Apply a paste made by rubbing a piece of alum into the white of egg until a curd is formed. This to be applied to the lids at night, bandaging the eyes with a soft cloth. In the morning, wash off with soap and water or clear water. Repeat application nightly until cured.

A. M. B.—Dizziness may be caused by stomach or constipation. Be careful in diet and keep bowels open. Sleep where ventilation is good.

HOUSEHOLD HELPS.

G. M. B.—Whitewashed wall to be papered should be thoroughly wet with strong vinegar.

SUB.—Government recommends this for ants: Boil together water and sugar and borax, making a syrup. Set in shallow dishes where ants can get at it. They will eat and leave. (Ants may come in grocery baskets.)

B. M.—Tuna Fish Salad: One large can tuna fish, 12 medium sweet pickles, 12 hard-boiled eggs, 2 bunches of celery. Cut in small pieces and mix well with mayonnaise dressing, into which has been stirred 1 cup whipped cream. Just before mixing slice 1 or 2 eggs and spread on top of salad. Garnish with parsley.—Republic.

LAW POINTS.

H. J. H.—Illinois prohibits raffles.

D. G.—10 per cent of married street railway conductor's wages may be garnished.

NANCY.—Full, free information as to naturalization is given in room 418, Custom House, 9th and Olive.

N. R.—The remarks made about the married couple are in a sense of a slanderous nature. See the Prosecuting Attorney.

C. L. H.—Claim now outlawed; at any rate, the release given is binding and it is not necessary that it be acknowledged before a notary.

DESPERATE.—It is sad, indeed, when father and mother are both drunkards. See free legal aid bureau and Prosecuting Attorney, both in Municipal Courts Building, 14th and Market. It is a misdemeanor for a barkeeper to sell a drink to a man who is drunk. Liquor seller selling to habitual drunkard, after having been notified by wife, father, mother, brother, sister, child or guardian of such persons, forfeits for every offense $50 to $500 and license.

CASE.—A portion of police regulation of traffic is not based on ordinance or statute, but was compiled by the Police and Street Departments after several conferences with representatives of the Business Men's League, Retail Dealers' Association, Team Owners' Association and other city organizations with a view that citizens might co-operate in an effort to reduce to a minimum the accidents and embarrassments due to reckless driving. The regulations may at times bring hardship or inconvenience to a few, but will be of greatest benefit to all.

THANKS.—Illinois marriages may be celebrated by regularly ordained minister in regular standing in the church or society to which he belongs, by a Judge of any court of record, by a Justice of the Peace, by any superintendent of any public institution for the education of the deaf and dumb in Illinois, or if the parties or either of them is a member of the religious society known as Friends or Quakers, they may lawfully be married by making known their intentions to marry to a standing committee of any official meeting at least one week before such marriage is consummated, and by appearing in a public meeting or private gathering before official witnesses of said body, with a certificate duly setting forth the names and residence of each contracting party and of the parents of each if living, which said certificate shall be signed by contracting parties and official witnesses and shall publicly be read by one of the witnessing parties and afterwards duly recorded upon the records of an organized meeting of said society.

D. F. G.—Illinois compensation law: (a) If the employe leaves any widow, child or children whom he was under legal obligation to support at the time of his injury, a sum equal to four times the average annual earnings of the employe, but not less in any event than $1500 and not more in any event than $3500. Any compensation payments other than necessary medical, surgical or hospital fees or services shall be deducted in ascertaining the amount payable on death. (b) If no amount is payable under paragraph (a) of this section and the employe leaves any widow, child, parent, grandparent or other lineal heir, to whose support he had contributed within four years previous to the time of his injury, a sum equal to four times the average annual earnings of the employe, but not less in any event than $1500 and not more in any event than $3500. Any compensation payments other than necessary medical, surgical or hospital fees or services shall be deducted in ascertaining the amount payable on death. (c) If no amount is payable under paragraph (a) or (b) of this section and the employe leaves collateral heirs dependent at the time of the injury to the employe upon his earnings, such a percentage of the sum provided in paragraph (a) of this section as the average annual contributions which the deceased made to the support of such collateral dependent heirs during the two years preceding the injury bears to his earnings during such two years. (d) If no amount is payable under paragraph (a) or (b) or (c) of this section, a sum not to exceed $150 for burial expenses.

MISCELLANEOUS.

A. L. G.—Star close to Arcturus, Vega.

JEAN.—You may wear sport skirt anywhere in summer.

HAROLD.—Say "I wish I were," not "I wish I was."

ANXIOUS.—In "the shoes look large," large is part of the predicate.

N. W. H.—University of Colorado, Boulder. President, Livingston Farrand.

E. W. H.—Trainmaster employs brakeman; master mechanic, foreman; baggage master, baggageman.

OBNOXIOUS.—If you speak at a tin wedding you may say something of the usefulness of tin. Point out that real tin, like real love, never rusts. Suggest that young couples should not begin housekeeping without a respectable deposit of "tin" in the savings bank. Don't speak long. Don't weary the company.

JOHANNIDER.—A moving picture operator says: To be operator a man must at least work as an assistant about nine months, and then he can't put up a machine. He can't get a job unless he has about nine months' experience, because they won't trust him, and he must have six months' experience before he can join the union. He must be 21 before he can join. Fee to join, $35.

B. & O. AGT.—Published in 1911: Jerseyville has a skunk farm. Collie E. Wedding, proprietor, is blessed with a keen sense of smell. He has developed remarkable genius in capturing the animals. He uses dogs in effecting the captures. The skunk is run in the open, surrounded and held by the dogs, who are immune to any discomfort that might attend such forcible action, until Wedding appears on the scene. By a deft twitch of the skunk's tail the animal is placed in a bag and thence carried to the skunk corral in Wedding's barn, which stands well in the open, at a distance from the resident section of Jerseyville. Wedding cannot describe the process of obtaining a fair hold of the skunk's tail, but he has a fine collection of animals to substantiate his claims that they can be taken alive. In Wedding's collection are pure blacks, hides worth $2.50; short stripes, hides worth $2.50, and the long-stripe variety, hides worth $7. Another skunk farm is reported at Clarence, Mo.

"Marse Chan"

A Story of Virginia and the Civil War.

(In our generation, Decoration day and the Memorial days of the Southern States have become wholly gracious days of remembrance, with nothing left of rancor and only the proud memory of loyalty, North and South. It is in this spirit that "Marse Chan" was written by Thomas Nelson Page of Virginia.)

IT was in those golden days of old Virginia, when time was as nothing to the owners of the land, and they lived their spacious lives in feudal nobility, not dreaming (nor caring if they dreamed it) that the outer world was marching into a new day, less stately, less romantic, but invincible.

In one of the richest and fairest parts of that old Virginia lay the adjoining plantations of the Chamberlins and Channings. Col. Chamberlin, a widower, had as only child a daughter, Anne. The Channings had an only son. It was as natural to both families to expect that the two plantations some day should become one, as it was that the stream between them should run downhill.

Young Master Channing, or "Marse Chan," as the worshiping negroes called him, became Miss Anne's squire from the time when he could walk. He comforted little Anne on her first day in school, and he thrashed other young persons who displeased her. One day when his father gave him a pony, he rode proudly to school in the morning and returned home walking. "She liked him," he told his father.

"Yes?" laughed old Master Channing. "I suppose you've already given yourself to her, and the next thing I know you'll be giving her my plantation and all my negroes."

So, in that golden time, the two grew up strong and beautiful and with a pride that had in it something half-regal. It became hard to say whether Marse Chan lived at home or at Col. Chamberlin's, and the negroes chuckled and pictured the grand feasting there would be when the wedding day arrived.

But the golden hour hand that marked the golden time was trembling. The golden time was approaching the hour when at a stroke all the calm splendor, all the loveliness and all the soft delights of the cavalier race were to vanish away in blood, tears and misery.

Col. Chamberlin was a Democrat and the two Channings were Whigs. When all the South was talking war, Col. Chamberlin was fiercely for it, and spoke with headlong temper whenever he met others. The Channings were as strongly against it, and Marse Chan lost no opportunity for making addresses in all the country around.

One day he and Col. Chamberlin spoke at the same place and had a hot debate, of which the Colonel did not have the better. Quite beside himself, he referred to Marse Chan's father as an abolitionist and traitor, and added other words, bitter as the bitter passions of the time.

"Nothing but your gray hair protects you!" said Marse Chan at that.

"I am not too old, sir!" responded the Colonel savagely.

Marse Chan Goes to War
Followed by His Servant.

THAT night Marse Chan sat long with his father and mother, and when at last they said "good night," he held his mother in his arms and kissed her, again and again, till the wondering old lady thought that he intended never to let her go. Later he stole into his father's room and kissed him.

When he and the Colonel stood opposite to each other with pistols in hand next morning, Marse Chan's black servant saw the rising sun shine on his young master's face, and the loving negro thought that it looked holy. The young man waited till the Colonel fired. The ball grazed his head. Then he lifted his own weapon and discharged it into the air.

"I make you a present to your family, sir!" said Marse Chan.

The next time Marse Chan met Miss Anne she looked at him and passed him, as if she never had seen him in all her life.

Then the war came. Before Virginia seceded, Marse Chan was elected Captain of the troop that was formed in his neighborhood, but he refused. Virginia seceded, and he rode to Richmond and enlisted as a private.

The night before he departed to join the army he sent a note to Miss Anne to meet him at the gate of her father's garden. She did it, but as soon as he appeared she said: "I granted you the favor, because I wished to relieve myself of the obligation you placed me under when you made me a present of my father, whom you first insulted and then prevented from getting satisfaction."

Marse Chan stood perfectly silent for awhile. Then he told her that he had come to say "good-by." He spoke fast and breathlessly. He asked her if she would let it be as it was in old times.

Anne turned her head away and said: "I don't love you!"

Marse Chan went to war. No longer was he the smiling, happy cavalier that once had ridden through old Virginia's mellow fields. Silent and gloomy, he worked at the business of camp, and the only times when he smiled were the times when there was danger. Wherever it was hottest there he pressed forward most impetuously. Soon men said that in every charge of that Virginia troop Private Channing, and afterward Capt. Channing, rode always at the head.

It was as if Providence watched over the life that its owner held of such small account. He went through fighting on, fighting, and had never a wound until one day a letter came to him. The letter was from Anne. It told him that her father had forgiven him.

He called his faithful servant, who had been brought up with him and had followed him to war. With a face as if the Glory of God were shining on him Marse Chan said:

"Sam, we are going to win tomorrow's battle. Then I shall get a furlough and go home to be married; and I'm going home with a star on my collar. If I am wounded, carry me home, do you hear?"

Marse Chan Found Dead
After the Battle Ended.

THE trumpets blew "boots and saddles." Marse Chan rode at the head of his troop into a Hell where cannon and rifles and sabers were tearing men's souls from their bodies in red storm. The flag-bearer fell, and Marse Chan lifted it and bore it on, straight at a Federal battery.

When the battle was ended, they found him under the guns, the flag still in his hand.

His servant made a coffin and laid him in it, wrapped in the flag. So he took his young master home.

They carried him into the great house. The black man left his old master and mistress sitting by him, still and white. He rode to Colonel Chamberlin's place and presented himself before Miss Anne.

"Marse Chan, he done got his furlough," he said, sobbing * * *

A few years after the war, the stranger who passed through that once gracious country saw wild sassafras overgrowing the broad acres and gardens, the two great mansions staring blind and empty, and the far-spread barns and stables tottering to decay. Only in one spot was the hand of man visible still. It was the graveyard, where lay Marse Chan with his father and mother. But closer than they by his side lay Miss Anne.

If the stranger searched a bit, he might find a small hovel in which lived the two who kept the graves green—Marse Chan's servant and his wife Judy, who had been Miss Anne's slave.

Thomas Nelson Page has given the United States much of its best modern literature in the pre-eminently American form of the short story during the past 30 years. He is serving the United States now as Ambassador to Italy. "Marse Chan" was his first story. It was published in 1884 and attracted immediate attention. His stories of the South have done much to heal the wounds made by the Civil War.

The Three Squirrels

Sandman story of three little animal brothers who had a mishap while fishing in the river.

By Mrs. F. A. Walker.

BOBBY and Benny and Billy were three little squirrels, and they were brothers as well, but they quarreled a great deal, as some brothers do, you know, when they really are very fond of each other.

One day Benny and Bobby and Billy ran among the trees playing tag and picking up acorns, when Billy said: "Come along and let us go down to the river in the woods and fish."

"There are no fish there," said Benny. "What is the use of going?"

"Come along, Bobby," said Billy, "let the baby stay behind if he likes," and off they ran.

But Benny caught up to the others just as they reached the river.

Pretty soon Bobby was fishing from a stone right beside the river, when "splash" went a branch which Billy and Benny had cut from a tree, and the water went into Bobby's eyes.

This frightened him so that he dropped his fish-line, and when he tried to make a grab for it he lost his balance and over he went into the river.

Billy and Benny tried to catch Bobby by the tail, but over went Billy then, and Benny saw a piece of wood, which gave him an idea.

HE threw it into the water and poked it with a stick toward his brothers, who were splashing about and crying to Benny to save them.

Billy managed to get hold of the piece of wood and pull himself onto it, and then he helped Bobby on, and they were saved; but then instead of floating back to the bank, the little bark sailed right away and went down stream.

What would have happened to them I do not know, if they had not met Mme. Duck out sailing with her six ducklings.

"Why, Bobby and Billy Squirrel, does your mother know you are out sailing?" she asked.

"Please, Mme. Duck, we don't want to sail," said Billy; "we just can't help it."

Without much trouble Mme. Duck made the little bark sail back to the bank, and it didn't take Bobby and Billy a second to jump on the ground.

All this time Benny, who had run home and told his mother what had happened, was crying, because he thought his brothers were drowned.

MRS. SQUIRREL began to cry and Benny began to be sorry he had quarreled with Billy and Bobby so many times.

The sun was just setting when Bobby and Billy Squirrel reached home, wet and hungry, and Mrs. Squirrel was just closing the door for the night when she saw them.

"O, my poor children! Are you alive or have your ghosts come back?" she cried.

Bobby and Billy told her how Mme Duck helped them. "And do give us some supper, mother," said Bobby. "We are almost starved."

Benny Squirrel was very glad his brothers were not drowned, and while they were eating their supper he jumped out of his bed and said: "I am sorry I quarreled with you, because I didn't know how much I liked you both until I thought you were drowned."

"We should have been drowned if it hadn't been for you," said Bobby, and we are never going to quarrel with you any more, either."

CHINS AND CHARACTER.

THE teaching experience of Miss Margaret Lynn, associate professor of English at the University of Kansas, has destroyed her belief that character is indicated reliably by the chin. Miss Lynn has noticed that almost universally writers portray the weak-willed characters in their stories as having receding chins. Similarly the hero must have a square chin.

"One of the brightest students in my classes has a decidedly receding chin." Miss Lynn said in explaining why she had so little faith in the "facial map." She told of two brothers who attended the university. "The brother with the square chin departed from us after failing in an effort to carry only 10 hours of work. The other one, with supposedly weak facial characteristics, had much more determination and proved to be a good scholar."

The Wild Bird Fad.

THE growing love of wild birds among the people of this country is commented on in the last annual report of the United States Biological Survey. Everywhere efforts are being made to increase the number of birds and attract them to the vicinity of homes. This movement is said to be partly esthetic, but also partly due to a growing appreciation of the usefulness of birds as insect destroyers.

The report declares that "the increase of interest in wild birds throughout the United States during the past decade has been phenomenal, and organizations having for their chief object the care and protection of birds are numbered by hundreds, if not thousands."

A REMARKABLE STATEMENT

Mrs. Sheldon Spent $1900 for Treatment Without Benefit. Finally Made Well by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"At intervals I suffered with headaches, nervousness, flashes of heat, and I suffered so much I did not know what I was doing at times. I spent $1900 on doctors and not one did me any good. One day a lady called at my house and said she had suffered the same ailments, and Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound made her well, so I took it and now I am just as well as ever I was. I cannot understand why women don't see how much pain and suffering they would escape by taking your medicine. I cannot praise it enough for it saved my life and kept me from the Insane Hospital."—Mrs. E. SHELDON, 5657 S. Halsted, St., Englewood, Ill.

Physicians undoubtedly did their best, battled with this case steadily and could do no more, but often the most scientific treatment is surpassed by the medicinal properties of the good old-fashioned roots and herbs contained in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

If any complication exists it pays to write the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass., for special free advice.

The Biggest County

IN San Bernardino County, said to be the largest in the world, are the San Bernardino Valley, only 20 by 40 miles in extent, and known to those out on the desert as "the inside," and the outlying desert land which surrounds it.

The valley, rich and populous, has groves of lemon and orange; alfalfa; six cities and a dozen towns. Much of this land is cactus covered sand hills, but the water of several rivers and irrigation ditches is reclaiming a vast area.

Most of the people are real homesteaders, living in small houses and sometimes cabins of shale or huts of adobe, sometimes many miles apart. They are hard working and eager tollers, these American settlers.

Dog Legislation.

THE Virginia Legislature has had some warm debates over a bill requiring all dogs more than six months old to be shut up at night, but nothing seems to have been said about making a dog shut up after one has got him shut up, a matter which is sometimes on bright moonlight nights, for instance, quite outside the range of human legislation.

Recipes Worth Trying

Pork Loaf: Four pounds of fresh shoulder, 1 package of gelatine (no flavor), 1 onion, butter about the size of an egg. Take skin off shoulder; cut shoulder into pieces; fry in butter until brown on both sides, put into a saucepan; put in onion, salt and pepper; put the skin and bones in to give flavor. Cook until tender, then drain. Dissolve 1 envelope of gelatine into ½ cup cold water. Put in gelatine dissolved into gravy; put meat in bread pan (leave out skin and bones), then pour mixed liquid (gelatine and gravy) on meat. Allow to stand until loaf is hard enough to be cut into slices. This is very delicious for sandwiches.

Fried Chicken: Cut chicken in pieces for serving, dip in milk, sprinkle with salt and pepper, dip in flour or in crumbs, egg and crubs, and fry in deep fat. Drain on brown paper; serve on slices of buttered toast with mushroom sauce.

Carrot Pie—Scrape and boil in slightly salted water 3 or 4 large carrots till soft; then mash. Add to this 1½ cupfuls of brown sugar, ½ cup of molasses, yolks and whites of 3 eggs, beaten separately, a saltspoonful of salt, 1 level teaspoonful of ginger and cinnamon and 1 of lemon flavoring. Beat all together well and bake in an under crust. This is better than pumpkin or squash pie.

Filled Cookies—One cup sugar, ½ cup shortening, creamed together; then add 1 beaten egg, ½ cup milk and 2 teaspoons baking powder sifted with 1 cup flour; then add gradually 2 cups more of flour.

Filling—One cup chopped raisins, ½ cup sugar, grated rind of 1 lemon, 3 teaspoons flour and ½ cup of lemon juice and water. Cook slightly until a paste is formed. Roll the cookies thin. Put in pan and put a teaspoon of filling on each, then put another cookie on top of each and press edges together.

Pot Roast: Season a solid piece of beef, either the round or vein, with salt and pepper. Dredge with flour. Brown in a frying pan with a small amount of fat. Place in kettle, and 1 cup of boiling water, cover closely and cook in slow oven until meat is tender. If the water cooks away, add just enough to keep the meat from burning. Serve with brown gravy made with water in the pan.

Jelly Roll—Beat 3 eggs and add 1½ cups of sugar, 2 even cups of flour, ½ teaspoon of soda, 1 teaspoon of cream of tartar; add to egg mixtures alternately with ½ cup of cold water; flavor with lemon. Bake 20 to 35 minutes. When cool, split and fill with jelly or jam.

PREACHES FROM THE BAPTISTRY

Texas Pastor Stands in Pool During Sermon on Baptism.

DALLAS, Tex., May 29.—The better to emphasize "The Significance of Baptism," which was the subject of his discourse, the Rev. John H. Moore, pastor of the McKinney Avenue Baptist Church, preached the sermon when standing in the baptistry of that church. He had long been planning the novel service. There was a large congregation.

Every light in the church except that illuminating the baptistry was extinguished, and the pastor's head, arms and shoulders were outlined sharply against the white enamel background of the baptismal pool.

Metal Splinter in Soldiers' Heart.

BROMLEY, England, May 29.—A Canadian soldier in a hospital near here has a thin metal splinter from an explosive bullet lodged in his heart. He can walk without difficulty but feels the splinter much in the same way that a nail in a boot irritates the foot.

Astonishing Power of Iron to Give Strength to Broken Down Nervous People

Physician Says Ordinary Nuxated Iron Will Increase Strength of Delicate Folk 200 Per Cent, in Two Weeks' Time in Many Instances.

In a recent discourse, Dr. E. Sauer, a well known Specialist, who has studied widely both in this country and Europe, said: "If you were to make an actual blood test on all people who are ill you would probably be greatly astonished at the exceedingly large number who lack iron and who are ill for no other reason than the lack of iron. The moment iron is supplied all their multitude of dangerous symptoms disappear. Without iron the blood at once loses the power to change food into living tissue, and therefore nothing you eat does you any good; you don't get the strength out of it. Your food merely passes through your system like corn through a mill with the rollers so wide apart that the mill can't grind. As a result of this continuous blood and nerve starvation, people become generally weakened, nervous and all run down, and frequently develop all sorts of conditions. One is too thin; another is burdened with unhealthy fat; some are so weak they can hardly walk; some think they have dyspepsia, kidney or liver trouble; some can't sleep at night; others are sleepy and tired all day; some fussy and irritable; some skinny and bloodless, but all lack physical power and endurance. In such cases it is worse than foolishness to take stimulating medicines or narcotic drugs, which only whip up your fagging vital powers for the moment, maybe at the expense of your life later on. No matter what anyone tells you, if you are not strong and well you owe it to yourself to make the following test: See how long you can work or how far you can walk without becoming tired. Next take two five-grain tablets of ordinary nuxated iron three times per day after meals for two weeks. Then test your strength again and see for yourself how much you have gained. I have seen dozens of nervous, run-down people who were ailing all the time double, and even triple their strength and endurance and entirely get rid of their symptoms of dyspepsia, liver and other troubles in from ten to fourteen days' time simply by taking iron in the proper form, and this after they had in some cases been doctoring for months without obtaining any benefit. You can talk as you please about all the wonders wrought by new remedies, but when you come down to hard facts there is nothing like good old iron to put color in your cheeks and good, sound, healthy flesh on your bones. It is also a great nerve and stomach strengthener and the best blood-builder in the world. The only trouble was that the old forms of inorganic iron, like tincture of iron, iron acetate, etc., often ruined people's teeth, upset their stomachs and were not assimilated, and for these reasons they frequently did more harm than good. But with the discovery of the newer forms of organic iron all this has been overcome. Nuxated Iron, for example, is pleasant to take, does not injure the teeth and is almost immediately beneficial.

NOTE—The manufacturers of Nuxated Iron have such unbounded confidence in its potency that they authorize the announcement that they will forfeit $100.00 to any Charitable Institution if they cannot take any man or woman under 60 who lacks iron and increase their strength 200 per cent or over in four weeks' time, provided they have no serious organic trouble. Also they will refund your money in any case in which Nuxated Iron does not at least double your strength in ten days' time. It is dispensed in this city by Judge & Dolph Drug Co., Wolff-Wilson Drug Co., Johnson-Enderis-Pauley Drug Co. and all other druggists.—ADV.

Resinol Soap

Clears bad complexions

Protects delicate skin

Keeps hair healthy

does far more than remove the dirt

Any soap will clean your skin—a bar of laundry soap will do if you do not care what becomes of your complexion. But you know that laundry soap usually contains harsh, drying alkali that would ruin your skin and hair, so you never think of using it for your toilet.

Poorly made toilet soaps contain this same injurious chemical. Resinol Soap has absolutely no free alkali, while to it is added the Resinol medication, which physicians prescribe regularly for skin affections. This gives it soothing, healing properties which improve the complexion, protect tender skins from irritations, and keep the hair rich, lustrous and free from dandruff.

Resinol Soap is sold by all druggists. For a trial size cake, write to Dept. 19-R, Resinol, Baltimore, Md.

VERDUN ANALYZED BY DISTINGUISHED FRENCH GENERAL

Gen. Melleterre Calls It the Bloodiest Battlefield of the Entire War.

Special Correspondence of the Post-Dispatch.

(Copyright, 1916, by Press Pub. Co.)

PARIS, May 13.—On the occasion of the French troops resuming the offensive at Verdun, Gen. Gabriel Mallaterre, one of the most distinguished of French commanders and a military writer of the highest repute who lost his right leg and suffered other grievous wounds at the battle of the Marne, has written, exclusively for the Post-Dispatch the following article on the great struggle still raging on both banks of the Meuse.

By GEN. GABRIEL MALLETERRE.

The battle of Verdun, after more than two months of ceaseless combat, constitutes the gravest check suffered by the Germans since the battles of the Marne and Yser.

Now that the affair has failed the Germans pretend that they wanted above all to prevent preparation for a general allied offensive which they had foreseen as likely to take place in the course of this summer. And they add that in any case it is merely a siege of Verdun which was begun in 1914, and is pursuing its course with ordinary fluctuations. That is a transparently evident deception, and really I think they consider the neutrals too naive if they expect these statements to be believed.

The whole world knows today that the Kaiser and his General Staff wanted a great success—moral as well as military—in order to elevate the spirit of the German people, impress the neutrals and demoralize the allies.

They have failed for a variety of reasons. They have committed a tactical mistake in reckoning too much upon their bombardments and assaults by troops, exalted by the idea that the fall of Verdun would bring an end to the war. Yet a thorough analysis of the Verdun battle shows that the German check has been due to two essential causes—one of a technical, strategic nature; the other of the psychologic or human kind.

By limiting their attack to a restricted sector and accumulating their forces of all kinds for a surprise attack and a violent initial assault—and favored by advantages conferred on the attacking side by the shape of the field of operations—the Germans were bound to succeed quickly at first. But once warned and cognizant of the German aim, the French high command, disposing of reserves, could bring these into play rapidly and save the situation.

"Failed to Reckon With Imponderables."

That is what happened and—no other important attack happening elsewhere—the French reaction concentrated on Verdun. The Germans were deeply mistaken, as usual, when they imagined they could crush French soldiers under a whirlwind of iron and fire. Their shortsighted psychology actually relied upon the immediate effect of their bombardments. Once more they forgot to reckon with "imponderables." The intellectual and moral automatism to which German militarism and feudalism have reduced the German nation and navy has been able to create great collective efforts and extraordinary discipline, which throws their soldiers unconsciously into the death zone, but they are incapable either of understanding or of breaking that individual moral force whereof Frenchmen have given such magnificent proof for 20 months.

Never before have the virtue or energy of a race and nation sprung up from each individual to become conscious and irreducible collectivities as in the stirring weeks of this Verdun battle.

Though great shell—.210, .305, .420—have left no inch of ground unhit, have searched the deepest trenches, crushed the strongest shelters and rendered untenable some lines of defense under their frightful force and their asphyxiating vapors, yet amid the mangled corpses and the hideous spectacles of comrades growing insane in these hellish surroundings, there still remained sufficient firm and obstinate "poilus" to mow down with machine guns and bayonets the howling powerless gangs of our assailants.

"Bloodiest Field of War."

Verdun battlefield is the bloodiest of the whole war. It will remain for generations to come a sacred field where the most inconceivable heroism was displayed. And we Frenchmen have sufficient justice and loyalty to pay our opponents the homage they deserve for their fierce bravery and prolonged persistency.

However, we need not reproach ourselves for such Satanic devices as liquid frames or asphyxiating gas. We did not need those things in asserting our will to win as well as our tactical superiority.

The last word has not yet been uttered at Verdun. The German check is of far-reaching consequence. It proves the decline of Germany's offensive force. When the allies are ready for their supreme assault Verdun will be a solid platform from which they will dart forth, but in other conditions and in other certainties of winning.

Richard W. Gilder's Widow Dies.

NEW YORK, May 29.—Mrs. Helen de Kay Gilder, widow of Richard Watson Gilder, for many years editor of the Century Magazine, died yesterday at her home here in her seventieth year. Mrs. Gilder was a granddaughter of Joseph Rodman Drake, the American poet, and her father was Commodore de Kay.

PORTO RICO DEMOCRATS TO SEND TWO DELEGATIONS TO ST. LOUIS

Instructed for Wilson, but Are Hopelessly Divided on Local Issues.

SAN JUAN, Porto Rico, May 29.—Porto Rico Democrats are sending two delegations of six members each to the national convention at St. Louis, both of them instructed for Woodrow Wilson for President, but hopelessly divided on local issues.

One faction, headed by former National Committeeman Henry W. Dooley, has indorsed not only the administration of President Wilson, but also the local administration of Gov. Yeager, while the opposing faction has criticised the local administration on the ground of failure to appoint local Democrats to local offices.

Hungarian Gun Works to Expand.

ALONZO G. HEMAN DIES

Alonzo G. Heman, 24 years old, son of August Heman, Mayor of University City, died yesterday of diabetes at his home, 6351 Washington avenue. He was a graduate of Washington University and was secretary and treasurer of the Heman Construction Co. and City Clerk of University City.

Heman's wife obtained a divorce several months ago. She was Miss Gladys Smith, daughter of Charles H. Smith of 4 Vernon place. The marriage followed an elopement to Clayton.

HARD TO GET ENOUGH HORSES TO WORK ROADS IN KANSAS

DELPHOS, Kan., May 29.—The problem of getting enough horses to work the roads in Kansas grows increasingly difficult. The main reason is that farmers object to hitching their horses to the heavy road graders, which require eight horses, all good ones. The work is far more trying than the heaviest of farm work, and it is always when the farmers are busiest, it seems, that the road bosses call on them.

There is an increasing demand for graders of the four-horse type and for lighter road machinery generally.

The Boy Who Knows!

"Now, who's right?"

What lusty, life-loving boy or girl ever grew up who didn't say it hundreds of times? And swell with pride when he or she was in the right.

And what parent ever lived who didn't glory in such youngsters; when they knew they knew?

What a handicap not to give every child—your child—a chance to know!

In after years, what will they say to you, think of you, if you don't?

You may not be able to send them to college; but you can give them the new Encyclopaedia Britannica.

Arthur Brisbane, the highest paid editor in the world, with a salary of $84,000 a year, says:

"It is really a misfortune for a family of children to grow up without the Britannica.

"The reading of every serious book should be done with the Britannica at hand. To develop that habit in children would be of the highest possible value to them."

Griffith Ogden Ellis, editor of The American Boy, writes:

"The Britannica plays a large and active part in our editorial reference library, for every year thousands of our boys ask us for information that the Britannica, if in their homes, would furnish them immediately while their interest is at fever heat—and, of course, more fully than we can give it to them by letter."

Edward Bok, the editor of The Ladies' Home Journal, the most important woman's paper published, writes concerning the "Handy Volume" Issue:

"No one knows until he has possessed a copy of this work how often one refers to it and how large a place it takes in one's reading and reference, and I am delighted to think that this work is now within the reach of thousands of people to whom its possession has up to this time been a dream."

Dr. Charles W. Eliot, president of Harvard University from 1869 to 1909, bought two sets of the new Britannica as soon as it came out. He wrote as follows:

"I bought two copies for the benefit of my two sets of grandchildren. I find the work altogether admirable and my grandchildren, who are at the most inquisitive ages, are of the same opinion."

Dr. S. C. Mitchell, president of the College of Delaware, writes:

"I do not know of a single benefit to a home comparable to this great set of books—a library within itself, compact and utilizable instantly. No gift that a father can confer upon his children can be compared to the value of these books in the home."

Miss Ellen C. Lombard, of the U. S. Bureau of Education, writes as follows:

"I am referring readers constantly to the Britannica in connection with the Reading Courses recently issued by the Bureau. For the home study of children and for general information, it is an encyclopaedia of unquestionable merit. Every home in the United States should be provided with this complete guide."

What Will Be Your Answer When Your Children Ask:

"Why Didn't We Have The Britannica?"

You can't say you didn't know about the most famous book of reference in the world;

a library that the best informed, the most highly educated and the most conspicuously successful people in every line of work use daily; a set of books that no library or university of any consequence would try to do without.

You can't plead ignorance of a book that has been famous for a century and a half, gathering authority and prestige with each of its eleven editions. You can't overlook a book so valuable that many people have echoed the words of Hon. Joseph Choate, "If I could have but one book, it would be the Britannica."

You can't say you can't afford The Encyclopaedia Britannica now that you can buy it for $1.00 down and $3.00 a month for a few months.

Even when it cost three times as much as it does today, it was the best investment any family could make. For the Britannica is not an expense item, but a safe and profitable investment that pays steady dividends in increased power and opportunity.

You can't imagine that your children aren't capable of enjoying the Britannica.

Perhaps you think your children are too young to enjoy the Britannica or that there is nothing in it to amuse and instruct children. The Britannica is exactly the book to interest an active-minded child, for it contains the answers to the innumerable questions that suggest themselves to his sharp eyes and ears. The more questions the child asks the more proof it gives of its intelligence. It is your duty to answer these questions or show your boy where to find the answers. Wouldn't it be a relief to you to be able to put your hand upon the answer to every puzzling question your child propounds?

Wouldn't you be glad to have your children self-reliant and able to hunt up the answers to such questions as

What makes it rain? What is the difference between a mushroom and a toadstool? How fast can a starfish crawl? Where does the dew come from? Where do corals get the material with which they build islands? Was there ever such a thing as a dodo? What is the biggest animal that ever lived on the earth? How deep can a diver work? How are lighthouses built? What is the advantage of automatic pistols over revolvers? What caused the Sahara Desert? Where did the hills come from?

(You will find answers to these questions in the book we send free of charge. See coupon.)

A Wonderful Bargain—Soon Closed.

So long as the new Eleventh Edition of the Encyclopaedia Britannica was to be had only in the expensive Cambridge University issue there was ample excuse why many homes should go without it. Now there is none.

We offer the new "Handy Volume" Issue now at one-third the price charged for the Cambridge University issue and we send you the complete work, the entire 29 volumes, upon the receipt of a single dollar—the balance in small monthly payments. But this is not all. We knew there would be a great number of people who could not believe that we could offer the complete new Eleventh Edition at such a price and on such terms. There was only one way really to convince them. That was for them to see the books. Therefore we make this offer:

We send you the books when you have paid a single dollar and you may then keep them three weeks, use them freely, examine them and find out their worth to you. Then if, for any reason whatsoever, you do not wish to keep them, you may send them back, and without any questions we will refund the dollar you have paid and shipping charges both ways as well.

But you must take advantage of this offer now if you wish to obtain this new "Handy Volume" Issue on these prices and terms.

The war has brought a great scarcity into many lines of trade and forced prices to prohibitive figures.

The publishers now notify us that they cannot supply us with any more sets at these prices after those which we have contracted for are delivered. There is just time to send for our handsomely illustrated books about the new Britannica and our new issue. We advise you to send your name without fail today.

In order to give a clear idea of what there is to interest bright boys and girls in the Encyclopaedia Britannica the publishers have prepared a really beautiful book of 72 pages, as big as a magazine. It contains over 100 half-tone illustrations.

It shows how the Britannica makes school work easier and more profitable; how to make children use their eyes and ears and eager minds to good purpose, and how to find out for what kind of work a child should be trained.

There is a series of stories about some real boys and girls—true stories—and some of the interesting things they discover for themselves.

The book might almost be called a miniature encyclopaedia, it is so packed with information. Do not fail to send for it. It is a complete and unfailing test of their capacity to enjoy the Encyclopaedia Britannica.

Only a limited number printed.

THE POST-DISPATCH DAILY RECORD OF MARKETS AND FINANCE

COLLEGE PUTS IN BIG GARDEN UNDER SELF-HELP DEPARTMENT

HIGHLAND, Kan., May 29.—In line with its policy of maintaining a self-help department for the benefit of students who are compelled to work most of their way through college, the management of Highlands College has planted three acres of potatoes, half an acre of onions, one-fourth of an acre of navy and lima beans, one-half acre of sweet corn, 5000 cabbage plants, 300 tomato plants, 900 strawberry, 200 raspberry and 100 blackberry plants, 100 asparagus, 24 rhubarb and 24 grapevines. Vegetables for fall and winter use will be planted later. Women of Highland, including the Y. W. C. A., and various Sunday school classes will furnish vacant dormitory rooms, and gifts along other lines, all designed to further the cause stated, are being received.

Many inquiries are arriving from young men and women who desire to work for their education. There is said to be room for about 20 more than are now enrolled.

HILL STOCKS ARE STEADY ON NEW YORK EXCHANGE

NEW YORK, May 29.—The Evening Post, in its copyrighted financial review today, says:

"With many members of the Stock Exchange away for a holiday, and with only a small amount of financial news to influence prices, the stock market during most of the day was quiet and fluctuations unimportant. Here and there there were spasmodic bursts of activity, not long sustained, as in several of the automobile stocks and in one or two of the railroad shares. The railway shares, on the whole, were firm, with rather substantial gains occurring in one or two of the stocks. Fractional advances also marked the dealings in various industrial issues.

"Another shipment of $2,000,000 gold from Canada brought the total on this movement up to nearly $21,000,000. The foreign exchanges were little altered, though marks and francs showed some improvement.

Hill Stocks Are Firm.

"A decade ago, the death of a man who had bulked as large as James J. Hill has done in financial history, must have been the occasion for a severe break in the stocks with which he was identified, with sympathetic weakness in other issues. Today, the announcement of his death, though bringing with it regret at the passing of a picturesque and powerful figure, caused no apprehension as to the stability of security values. This fact itself was a testimony, not only, perhaps, to the changed order of things in the financial world, but to the care and foresight which responsible leaders are attempting to apply to railroad affairs.

"In 1912, when he relinquished the chairmanship of the Great Northern Railroad, Mr. Hill made the statement that the future of the property was bound up, not with the efforts and actions of individuals, but with the basic development of the country. Whether there shall be in the future a repetition of the great financial contests of the past, is a question for students of the trend of the times to determine. At the present moment, with business and finance controlled by world-wide forces, financial markets are peculiarly independent, in the broadest sense, of the work and struggles of individuals or groups of individuals.

"Probably because there has been a gradual revision of views as to the purposes and internal conditions of the Teutonic empires, the sustained attacks on the French lines at Verdun, the pushing of the Austrian offensive into Italy, and the renewed outburst in the Balkans exercised a mimimum on the stock market.

The Tal kof Peace.

"The continued talk of peace in Germany, and the measures which that country has taken to regulate its food supply, have given rise to the opinion that such operations are being pushed, not with the expectation that they will lead to far-reaching military successes, but with hope of making further alterations in the may on which, according to the Imperial Chancellor's recent statement, peact negotiations must be based. The very desperation of these attacks, therefore, has come to be regarded somewhat curiously, as having a more or less direct bearing on the prospects of peace.

"The discussion of peace possibilities ,as reflected in a market such as that of today, has hifted somewhat from immediate to more distant prospects. Peace is no longer looked for overnight, but it is realized that it depends not only on the wish of one party, but of both parties to the struggle.

"Should the entente allies grow less anxious for the immediate ending of the conflict, in proportion as the desire for peace increases among their opponents, the war may enter a new phase and the end be delayed beyond the expectation or fears of the financial community, when peace began to be actively understood as a possibility.

Those who looked for some hint, from the President's address on Saturday evening, that he believed the time ripe for offering mediation to end the conflict, found little to confirm that expectation in the published text of the speech.

Sugar Market.

NEW YORK, May 29.—A holiday spirit prevailed in the market for sugar futures today, owing to the fact that the street raw and refined markets were closed. Prices were steady, however, but active months were unchanged to 2 points above Saturday's closing.

St. Louis Lead Market.

Lead was dull and weak at $7.10@7.20 in St. Louis market today. Spelter, dull and weak at $13@14.

DECORATION DAY EXPECTED TO BRING OAKLAND TERRACE RUSH

The Hemmelmann-Spackler Real Estate Co. is preparing for a rush of buyers at Oakland Terrace, Decoration day, when the big special sale of lots will be resumed and continued until the addition is closed out.

Seven lots in this tract were sold yesterday, making a total of 22 disposed of since May 21, when the sale was first begun. As a site for 10 bungalows, Richard Weisenborn and O. Kobatsky have purchased the entire block on the east side of Fairmount avenue between Oakland and Berthold avenues. Practically all the purchasers have building plans. The tract, which lies on the south side of Forest Park, is fully improved and has the advantage of the Market car line.

Show Planned at Brighton.

The Civic League of Brighton will hold an old time show in the Brighton schoolhouse June 9, for the purpose of raising funds to buy books for the school library. Following the show there will be a supper and dancing on the village square.

PRICE CHANGES ARE SMALL ON LOCAL MARKET

United Railways 4s Sell at 60⅛; Bank List Is Quiet and Steady.

ST. LOUIS CLEARING HOUSE STATEMENT.

	Clearings.	Balances.
Today	$18,648,068	$2,434,538
Last week	18,370,199	2,863,643
Same day last month	18,635,447	2,539,734

Trading showed some improvement on the local Stock Exchange today, but the range of prices on the issues quoted and sold was irregular. The bond list reflected a better investment demand than in several days.

Wagner Electric stock was firm on a trade at $241.50 and International Shoe common and preferred stocks showed a good tone. Ely-Walker second preferred stock was taken at $88.50, and Chicago Railways Equipment brought $98. Granite Bimetallic Mining was easy on trades at 75c.

United Railways 4s were barely steady on transfers at $60.12½, and were offered at that price, with $60 bid. United Railways common was unchanged on a trade at $5, and the preferred was wanted at $15.12½ without offers. The bank and trust list of stocks was steady on the issues mentioned.

DETAILED REPORT OF DAY'S TRADING IN WALL STREET

NEW YORK, May 29.—Aside from such specialties as the automobile group, in which gains of 2 to 5 points were recorded, no striking change from last week's final quotations were noted on the resumption of trading today. War shares such as Crucible Steel, Mexican Petroleum and some of the metals were lower by a point. There were fairly large initial offerings of United States Steel, Reading and Kennecott Copper at minor changes, but otherwise dealings were light and narrow.

Prices hardened towards noon, the strength of Reading and Lehigh Valley forming the basis of general improvement. Motors continue to dominate the special list, although the movement in that group was most conflicting. Willys-Overland gained 6 points, with almost 5 for Chandler Motors to the new record of 106¼ on its increased dividend, while General Motors slumped 57 points to 462. Among inactive issues, Loose-Wiles first preferred was prominent for its rise of 7 points. Business fell away noticeably on the better tendency and at midday the market was almost motionless. Bonds were firm.

With dealings aggregating less than 20,000 shares, a midsession became absolutely featureless. There were further moderate advances in war shares and equipments, but the movement was without significance.

COTTON OPENS LOWER, THEN RALLIES SHARPLY

NEW YORK, May 29.—The cotton market opened at a decline of 5 to 8 points today, under scattering liquidation and local selling, the continued good weather and the favorable character of private crop reports. Liverpool was barely up to expectations, but the spot business there was heavier and the market steady right after the call on English buying of October and January, while there was also some fresh buying for long account. July rallied from 12.71c to 12.78c, October from 12.83c to 12.91c, and December from 13c to 13.08c before the end of the first hour, with active months net unchanged to 2 points higher.

A private report made the condition 77.4 and the increase in acreage 9.3 per cent, while another made the condition 80 and the increase 9.8, and a third placed the condition at 79 and the increase in acreage at 10.5 per cent.

Still another private crop report published early in the afternoon made the condition 82.1 and indicated an increase of 7.9 per cent in acreage, but one of the figures issued on crop prospects seemed to affect the market. The closing was irregular.

Money Market Improves.

Without any new feature of moment, the St. Louis money market nevertheless shows a slight improvement. There has been a fractional betterment in quotations during the past month and this betokens broadening business. Many of the banks claim to perceive signs of a more profitable inquiry during the ensuing quarter. Deposits are not as high with the downtown institutions as was the case two months ago. Nevertheless there still is a surplus of lendable funds.

Liverpool cables 1d to 2d lower on spot wheat; liberal receipts and general rains over the winter wheat belt sent futures down over 1c in the early trading on the Merchants' Exchange today. Corn was steady to a fraction lower, largely in sympathy with wheat. Oats were quiet. Wheat closed irregular, but slightly above the low point of the day. Corn finished firm on reports of replanting of the new crop. Oats were quiet and steady.

The Liverpool cable said: "The wheat market was weak, with free arrivals and prospects of large arrivals with stocks increasing. Native offers large, 1 shilling lower; spot 1d to 2d lower; demand quiet. Cargo market weak; winters 1 shilling lower; Manitobas 1 shilling 6d lower; Plates and Australians steady. Heavy American shipments to United Kingdom and pressure of American and Canadian offers with large stocks caused weakness. The corn market was easy in sympathy with wheat and lower Plate offers. Spots were ½d lower and the parcel market 3d lower."

Broomhall cabled: "United Kingdom weather is fine; planting finished. Receipts are increasing sharply and offered in buyers' favor. Market was 1 shilling lower."

July wheat opened 1c to 1⅜c lower at $1.05@1.04⅝, sold down to $1.04⅝@1.04½ asked, then gained to $1.05⅛. Sept. started 1⅜c lower at $1.06⅛, sold up to $1.07, then lost to $1.06⅜.

July corn opened ¾c lower at 67⅝c, lost to 67⅜@67½c, then rallied to 67⅞c bid.

WHEAT BEARS HAVE THE EDGE ON BOARD OF TRADE

CHICAGO, May 29.—Fine rains, both in Oklahoma and Kansas, brought about material declines today in the price of wheat. It was said moisture was plentiful in the drouth-stricken territory that needed it most. Increasing stocks at Liverpool tended also to weaken the market here.

Opening quotations, which ranged from ⅝c to 1⅛c lower, with July at $1.08⅜ to $1.08½, and September at $1.08¼ to $1.09½, were followed by an additional setback and then a moderate rally.

Weather of a kind to favor growth made the oats market easy. Selling was general.

London Market.

LONDON, May 29, 12:00 p. m.—American dollar securities are arriving in increasing quantities at the offices of the committee which is carrying out the plan for mobilization of this property and smaller amounts are being sold through the Stock Exchange in order to escape the additional income tax which will be imposed shortly.

American exchange thus far has not responded materially. The rate this morning was 4.76 7-16. It is expected, however, that the influx of securities will soon have a favorable effect.

Dealers in exchange are of the opinion that the imposition of the tax indicates the authorities are supporting the market and are determined not to allow the rate to fall away materially. It is believed that if necessary more stringent measures will be made to keep up the New York and London rates on a satisfactory level.

The Government will inaugurate on Friday a plan for the issuance of three-year exchequer bonds, which will be easily transferable. These bonds are expected to attract much of the money which is now being paid out for dollar security.

The stock market started the week dull and with a drooping tendency in gilt-edged securities. Peace talk had little effect and consols and the war loan declined a fraction on sales made in order to exchange into the three-year exchequer bonds to be issued next Friday. Shipping, iron and steel shares were firm features, but copper stocks were not affected by the rise of £5 in the metal. American securities are dull and slightly lower, but numerous sales of bonds occurred under the mobilization scheme prior to the imposition of new taxation.

Money was in fair demand and discount rates were dull.

New York Produce.

NEW YORK, May 29.—Butter—Firmer; receipts 6620; creamery extras, 92 score, 30½c; creamery, higher scoring, 30¾@31½c; firsts, 29@30c; seconds, 28@28½c.

The Jarr Family

Written for the Post-Dispatch

By Roy L. McCardell.

Mr. Jarr Is Awakened From a Sweet Dream to Poke Through the Flat for Burglars.

NOW that the evenings are balmy, the Jarr family raise the windows for fresh air effect.

For such a cause and so, in the dead hour of night, about the time of the milkman in the gray of dawn, a high wind, coursing through the Jarr flat, blew down some papers and books from a table near the front window and awoke Mrs. Jarr with a start.

She sat bolt upright in bed and nudged Mr. Jarr in the fifth rib.

Awaking herself, she imagined she had been aroused by Mr. Jarr.

"Did you call?" asked Mrs. Jarr.

"Call, nothing," repeated Mr. Jarr.

"Burglars have broken in!" whispered Mrs. Jarr.

"Any burglar that breaks in this flat only gets into debt!" muttered Mr. Jarr.

But Mrs. Jarr would not be denied. "I won't sleep another wink tonight if you don't get up and see!" she whispered tensely.

Mr. Jarr, dimly realizing that if he allowed himself to waken completely from the sweet languors of sleep he wouldn't close an eye again himself, arose holding on to the fragments of his dream and took a half-somnambulistic promenade around the flat in the dark.

Nothing in the front room, nothing in the hall, nothing in the children's room, nothing in kitchen or dining room that Mr. Jarr could note in the darkness. That is, nothing save the familiar household objects, for which the rule was a place for everything and nothing in its right place.

Mr. Jarr did not step on a tack, bump into a bureau or encounter the blade edge of a chair rocker. He returned to his couch unscathed and still half asleep, holding on to the evasive and slowly dissipating tag end of the sweetest dream he had known for years.

"Couldn't find any burglar," he muttered, drowsily. But Mrs. Jarr was fast asleep.

Mr. Jarr was now dimly conscious of the fact that his burglar hunting expedition would have been extremely futile, if not embarrassing, had he encountered a burly housebreaker. He should have got his pistol first. But where was his pistol? Yes, now he remembered. Mrs. Jarr had made him lock it up securely at the top of the closet in the dining room "to keep it from the children." Willie Jarr, in particular, having boyish aspirations in the direction of commandeering said firearm at first opportunity.

Mr. Jarr was sinking to sleep again when the breeze of false dawn once more arose and shook the window-shade violently. Mr. Jarr got up and closed down the window.

He got to sleep again shortly before it was time to arise for the labors of the day, and again he dreamed. He dreamed this time he had lost his job and a particularly ruffianly Constable was putting his family and furniture out upon the sidewalk in a chill and pouring rain.

Furthermore, every acquaintance of the Jarr family was passing by and pitying the poor people, but not stretching their sympathy to the point of financial aid.

Mrs. Jarr brought the burglar scare matter up at breakfast.

"Oh, leave me alone with that!" growled Mr. Jarr. "You made me lose a pot of money!" But he would not tell her how.

How Rumors Begin.

WHAT caused the terrific slump in X. Y. Z. Consolidated this afternoon?"

"The president of the company absent-mindedly walked into a pawnshop this morning, thinking it was the entrance to the cafe next door. Somebody saw him, and the report got around that he was in financial difficulties."

Betwixt and Between.

THE hesitating, Hamlet type of man had best keep out of finance," said Mr. Lawson at a recent dinner, according to Everybody's Magazine. "I had a boyhood friend of the type I mean—a fellow named Grimes. He was a falterer, a doubter of the most exaggerated sort.

"One evening I stopped to call on him and found him in a deep study, bent over a white waistcoat lying on a table.

"'Hello, Grimes,' I said. 'What's the trouble?'

"'This waistcoat,' he replied, holding up the garment to view. 'It's too dirty to wear and not dirty enough to send to the laundry. I don't know what to do about it!'"

How He Was Impressed.

WAS the sermon today to your liking, John?" inquired the pastor. "Indeed, sir, it was a grand sermon," said John with genuine admiration "What part seemed to take hold of you?" "Well, now, since you ask me, I'll tell you. What took hold of me most was your perseverance—the way you went over the same thing again and again and again."—The Christian Herald.

Wasn't Running.

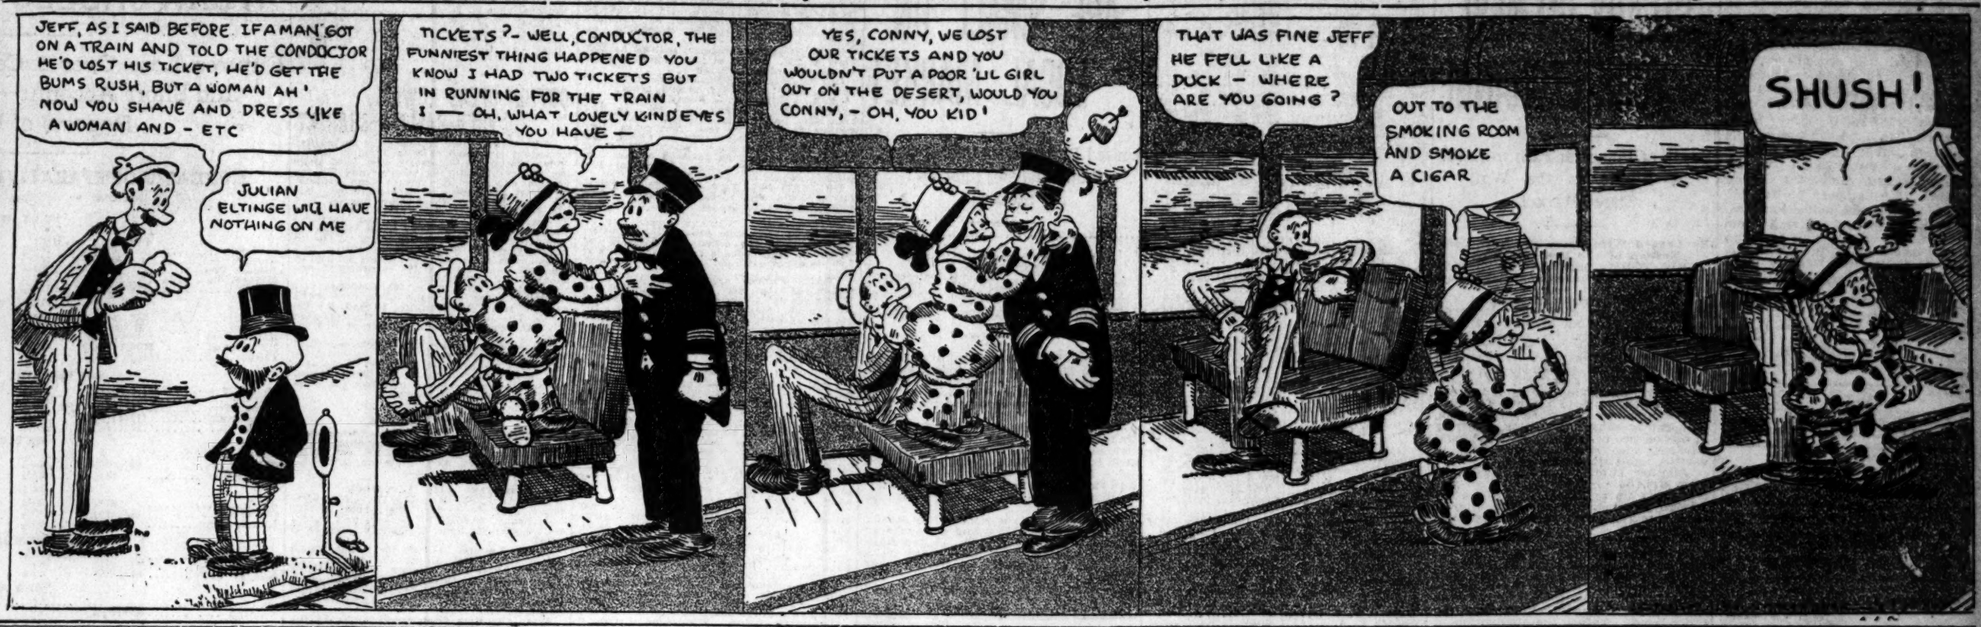

MRS. WENTON had been busy sewing and had not noticed the clock striking all the forenoon, and thinking perhaps it had stopped, she asked little Doris to go out into the hall and see if it was running. After a hasty scrutiny of the long pendulum swinging back and forth, Doris ran back and announced:

"Why, no, mother, it isn't running. It's standing still and wagging its tail."

No Great Loss.

"Did you know there is a scarcity of dyes in this country?"

"That's tough. What are we going to do without double-dyed villians and dyed-in-the-wool partisians?"

He Saved the Day.

AN old farmer visited his daughter, who had tidies on the backs of her chairs. As he was sitting by the window he spied the minister coming to visit Jean, as she was called. As she went to the door her father, not being accustomed to such finery, snatched all the tidies off the chairs and threw them under the table. After the minister had gone away John says to Jean:

"Aye, Jean, lass; glad I was to get yer washin' oot o' the way before the minister cam' in."

Uneven Division.

THE childless parson sought to cheer the parent of an overflowing household.

"My man, you must learn to be contented," he said. "Mouths are never sent without bread to fill them."

"Maybe you are right," said the parishioner, "but the mouths are all sent to our house and the bread to yours."

He Remembers.

I WONDER if Jimson has forgotten about that five-spot I loaned him two months ago."

"Has he tried to touch you again?"

"No, he hasn't."

"Then he hasn't forgotten it."

A Good Chance.

PEOPLE do seem to have lost their sense for good and all," said a farmer, "to go traipsin' over a field hour after hour knockin' little golf balls over hillocks and into holes."

Not a bit of it," said his more sophisticated neighbor. "That there game ain't so silly as it looks. There's chance for a rare bit of cheatin' in it, I'm told!"

The Difference.

THE rain falls alike on the just and the unjust."

"Not exactly alike. The unjust man doesn't care whose umbrella he uses, and the consequence is he is very seldom caught without one."

Fine Scorn.

LADY," said Plodding Pete, "could you spare a hungry man a meal o' victuals?"

"You go away from here or I'll call my husband."

"Is that there stoop-shouldered man plowin' corn in the next field your husband?"

"Yes, it is!"

"I take back what I said. I've got a heart in me, I have. If you've got a meal o' victuals for a poor starvin' man, give it to your husband."—Washington Star.

Memory.

LORD ROSEBERRY is noted for his smart repartee. Some time ago he was talking to a friend on the subject of memory.

"What is memory?" asked his friend.

"Memory," answered his lordship, thoughtfully, "is the feeling that steals over us when we listen to our friends' original stories."

To the surprise of the assembled family, the child said: "I'm going to be a pweacher."

"That's fine! I am glad to hear you say that," said the minister, taking the boy on his knee.

Encouraged by this friendliness, the boy continued: "Yeth, thir, I'm going to be a pweacher. I would rather be a lawyer, but I haven't got sense enough, and I'll have to be a pweacher."—Youth's Companion.

I WAS surprised to hear that you were Newcome's guest at his week-end party. How can you associate with such a vulgar upstart?"

"I didn't. There were so many nice people among the guests that we didn't have to associate with the host at all."

Very Strange.

IT'S funny how a man whose health is so poor that his wife has to carry the baby when they go out anywhere can walk 15 miles around a lodgeroom with 60 pounds of robes and knick-knacks on him.—Puck.

St. Louis Dairy Co's Guaranteed Ice Cream

The State Government says ice cream must be rich in butterfat—the Federal Gov't says so, too.

You will agree that they are both right when you get a taste of St. Louis Dairy Company's Ice Cream. It is made strictly according to the high butterfat standard set by law.

St. Louis Dairy Company's Ice Cream owes its delicious taste and rich smoothness to the fact that it contains so much more butterfat than ordinary ice creams.

Every gallon of cream that goes into its making is thoroughly tested by expert analysts to make certain that the finished ice cream will contain the full legal percentage of butterfat. It is extra rich, extra delicious, extra nourishing.

Whenever you see the slogan, "St. Louis Dairy Company's GUARANTEED Ice Cream," you can be sure that extra good ice cream is sold there.

Serve ice cream at mealtime as a food—nothing is more nourishing. It is the finest of all foods for children.
